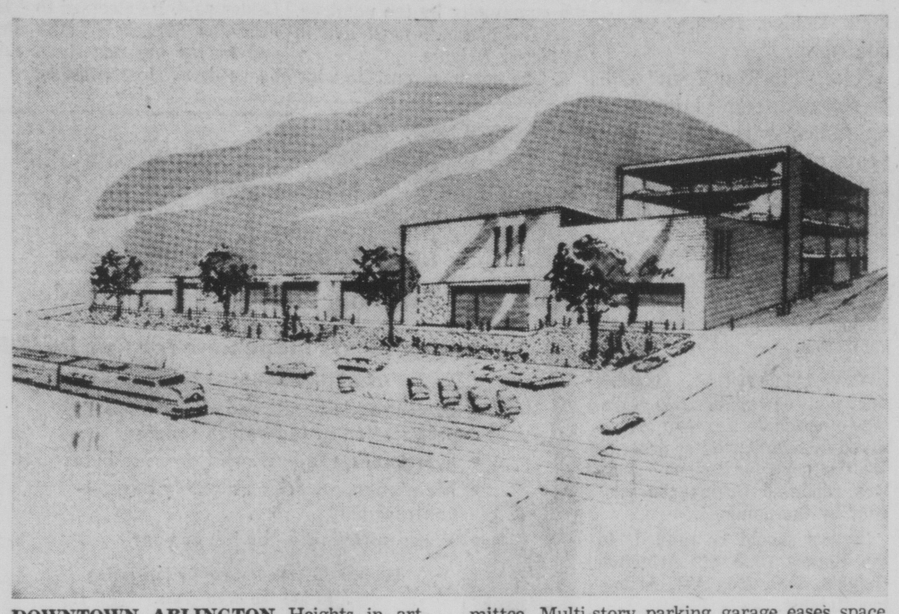
ACTION's Downtown Vision



DOWNTOWN ARLINGTON Heights in artist's conception incorporates several of the ideas under consideration by ACTION committee. Multi-story parking garage eases space problem; mall replaces Davis Street; new and remodeled stores dress up frontage.

MOVE TO ABOLISH MANY STOP SIGNS

Ideas Offered for Downtown Renewal

There was no shortage of ideas Saturday as the steering committee of ACTION met to hear initial reports from chairmen of 11 subcommittees tackling the problem of downtown redevelopment.

The tone of most reports was that of "just getting started," but several of the general concepts presented as possible elements of redevelopment had not been incorporated in a previous plan.

And there has been more than one plan for the area, ACTION chairman Jack Walsh explained. Most recent was the Downtown Plaza Plan, presented in October, 1959, and financed by a businessmen's association.

THE FIRST redevlopment proposal was included in the comprehensive village plan presented in April of the same year, and prepared by the same firm that drafted the plaza plan —Evert Kincaid and Associates, Inc.

The present village planner, M. Eugene Baughman, was at that time associated with the Kincaid firm and in charge of both projects.

"We know the over-all picture," Ralph Bruns commented in his report as chairman of the land use and zoning committee. "We have two plans, but they were never brought forth in reality. What we need now is a concrete move."

He said his committee had first to determine which type of downtown the village wanted —small stores and congestion or larger stores with an open appearance.

BRUNS ALSO said his committee intended to determine the block with the fewest property owners on it, get them together, and investigate the possibilities of beginning the redevelopment with a single cooperative effort.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson described the possibility of yet another downtown plan, financed by two thirds federal funds under the Federal Housing Act

Restaurant Liquor Rule Is Dropped

A decrease in the number of liquor license classifications was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights village board, but not a decrease in the total number of licensees in the village.

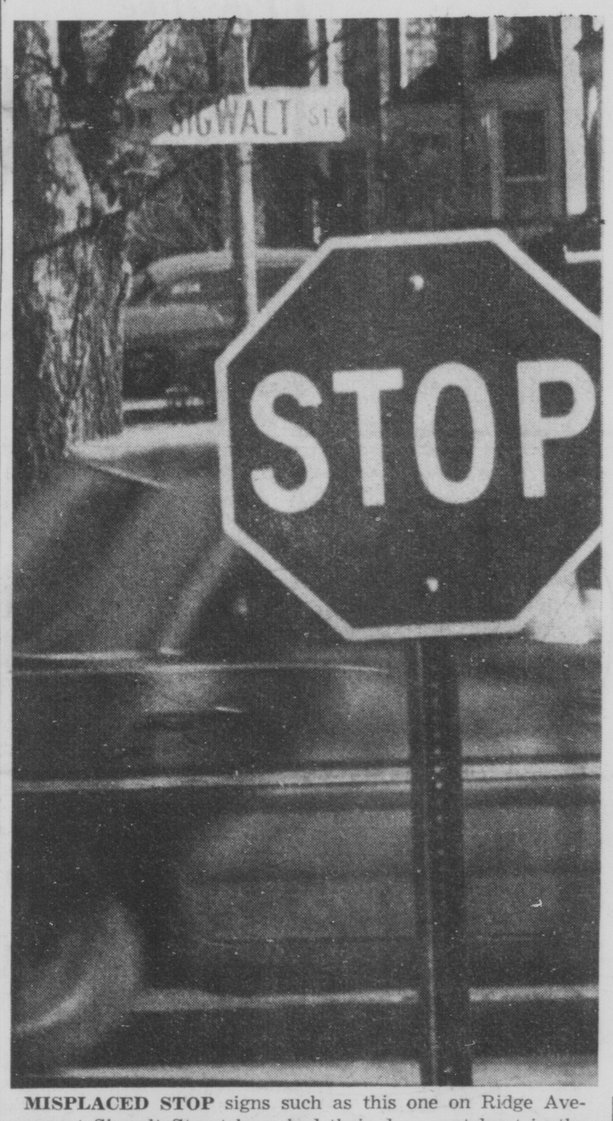
The action followed a report and recommendation by the board's public safety committee that the "D" classification enabling restaurants to serve liquor with meals only be abolished because it is hard to enforce.

Village Atty. Jack Siegel was instructed to draw up the necessary ordinance abolishing the class, effective with the village's standard license renewal date.

Committee chairman Jack Walsh explained that the "D" class was no different from class "A" licenses in either fee or criteria for issuance.

HE ADDED that the recommendation for abolition of the class had come from Police Chief L. W. Calderwood, who said it was almost impossible to determine whether a person was eating or about to eat when he ordered a drink in such an establishment.

Presently the quota for "D" licenses in the village is two, but only one is in use. That licensee would be allowed to switch to a class "A" license, under which liquor may be served with or without food.



MISPLACED STOP signs such as this one on Ridge Avenue at Sigwalt Street have had their day — at least in the southwest quarter of the village. After engineer's stop sign recommendations are implemented, cars on Sigwalt, such as one passing here, will stop for Ridge.

Bulky Report Behind Action

The first step in a nearly 30 per cent reduction in the number of stops Arlington Heights motorists will have to make on residential streets was approved Monday by the village board.

A bulky and comprehensive collection of statistics on every intersection in the southwest quadrant of the village, compiled by Village Engineer Norman Toberman, was the cause.

The report, as requested by the village board more than a year ago, established criteria for placement of stop signs based on traffic count, accident rates and special factors such as schools and parks.

Every intersection in the southwest quadrant, excepting those controlled by the state or county, was tested against the criteria.

THE RESULTS included recommendations of total changes at some intersections — removal of all stop signs now in place, or in a few instances changes of two-way stops from the north-south corners to the east-west corners.

In all, about 20 fewer intersections will sport stop signs in the southwest quadrant, Toberman indicated.

Chairman Jack Walsh of the board's public safety committee, which reviewed Toberman's findings and presented them to the board, complimented Toberman and the engineering staff for their "professional manner" in preparing the report.

Village Atty. Jack Siegel was given the job of translating all of the sign change recommendations into ordinance form for adoption by the board at the next regular meeting.

TOBERMAN said it would probably be about 30 days after the passage before all the changes were implemented.

Walsh said he had received assurance from the engineering department that studies in the remaining three quadrants of the village would be completed by the end of 1964.

He said resumption of the stop sign work would be slightly delayed in the early spring because of the heavy work load on the engineering department in preparation for the heavy building season.

Walsh added, though, that much of the work of the first report in establishing criteria would apply for the other three quadrants of the village.

NEXT IN line for consideration is the northwest section, then the northeast, and finally the southeast. The engineering recommendations will be presented for adoption by quadrant, Walsh said, to spread out the installation and removal load for the public works department.

Toberman said under the new stop sign plan motorists would not be able to drive more than a half-mile on residential streets without stopping at a stop sign, and not more than a mile on a collector street.

He added that minimum state standards had been modified a bit in terms of traffic count so that the vilage would keep more stop signs in place than would be allowed on state roads. "But driving conditions are different on village streets," he emphasized.

A BREAKDOWN of approved changes in the southwest quadrant includes reduction in the number of four-way stop intersections by 12; reduction in the number of three-way stops by eight, and addition of one to the total of two-way stops.

In addition, some "yield right-of-way" signs have been removed and replaced by stop signs, Toberman said.

Builder Suggests Switching Schools

The possibility of transferring nearly 400 acres of industrially zoned property from the Wheeling elementary school district to Arlington Heights District 25 came up again last Thursday at a meeting of the Arlington school board.

Attached would be a rider of about 400 single-family homes, most of which are still in the planning stages. Some of these homes to be developed would presumably be cut in two by present district boundaries.

The informal proposal was made by Howard Borde, attorney for Kenroy Realty Co., developers of a proposed research and development park north of the village limits between Arlington Heights Road and Wilke Road.

Zoning and M-1A annexation of the property by the village has been virtually assured in past discussions, and is now in the stage of proposed pre-annexation agreement on certain land use and subdivision control provisions.

CHARLES O. Bennett, a member of the board of education and also of the village Plan Commission, commented Thursday that "We're horsetrading a kid and a half from each of these homes in return for what we can get from broadening our tax base."

He referred to the possibility that proposed industrial development would bring in millions of dollars in assessed valuation without adding a single child to the district.

Before the area could be transferred from one district to another, the change would have to be approved by the Cook County Board of School Trustees.

The matter may be brought before the group either by petition of both school district boards, or by petition of a majority of voters in the area to be transferred, Borde pointed out.

THE KENROY attorney said he was appearing only to get a possible reaction from the board on the proposal. He said he had not talked to officials of the Wheeling district at all.

"If I know District 25 is against me, I'm not even going to bother filing a petition," Borde told the Board.

Bennett noted that north and south of the village are the only possible large industrial areas for development, and that the south was "cut off" the last time the school board declined to initiate action to absorb a school district—old District 56, which was merged with the Elk Grove district.

Borde warned the board that, while the Wheeling district may be willing to part with the acreage now because it is difficult to service, that district would not be anxious to part with acreage which had already begun to develop industrially.

HE STRESSED that the only possible time for action would be before development began, but added that the county school trustees would not be able to hear the matter until late summer, so there was no great rush.

"This board has to look beyond the next week or two years from now," Bennett said. "Whatever we do it is going to be a gamble on the future—either horribly right or horribly wrong."

Borde agreed to contact the Wheeling district on possible disannexation of the area, and District 25 board president Joseph Faner said he would then talk to the Wheeling district president and report their action back to the board.

No commitment was made at Thursday's meeting either in favor of or against the proposed boundary change.

Merchants Reveal Credit Card Plan

A plan for an Arlington Heights credit card, to be honored at about 30 commercial establishments in and near the village, has been revealed by the Arlington Heights Credit Bureau.

Such a proposal has been described as the step necessary to put independent stores such as those in the downtown area on an equal footing with those in area shopping centers.

The first credit cards should be distributed in April to those who have established credit with any participating merchants, according to George Graham of the Credit Bureau.

The cards would be similar to those for service stations or department stores, but with a list on the back naming all merchants participating in the program.

THERE ARE FEW charge plate plans now in operation in the village, Graham said, because of the high unit cost for small operations.

But he added the combination of a number of merchants in all fields would bring down the cost to participating businesses. The service would be free to customers.

Business membership in the card plan has not been set, Graham said, but he added the bureau has a long list of those interested.

BILLING WOULD be separate at first, from each participating store as the system is now planned. The credit buread would act only for credit references, card distribution and collection problems.

Initial card mailing anticipated is 4,000, with additional cards to be distributed through application in participating stores after the program gets under way.

Proposed Township Budgets Slated for Public Hearings

Proposed 1964-65 budgets for Wheeling Township and the Wheeling Township Road District, set for public hearings March 20 and 31 respectively, call for combined expenditures of more than $340,000.

The proposed Wheeling Township budget, including the town fund, general assistance fund and cemetery fund, remains approximately the same in total amount as the last fiscal year's budget—just over $100,000.

But the road and bridge budget, about $46,000 less than last year's budget proposal, still represents an increase of more than $50,000 over the amount actually appropriated.

HIGHWAY Commissioner Oscar Everson's $286,000 budget proposal was turned down last year by the township board of auditors after the required public hearing. It was the first year anybody had the power to pull the commissioner's purse strings.

The budget then reverted to the previous year's appropriation—$189,568.52.

This year the road and bridge budget is subject not only to the approval of the board of auditors, but also to scrutiny and approval at the town meeting scheduled April 7.

PROPOSED expenditures are $240,000, though a cash balance of more than $44,000 remained from last year's smaller appropriation.

This year's tax levy rate for the road and bridge fund, the only tax levied by the township, was 7.8 cents per $100 assessed valuation. Next year's rate, based on the proposed budget and projected total assessed valuation for the township, would be about 9.5 cents per $100.

The general township budget, subject to scrutiny at a public hearing tomorrow, Friday night and approval at the April 7 town meeting, is financed entirely through a 2 per cent portion of all property taxes paid at the Township Hall.

THIS BUDGET as proposed would leave a surplus of about $165,000 from the 2 per cent township collection cut subject to transfer to another taxing body.

Last year the five elementary school districts within the township shared in a $100,000 surplus, divided according to each district's percentage of the total assessed valuation in the township.

Petition has already been filed for consideration at this year's town meeting of a similar transfer, but no amount has been set.

Last year also saw the release of a $90,000 surplus to the school districts which had been held up for passage of enabling legislation after its approval at the 1962 town meeting.

TOWNSHIP Supervisor Albert C. Peters explained that other public bodies might also request a part of the surplus at this year's meeting — possibly even the newly - established Cook County Circuit Court system.

At the end of the 1963-64 fiscal year, Feb. 29, the town fund showed a balance of $74,164.31. Cash balance in the general assistance fund was $31,177.43.

The latter balance, Peters said, means that no transfer from the town fund, into which all 2 pe rcent tax collection receipts flow, will be necessary for operation of the general assistance fund, budgeted at $26,590.

ESTIMATED receipts for the town fund for the 1964-65 period are $168,050. Budgeted expenditures are less than the cash on hand, so the estimated receipts and a bit more would go into surplus.

The only transfer between township funds necessary this year, Peters said, should be about $5,000 for maintenance of the township cemetery and installation of a submersible water pump on the premises.

Greatest reduction in this year's budget over last year's has come in the town officers' expense category, where costs of an aerial survey to find property not on the tax roles was included last year, and in the town hall expense category which included blacktopping of the parking lot and payment on the hall addition last year.

MAJOR INCREASES to cancel the reductions come in the general assistance fund and in a special fund for legal fees to pay costs in a suit now pending against the township.

Public hearings on both the township budget and the road and bridge budget will be at the town hall, 1818 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, at 8 p.m.

The town meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Miner Junior High School, Dryden and Miner, Arlington Heights.

Resolution Sets Vote April 11

A resolution officially setting the annual District 25 school board election for Saturday, April 11, was passed last week by the board.

So far, four candidates have filed for the three board vacancies to be filled by election.

Polls in nine precincts will be open from noon to 7 p.m.

5 Autos Damaged In Crash

Five cars, a tree planter and a building were involved in an accident the morning of March 12 at the intersection of Dunton Avenue and Miner Street in Arlington Heights.

Paul Keulman, 1324 Virginia Dr., Palatine was issued a ticket for failure to yield after a stop after he started east on Miner into the path of a second car driven by George C. Huber of Palatine.

HE TOLD police he lost control of his vehicle after colliding with the southbound car, hit a building on the northeast corner of the intersection, and went on to hit a tree planter and a parked car.

The planter was thrust into another parked car, and the parked car with which Keulman's auto collided was shoved into yet another car driving north on Dundee.

In all, Keuhlman's auto went 123 feet from the first point of impact before coming to a halt, according to the police report.

Schools Calendar Approved

A calendar for the 1964-65 school year was approved last Thursday by the District 25 board of education.

Arlington Heights elementary schools, grades kindergarten through second, will attend 177 days, Sept. 9 through June 11.

Students in grades three through eight will attend 178 days, Sept. 8 through June 11.

THE WORK year for teachers in the district will be 189 days, beginning Sept. 4 and ending June 15.

Supt. Ralph Clabaugh commented that the calendar meets state requirements, but barely. He attributed the short calendar to the late arrival of Labor Day, 1964.

Agree on Bigger Mains for Forrest

The Arlington Heights village board Monday turned down an ordinance providing for special assessment installation of water mains in Forrest Avenue north of Euclid Avenue.

The action was recommended by the village's Board of Local Improvements even though the BOLI was responsible for initiation of the special assessment proposal and its carriage through to the point of an ordinance.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson explained Monday that the BOLI had agreed with his proposal that larger mains be installed in the street to serve in the village's grid supply system to an undeveloped area to the north.

SPECIFICATIONS in the existing special assessment proceeding, for which engineering had already been done, could not have been changed enough to allow for the larger mains without jeopardizing the issue in its court hearing.

Now it is up to the improvements board to again initiate the water main proposal, this time adjusting specifications for the larger mains. Extra cost of the project would then be paid by the village as public benefit.

Residents along Forrest Avenue have objected to any installation of water mains, claiming that present wells are adequate. The area was developed outside village limits and brought in after completion.

THE WHOLE matter of mains will now have to be brought back for another public hearing before the BOLI, and finally back in ordinance form to the village board.

Residents would still have to pay the cost of the minimum mains to serve their area.

Installation of village water in the area has been strongly recommended by Fire Chief Harvey Carothers, who has told both boards that hydrants are not close enough to many houses on the street to serve in case of a fire.

Rotary Seeks 'Tip Top Teen'

Who is the "Tip Top Teen" of Arlington Heights? Competition for the youth service title, sponsored by the Rotary Club of Arlington Heights, begins this week with nominations from any individual or group in the community.

Announcement of the annual contest was made by Dick Leider, Rotary youth chairman.

The "Tip Ton Teen" will be selected from young men or ladies within the teen years of 13 through 19 primarily on the basis of the Rotary motto, "Service above self," Leider said.

The youth chosen for this award will be given an inscribed wall plaque and a $50 U.S. Savings Bond by the service organization.

ANY INDIVIDUAL, institution, club or organization wishing to nominate a boy or girl is asked to submit a letter describing the contributions and services rendered during the past year by the nominee.

Letters should be mailed to the Rotary Club of Arlington Heights, P.O. Box 402, Arlington Heights.

All nominations must be received by April 9, Leider said. A date has not yet been set for announcement of the winner and presentation of the awards.

CRITERIA SET up for the judging are:

1. How the nominee has lived up to the Rotary motto of "Service above self." This is noted the most important.
2. The type and amount of worthwhile service rendered to the community by the nominee.
3. The nominee must live in Arlington Heights.
4. The nominee must be within the teen years of 13 to 19, inclusive.

Judges will not have access to the names of the nominees, and will pass only upon the records submitted for review, Leider said. He stressed that information regarding the teen and his or her activity should be as detailed as possible.

Pay Hike

Okay $2,000 for Village President

Salary of $2,000 per year for the next-term village president of Arlington Heights was approved Monday by the village board, but not without a new wrinkle.

Trustee Carl Mees, who had opposed recently granted salary hikes for trustees from $10 to $15 per meeting, turned Monday to oppose the president's salary on the grounds that it was too low.

He contended the salaries as adjusted for officials serving after the next complete board changeover, 1967, would be far different from the ratio in force before revision.

Board members previously received approximately $240 a year, while Village Pres. John G. Woods received $840.

In 1967, Mees said, trustees could receive a maximum of $780 a year, while the village president would receive $2,000.

IN ORDER for the old ratio to hold true, Mees said, the president's salary should be around $2,700.

Trustee Norval Stephens countered that trustees would actually receive much less than $780 because the board would not meet 52 weeks a year, and members would probably be absent from some scheduled meetings.

"Figuring it on that basis," Stephens said, "the $2,000 figure is not far out of line."

Mees cast the only "no" vote on the salary ordinance. (A

Talk of Referendum for New Library

PRESENT LIBRARY facilities, though in good condition and relatively new, are feeling the pinch of a growing population and ever-increasing catalog of books. Because of the type of construction and size of the lot, Library Board members say an addition would be difficult. A

Expert Survey Nearly Done

The Arlington Heights Memorial Library, built when the village was not half the size it is today, should be much more than twice the size it is now, according to a consultant's survey now being completed.

First sign of what is to come, or is hoped to be coming, is in the village's proposed budget for 1964-65.

The Library Board has submitted in its section of the budget a lump sum — still not fixed — which is to be dedicated to getting a building referendum off the ground.

The library consultant's survey, which was authorized last year and is now in the midst of written reports on architecture, site location and proper size, was an obvious step according to Charles Oestmann, president of the Library Board.

THE PRESENT library building, located at 112 N. Belmont Ave., adjacent to Recreation Park, has been remodeled once to provide space for children's books in the basement, but interior room is now fully utilized.

Enlargement of the present building would be prohibitive in cost because of the type of construction used, Oestmann said.

In a verbal report at a recent village board budget committee meeting, Oestmann said he and other Library Board members were thinking in terms of a new library building on a new site—not of an addition or a branch library.

He said recommendations already in from the library consultant service were for a 46,000 square foot building—far larger in building area than the lot area of the present site.

OESTMANN added, though, that this was simply the ideal, not necessarily what would eventually appear in a referendum. The consultants also recommended a single, central site rather than branches in two or more areas of town.

The Library Board's original budget proposal was a $20,000 sum for feasibility studies and initial steps toward a building referendum which would be necessary for construction of a new library.

Included in the costs would be legal fees, architectural fees and possible options on land.

The first figure presented would have meant approximately a 2.5 cent increase in the library tax rate. But the sum has been pared by apparent surplus in operating funds for this fiscal year and an anticipated surplus for the coming year.

VILLAGE PRES. John G. Woods described larger library facilities as "extremely advisable—even essential for the community interest."

He added that the facility should satisfy the reading desires of the entire community, but could not as a matter of practicality specialize in any field.

Oestmann said one of the first problems in the drive for new facilities would be location of a suitable site, and that the Library Board would have to go to the village's Plan Commission before any decision was made.

He added that the consultants had indicated a preference for location of the building on a major thoroughfare, but that final reports were not yet in for study.

THE VISITING consultant's recommendations, which are in the hands of the Library Board, are also under review by more consultants who will submit a written critique of the first report.

Board member Robert Blackburn commented that the growing pains of the parks, schools and other village services have been taken care of in many instances, "Now let's get into this one."

Pupils to Take Part In Mock Convention

A mock state constitutional convention will be held at Niles East High School on April 10 and 11 with student delegates from 15 suburban high schools participating.

The Niles Township high schools will host the function, which will be the second convention to be held in the North Shore area but the first in which Arlington High and Prospect High schools will participate.

Other participating schools are: Barrington, Deerfield, Evanston, Glenbrook, Highland Park, Lake Forest, Maine East, Maine West, Niles East, Niles West, New Trier, Oak Park, and Waukegan.

THESE TEENAGE statesmen will act as elected delegates of all the Senatorial districts in Illinois, and over 200 students are making their preparations to consider possible revision of the Legislative, Executive, Revenue, County, and Suffrage Articles.

The students are being aided by faculty members who have volunteered their time to help with the extra curricular activity. Sam Leopardo of Arlington High School and Terry Bullock of Prospect High School have indicated about 20 students from each school will attend the convention, and are now studying toward that end.

Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse, Mount Prospect, from the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights, is in charge of registration for delegates, and acting as consultant for both area schools.

THE CONVENTION is sponsored by the Illinois High School Association and the Illinois League of Women Voters. Donn Wright of the Niles East High School faculty is chairman of the Faculty Steering Committee and Mrs. Jerome Lamet is chairman of the League Steering Committee.

The opening session on Friday afternoon will include the official roll call, keynote speaker, and nominations for president. Friday evening, the delegates will hear a prominent speaker, elect a president, and begin committee meetings.

In these committees, the actual rewriting of the Articles will take place. At Saturday's sessions, the committee reports will be heard and debated. The different recommendations will be given and a vote taken to select the best draft for the new articles.

Parliamentary procedure and the rules of the Illinois Senate will govern all meetings. Observers will be welcome to view the educational experience.

THE PURPOSE of holding the convention is to give high school students studying the Illinois Constitution opportunity to experience operation of a convention, participate in a problem solving situation, and further their understanding as future voters.

League officials have indicated the primary objective is an educational experience and that any conclusions reached concerning the constitutional proposals at the convention will be wholly those of the students and will not represent the views of the various school administrations or the League of Women Voters.

Boys Baseball League Sees 1,600 Enrolling This Year

(Another in a series of articles on the aims and activities of member organizations of the Arlington Heights Community Council.)

Imagine storing 100 dozen baseballs in your basement or placing a $2,900 order for bats! These are commonplace situations encountered in the administration of the Arlington Heights Boys Baseball League in which some 1,600 boys are expected to participate during the 1964 season.

Formerly affilliated with Little League, the Arlington Heights Boys Baseball League was formed as an independent unit in order to incorporate teams for boys of all ages under one organization.

Beginning in 1954 with 100 boys playing on four teams, the program expanded with the growth of the village, until last year, 1,456 boys on 86 teams took part in 710 regular games.

FIVE YEARS ago the park district midget football program was incorporated into the baseball league. Last year 350 boys participated in the football program, with 30 men serving as coaches and officials.

Membership in the league is open to all boys age 8 to 16 who are residents of Arlington Heights. There is a nominal registration fee, and a boy registering for his first season must present a birth certificate. Every registered boy is given an opportunity to play ball.

Either the mother or the father of each boy is asked to participate in league activity in some capacity, such as umpire, scorekeeper, typist, or an additional fee is charged. Volunteer help from interested persons outside the membership is also welcomed.

AFTER THE tryouts, which will be held on April 4, 11 and 18 this year, each boy is placed on a team in one of the following leagues:

—Juniors — Age 8 and 9
—Intermediate (Minor league) —Age 10 to 12
American and National (Major leagues) — Age 10 to 12
—Varsity I and II — Age 13 and 14
—Senior — Age 15 and 16.

Between 14 and 21 games are scheduled for each team depending upon the number of teams in the particular league. Each team plays one twilight game and one Saturday game at baseball diamonds located in Arlington Heights parks and at school playgrounds.

The season begins on May 16 for the Juniors, Intermediates and Majors, and on June 6 for the Seniors and Varsity. All games, including the championship games, will be concluded by Aug. 1, weather permitting.

WHEN THE call to "Play ball!" is sounded for the opening game, the time and talents of a great many people will have already been utilized to implement this program.

Heading the administration are: president, John M. Keys, 344 S. Bristol; vice president, Richard K. Stevens, 736 N. Kennicott; secretary, Walter D. Reising, 434 S. Vail; treasurer, Mervin W. Fink, 123 S. Walnut. Mrs. Donald (Doris) Armstrong 709 S. Dunton is president of the Mothers Club which assists with typing, registration and repairing baseball uniforms.

The Boys Baseball League also has an administrator, the only salaried official, Mert Taylor, 439 S. Evergreen, who oversees the countless details of the work 12 months a year.

PANCAKE Day, the annual fund raising event, will be held this year on April 18 at Arlington Heights High School. Proceeds from this affair are used to help defray the cost of uniforms, equipment, insurance and other expenses.

In addition to teaching the boys to pitch and catch and hit a ball, in accordance with its constitution, the league also strives "...to implant in the boys of the community the ideals of good sportsmanship, honesty, loyalty, courage and reverence, so that they may grow to good, clean, healthy men." Scott Backers Open Office, Man Precincts

Wheeling Township's Scott for Governor committees are settled in their new headquarters and have completed manning of all township precincts, it was announced by Charles F. Hood, chairman of the Scott organization.

The Women for Scott Committee put the finishing touches to the Scott headquarters and opened the doors last Monday. Located at 202 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, the headquarters is scheduled to be open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily, including Saturdays.

EVENING HOURS, Monday through Friday, are 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday hours will be 1 to 4:30 p.m., except Easter Sunday.

Following a personal appearance at Goldwater headquarters in Arlington Heights last Sunday afternoon, Scott viewed the Wheeling Township facility. He expressed satisfaction with the location and complimented the women's committee.

Among the decorations are a United States flag that has flown over the nation's Capitol and a certificate, signed by J. George Stewart, architect of the Capitol.

The Scott headquarters' phone is 392-6660, Hood said.

JIM BRAGG, Scott precinct chairman, announced that all 55 precincts of Wheeling Township are now manned by captains.

"We are working independently of all other Republican organizations, he said. "The Republican party of Wheeling Township endorsed another candidate in October, previous to Mr. Scott's decision to run.

"Other Republican leaders, outside the regular precinct captains, were therefor sought, and found, to work just for Scott," he said.

Final details for a Scott Coffee to be held the morning of April 8 will be announced by Pauline Baugous, 444 S. Yale Ave., Arlington Heights. Candidate Scott will appear in person. Those wishing to attend are requested to call CL 3-8027.

"The Test of a Financial Institution Is the Integrity of Its Board of Directors"

"sharp financial planning"

WILLIAM H. SPOMER is manager of the economic analysis and planning department of The Pure Oil Company and is a member of the Financial Executive Institute and the Division of Finance of the American Petroleum Institute. He has lived in Arlington Heights for 23 years.

"Two things have impressed me about this Association. One is the sense of loyalty and dedication I find among officers and staff members. Partly this may be attributable to a sound employee benefit and profit-sharing program; more important, I think, is a rare spirit of friendly teamwork and devotion to a common cause.

"The other thing I find is sharp financial planning, quite developed for an institution of this size. Budgeting is both long- and short-term, and monthly reports, excellently prepared, keep each Board member up to the minute concerning variations and trends."

ACTION Meets To Brainstorm

Title 701, as was the village's original master plan.

Hanson said the planning study would involve about $9,000 as the village share, or a total of $27,000, and would be an extension of the master plan in the specific area of land use and traffic flow downtown.

He noted that the cutoff date for this year's Title 701 programming is June.

SEVERAL thoughts regarding traffic and parking were set forth in Saturday's meeting, including possible removal of parking meters and construction of multi-story parking garages to free more space in the central business district.

Phil Gorman reported that the traffic and parking committee had adopted the view that the greatest obstacle to downtown development was its bisection by the railway and Northwest Highway. He added that the committee chairman is to discuss possible depression of the tracks with Chicago and North Western officials.

Ronald Stahl, chairman of the building and construction standards committee and proponent of the multi-story parking garages, outlined initial steps taken by his group.

THREE subcommittees have been formed to investigate:

1. Non-conforming structures and the possibility of condemnation;
2. Possible rehabilitation of non-conforming structures and those which do not fit the proposed character of the downtown area; and
3. The question of high-rise construction, setbacks, and possible relief of off-street parking requirements.

Stahl said condemnation of property would seem to be "the last resort and least desirable" if cooperation of property owners could be solicited.

Walsh announced that the beautification committee would be forthcoming with a landscape plan for the downtown area, though the committee chairman was not present to elaborate.

THE RESEARCH and public opinion committee chairmen indicated they were "ready to go" in the search for information and ideas from both professional sources and village residents.

Other ideas injected in the reports and discussion included comparisons between alternate suggestions in the 1959 master plan for vehicular access throughout downtown, or a concentration of malls and parkways for pedestrian access.

Discussion also centered on alternate proposals for underpasses for State Road and Foundry Road at the railroad tracks, and for possible relocation of the North Western commuter station.

THE STEERING committee also saw a film strip of redevelopment as it has proceeded in 22 other communities throughout the country, prepared by the National Retail Merchants' Assn.

Tentative plans have been made for a bus trip for ACTION committee members and village officials April 18 to Kalamazoo, Mich., a city which has used a mall plan in downtown redevelopment.

Choir to Sing Brahms 'Requiem'

The public is invited to hear Brahms' choral work, "Ein Deutsches Requiem" (a German Requiem), at the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights, 302 N. Dunton Avenue, at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, March 25.

Guest soloists will be Mrs. Paul J. Roy, soprano, and Lester Wagemaker, baritone.

Mrs. Roy, who was a past winner of the Society of American Musicians contest and the National Federation of Women's Clubs contest, lives in Rolling Meadows and is a member of the St. Raymond's choir. Wagemaker teaches at the American Conservatory in Chicago and resides in Winnetka.

THE REQUIEM, although written 100 years ago, is still regarded as an outstanding masterpiece in choral music. The English version will be sung by the Presbyterian chancel choir of 50 voices, and accompanied by an orchestral group.

The Rev. Isaac Strain, minister of music of The First Presbyterian Church, will direct this work for the second successive year, in observance of the Lenten season.

The musical part of the service will be followed by the Lord's Supper. (A

Suburb Dad Free on Bond After Bank Holdup Attempt

A Hoffman Estates father, Richard A. Moss, 33, of 341 Westview Street, is free on $25,000 bond on an FBI charge of violation of the federal bank robbery statute.

Moss, reportedly debt-ridden, is a $14,000-a-year sales manager for the Sun Oil Co. He stopped at the Prospect Plaza Bank, in the Prospect Plaza Shopping Center, Central and Rand Roads, on his way to work Monday an dfled with $3,649.34 in three metal boxes.

He was captured within seconds of his departure from the bank, when Guard John Behrendt, 70, of 314 N. Glenwood Drive, McHenry, fired two shots over Moss's head.

MOSS DIVED to the ground and rolled over and Behrendt, fearing return fire, fired a third time over Moss's head. Moss said, "Don't shoot, I'll give up."

Moss entered the bank about 8:20 a.m., while Behrendt and Don Prehn, the head cashier, were the only ones in the establishment. Carrying a package, and wearing a tan, police type fur hat with a star pinned to the front, Moss gained entrance to deliver the package.

He was granted entrance by Prehn, who received the package. When he did, Moss drew his 22 caliber, Mexican-made revolver and informed Prehn of his intentions.

BEHRENDT, who had just come into the business some minutes before, began walking toward the two when Moss spotted him.

Prehn, who said the man was wearing a jacket and possibly a uniform, said Behrendt's appearance apparently unnerved Moss and he began yelling at Behrendt, "This is a holdup. Take your gun out and put it on the table. I'm not kidding, this is a holdup."

Behrendt said he told the man "You're kidding." Moss assured the guard he was not kidding. Behrendt said he told Moss, "If I take this gun out I may use it."

MOSS SAID "No you won't."

After Behrendt was disarmed, in the lobby of the bank, Moss herded both men back to the vault and kept Behrendt out while sending Prehn in for the money.

Prehn said "The only money I could get was the tellers' boxes. The cash vault, with a time lock, was not opened yet."

When Prehn brought the money boxes out to Moss, the robber forced Behrendt and Prehn into the vault and began shutting the door.

Prehn said "He (Moss) started shutting the door, and then said "No, I'm not going to lock you in. I don't want you to suffocate. But, don't come out of here for 15 minutes."

Moss then ran from the bank with the cash boxes under his arm, and Behrendt raced from the vault to the chair where he left his gun, picked it up and followed Moss from the building.

BEHRENDT fired twice and Moss dropped. Behrendt said "I fired over his head, but he dropped like he had been hit. Then he turned and I fired again and he gave up."

Behrendt returned Moss to the bank and handcuffed him. He called Mount Prospect Police who took Moss to the police department to await the arrival of the FBI.

Moss had not loaded his gun. Appearing Monday before U.S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley Pike, Moss waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court.

The case will be presented to a federal grand jury possibly this week, according to Federal building officials.

MOSS HAS TOLD FBI agents that he is deeply debt ridden, and hinted that pressure has been placed on him by syndicate thugs.

FBI agents have speculated that Moss's personal debts, amounting to nearly $8,000, are the result of syndicate juice loan operations or gambling debts.

Moss is the father of two children, aged 8 and 11. He has been described as having an excellent reputation in his Hoffman Estates community. His wife is suffering from a heart ailment, according to police.

Moss tol dofficials, "I've never committed a crime before."

Says Courtesy a Post Office 'Must'

The need for courteous treatment of the public by all postal employes was stressed by Ralph W. Nicholson assistant postmaster with the General Bureau of Finance, at a recent training school for Illinois postmasters held at Springfield.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. Virginia Dodge, postmaster for Arlington Heights.

"The total number of complaints received may be small in relation to the total volume of mail handled which has now reached a level of 70 billion pieces a year nationally," Nicholson said, "but it is the policy of the post office to consider even one complaint, no matter how small, as one complaint too many."

NICHOLSON also urged the postmasters to intensify efforts to obtain patron cooperation in use of the ZIP code.

"ZIP code is just a baby, but it already is proving its value," he said.

As an example he cited the one day earlier delivery of Better Homes and Gardens magazine in such cities as Peoria and Springfield as the result of using the ZIP code. (A

A message to men who work in air-conditioned comfort

You can have Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning in the average 6-room home for as little as 50¢ a day. (This includes maintenance as well as operating costs.) When hot, muggy weather makes you almost hate to leave your air-conditioned office for home, think how your wife feels. She's had to put up with this discomfort all day.

Nowadays there's something you can do about it. It's called Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning, and the cost is a lot lower than most people guess.

For instance, to have it installed in the average 6-room home usually costs from about $800 to $900.

Operating costs will vary, but 50¢ a day for operation and maintenance over a period of 120 days is close to the average.

Electric air conditioning is simple, doesn't require water. It adds to the desirability and market value of your home.

You get a lot besides cooling. Air throughout the house is crisp, free of excess humidity. A filter in the system removes dust, and up to 98% of the pollens, from the air.

To find out exactly what Whole-House Electric Air Conditioning would cost in your home, get in touch with the dealer, distributor, or department store nearest you. The contractor you choose will be glad to give you a free estimate and financing is easy to arrange.

Teachers Discuss Education Goals

High School District 214 this week took time off to examine the District's educational philosophy and teaching goals.

Faculty members met Wednesday afternoon at Forest View High School to evaluate the district's current program and comment on a set of objectives which had been developed by a committee of school personnel and interested laymen.

Assistant Supt. E. H. Gilbert points out that educators are concerned with methods by which objectives are established. He insists that teachers, administrators, and laymen can contribute to the establishment of a school district's goals.

SERVING ON the committee which recommended the objectives were Dr. Gilbert; board of education members Eugenia Chapman and Frank Smith; Teacher Parent Council representatives Rev. John Cooperrider, James McKeivey, and Mrs. Wilson LeVan.

Faculty members Rollie Goins, Norbert Siewert, Mrs. Helen Graves, Dick Stanowski, Alex Gabinski and Fred Vaisvil; instructional coordinator Reuben Conrad; Don Thomas, assistant principal at Prospect High School, and Larry Jenness, principal at Forest View.

Teachers at Wednesday afternoon's session were addressed by board president John Haas and then divided into discussion groups.

Robert Haskell, Prospect High School instructor who has been named assistant principal at Forest View for next year, is using the activities of the committee and the formation of the educational goals as a basis for research work at the University of Chicago. (ACM-EG

Candidates Highlight of Young Republican Dance

The Wheeling Township Young Republican Club played host last Saturday night to 200 local Republicans and GOP candidates for state and county offices at the club's third annual spring dance.

Highlights of the evening were the appearance of John H. Bickley of Mount Prospect, candidate for state's attorney of Cook County, and Sherwin Willens of Niles Township, candidate for auditor of public accounts.

Others attending were Thomas J. Houser, Wheeling Township Republican committeeman and campaign manager for Charles H. Percy, and Alexander MacArthur, Palatine Township GOP committeeman and campaign manager for William J. Scott.

WARREN WEGENER, YR ways and means chairman, explained that the dance has become an annual affair and is the club's only social and fund raising event.

"This year the dance provided a chance for Republicans to get together socially and an opportunity to meet and talk with their candidates," Wegener said.

Membership in the YR club is open to all Wheeling Township residents between the ages of 18 and 36. Further information may be obtained by calling CL 9-2041 or 537-5761.

Women Democrats Plan Open House

The Women's Democratic Organization of Wheeling Township will launch the opening of its 1964 program with an open house Tuesday, March 24, 8 p. m. at 111 E. Davis Street, Arlington Heights.

The recently elected board officials met at the home of president, Mrs. Wilburt Thiele, Prospect Heights, to discuss a revision of the organizations by-laws and fund raising events, as well as the proposed open house.

All interested women are invited to attend this "get acquainted" program. Because of the approaching primary election, Edward Smetana, regular organization secretary, is slated to answer questions pertaining to the primary. The operation of a sample voting machine will be demonstrated.

DON DONAHUE will also present a lecture on "Table Setting" and on "Gracious and Casual Living" at the open house. It is felt that this topic will enable women Democrats to entertain their friends and visiting candidates more graciously.

Any new or former members who seek additional information about the March 24 open house, or who might have a transportation problem, may call Mrs. Frank Moskal, CL 3-5882.

Persons interested in helping to conduct a telephone campaign for the April primary election are asked to call Mrs. Richard Kerwin, 537-0203.

Group to Discuss Education Ideas

Ideas from the book "Summerhill" by A. F. Neill are to be discussed at a meeting of interested persons Sunday, March 22, 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. R. L. Falder, 165 W. Wayne, Wheeling.

A tape recording of an interview with the author will be played.

Several persons have indicated an interest in starting a private school in the area copied after the Summerhill school in England, according to Mrs. Falder.

Part of Neill's beliefs, she said, are that adults should not impose on the child, and the child should not impose on adults.

NEILL "MAINTAINS a firm faith in the goodness of the child," Erich Fromm, renowned psychiatrist, writes in the forward of Neill's book.

"He believes that the average child is not born a cripple, a coward, or a soul-less automaton, but has full potentialities to love life and to be interested in life.

"The aim of education in fact, the aim of life, is to work joyfully and to find happiness. Happiness, according to Neill, means being interested in life . . . responding to life not with just one's brain, but with one's whole personality."

Anyone in the northwest suburbs is invited to the meeting.

Schools, Village Would Share Cost

by LEE SECHLER
Staff Writer

A unique plan has been proposed by Bensenville village officials to have a full-time truant-probation-juvenile officer with the village and the two school districts in the area sharing the cost of the officer's salary.

More than a year of study has gone into the matter, said Trustee Mildred Richter.

The plan was presented to the school districts — elementary and high — recently when she and other village officials appeared before the elementary school board.

"Each of the two school districts and the village would contribute $2,000 per year for the officer," said Mrs. Richter. She went on to explain that the high school board was "very much in accord with the idea."

ELEMENTARY Board President Alfred Travers promised a decision on the matter "in a couple of weeks after we have a chance to study it thoroughly from the legal and other angles."

Mrs. Richter, a member of the police committee and chairman of the study group on this particular matter, said her research has involved talking with seven or eight police departments.

Most of them, she explained, have a juvenile officer but he handles these matters in addition to other duties.

Elmhurst, she said, has a full-time juvenile officer, but the community has a police tax to levy the money needed.

Mrs. Richter pointed out that the plan is being proposed not because Bensenville has a great juvenile problem, but merely to prevent a problem from developing.

BENSENVILLE Village President Richard Thomas summed up the board's feelings in the matter by saying:

"The board feels if we prevent trouble now, we're better off in the future."

Mrs. Richter said her study of the matter — she was assigned the chairmanship of the group because of her interest in children — has shown that much of the problem starts in the fourth and fifth grades. It then shows up again in high school when the youngsters get into more serious problems.

"People are always talking about teenagers, but they started being problem children before they were teenagers," she said.

"This can be a great asset to the community," said Mrs. Richter as she discussed the program.

SHE EXPLAINED that if it was approved and put into operation "we will watch it very closely and give the juvenile officer all the help he needs."

Donald Jensen is currently the Bensenville juvenile officer — but juvenile matters are usually handled after his regular eight hour tour of duty.

Currently Jensen and school official Denzil Whitlow are working closely on sharing information.

Supt. Wesley A. Johnson said the Bensenville school district at present pays the village $100 per year for the services of a truant officer. This is handled on a part-time basis.

Thomas said study was given to the matter by the village board because the problems created by children at school were of a nature that the village should provide help in the form of a truancy and juvenile officer.

MRS. RICHTER said she was still collecting data on the matter and has talked with Roy DeShane, county superintendent of schools, about the district and the village sharing the cost of the full-time officer.

William A. Redmond, attorney for both the school districts and the village board, is looking into the legality of the proposed plan.

Mrs. Richter said the officer would devote full-time to the juvenile - truancy- probation problems and be used by the department only in case of emergency.

Thomas also explained that it would be necessary for the village to hire another full-time patrolman if one man devoted his efforts toward helping the children.

A FULL-TIME juvenile officer, Jensen explained, should "obtain all the information possible to get a clear picture of the situation and determine what is best for the child. If we handle a child intelligently and guide him correctly, we may be able to keep him from going wrong later in life."

And therein lies the crux of the plan

It has been likened to taking polio vaccine, not because everyone in town is coming down with it, but rather to prevent it. (A-14

Shows Interest in Armor Bullet Trap

A large French manufacturing concern is looking for a license to produce the Detroit Venetian Blind Bullet Trap which is used in the Arlington Heights Police Department and made by a local company.

Two representatives of the company, Soudure Autogene Francaise, 29 Avenue Claude, Vellefaux, Paris, visited the police department late last month while officers were firing on the range.

The representatives, Pierre Maurice, director of the department for new construction, and Pierre Gireaux, manager of the Bordeaux plant, were brought here by Jack Denton, an associate of Skokie International, an exporting firm.

"THIS IS strictly exploratory at this point," said Joseph Nikoden Jr., president of Armor Metal Products Ind., 1436 E. Davis, the patent-holder of the bullet trap. "We hope to have licensees in quite a few foreign countries."

Working through the exporting firm, the two French businessmen "showed considerable interest and feel they can apply the same trap to use in the Paris police department and others in the country," said Nikoden.

"From what I understand, England will send somebody over in the next two months, and Japan may possibly follow to see the bullet trap," he added.

The trap, developed by the company which also manufactures a wide range of other metal products, eliminates back splatter and ricocheting, common in the old steel plate traps with a sand pit.

THE TRAP is also used by the U. S. Treasury Department and police departments in Des Plaines and Westchester; Waterloo, Iowa; Detroit, Flint, Warren, Dearborn, Oak Park and St. Clair Shores, Mich.; Lincoln Park, Mich., youth center; Dade County, Fla., Sheriff's Department, and an Inkster, Mich., sports center. Cheery Atmosphere of Social Whirl Belies Ides of March

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Between Friday the 13th and the Ides of March, the past weekend should have been gloomy and full of bad omens. Instead it was bright 'n' breezy, and as full of cheery goings on as it was of tousled hair-dos and wind-tossed hats. Tan Arlington Heighters, obviously just back from winter vacations, crossed paths with pale ones just leaving, birthdays were celebrated, weekend guests were greeted, and tulip shoots were admired. Everyone was busy.

Mrs. George S. Reuter Jr., 1806 E. Lilac Terrace, returned last Friday after three weeks abroad, touring from Cairo to London by way of Damascus, Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, Athens and Rome. She travelled with longtime friends, Dr. and Mrs. John Rice of Murfreesboro, Tenn., who relived with her the moments in ancient history and Biblical tradition recalled by places along the way.

There was the visit to the "Street Called Straight" in Damascus and the window in the house on the wall that is said to be where the apostle Paul was let down in a basket to escape the soldiers; the excavations of ancient Jericho which pre-dates Joshua's time; Jerusalem and Bethlehem, rich in religious lore at every turn, from the inn of the Good Samaritan to the cave in the hills where Christ was born.

MRS. REUTER and her companions left Tel Aviv by plane for Athens where once again the past vied with the present for their attention. They saw Mars' Hill where the apostle Paul preached, and were before the palace in Athens as the body of the late King Paul was brought out, attended by his successor and son, and the grieving queen.

From Greece the travellers flew to Rome, then to London, with a few days of sightseeing in each capitol before the final flight that brought them home. It was Mrs. Reuter's first trip abroad and, as she said, much too short, "but so exciting! It's hard to realize that just a few weeks ago I was riding a camel in the Sahara Desert, walking in the Garden of Gethsemane, and watching the changing of the guard at Buckingham Palace."

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kraegler, 1705 Clarence, are also newly home from an overseas trip. They returned a week ago Saturday from Heidelberg, Germany, where they did their best to telescope the 6-year separation of Mrs. Kraegler and her parents, the Friedrich Volks, into the 10-week visit they had with them. Mr. Kraegler had not seen the Volks for 10 years, and there was so much catching up to do that the 2½ months in Heidelberg seemed like a weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keller and children, 512 W. South, were part of a family reunion in Elkhart, Ind., last weekend when Mrs. Keller's father, S. H. Gibson, celebrated his 90th birthday. The young-in-heart birthday lad had reached 90 March 4, but didn't mind delaying his party so that a full circle of 30 family members could be with him. He was delighted, too, to share all the happy birthday greetings with his granddaughter, Rosalie Keller, whose 12th birthday came one day before his 90th. It was a happy, hectic weekend that had everyone puffing; everyone, that is, except the two birthday kids.

On the day Rosalie turned 12, she received the best wishes of Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Smith of Madison, Wis., who were birthday dinner party guests in the Keller home. The Smiths own Camp Osoha in Boulder Junction, Wis., where Rosalie spends several weeks each summer, and with their congratulations they brought movies of the camp for after-dinner viewing.

THE RUSSELL Hansens, 15 W. Orchard, returned Friday from a 2-week vacation trip to the west coast where Disneyland and family reunions added up to a delight-full schedule. They began in Sacramento and "worked" their way down to Los Angeles. Family visits included a stay in Sacramento with Mrs. Hansen's brother, a minister, Dr. W. C. Christian, and his family; then one with their mother, Mrs. Martha Schwemler in Los Altos, near San Francisco. Next came a reunion with another of Mrs. Hansen's brothers, Cmdr. R. W. Christian, and his family. Cmdr. Christian is the executive commanding officer of Moffett Air Force Base at Mountain View. Climaxing the California vacation was a day at Disneyland, a look-see at Knott's Berry Farm and then the final farewells.

For a combination of several good reasons Chrissie Loechl celebrated her 13th birthday a week early and on Friday the 13th. Her party was a "Beatle Blast" and there are now 13 new Beatle records, gifts of her party guests, to delight and/or disintegrate the rest of the family at 1213 N. Dunton. Refreshments included a cake that followed the evening's motif and had a frosting hair-do with bangs that went just below see-level.

Paul Gish was 7 March 15 and the Ides of March were nothing but happy. Paul had a birthday party and 10 neighborhood friends were there to enjoy boy-filling birthday cake and the eye-popping magic act of Arlington Heights' teen-aged Blackstone, Richard Fine. Although Dick is technically and correctly known as a prestidigitator, the small fry at 642 S. Chestnut only know that he was mighty magical Sunday.

THE FRANK DiCanio family, 730 N. Chestnut, weekended in Peoria, Donna with her brother, John, a freshman at Bradley University. Brotherly-sisterly love notwithstanding, the main attraction at Bradley was the personal appearance at a campus hootenanny of the popular trio, Peter, Paul and Mary.

The Archie McGill family, recently and only temporarily of 707 S. Kaspar, left here early this month for a new home in White Plains, N. Y., not having stayed long enough to "make" the Arlington Heights phone book. McGill is with the IBM company and although the family barely had time to get acquainted with their neighbors, the area IBM wives farewelled Mrs. McGill at a coffee for 12 in the home of Mrs. James Bieser, 815 W. George.

A long distance midnight announcement of the birth of a grandson to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wist broke up a neighborhood bridge session Saturday night, and everyone's so happy there have been no demands to finish the game. The Wists are first-time grandparents, via their daughter, Nita, Mrs. Robert Bullock of Los Angeles. The west coast wonder weighed in at nine pounds, is named Robert and was born in the hospital at March Air Force Base.

The Arthur Mangelsdorf family is home again after a 2-week vacation in Florida. They returned Monday afternoon just as their phone was ringing; it was a Sidelights correspondent calling to find out when they'd returned. Beautiful weather followed them, or vice versa, up one coast of Florida and down the other, the whole family is sun-tanned and, as of the moment they walked in the door, anxious to turn up the heat at 1011 N. Walnut.

MRS. WILLIAM J. McCormick, 844 S. Vail, returned Sunday from a 2-week vacation in Phoenix and Los Angeles, visiting friends and seeing nearby places of interest with them.

Mickey Stoffel, on a recent 10-day leave, celebrated a birthday at home for the first time in three years. He'd been stationed in Germany for two years and since the first of the year has been at Fort Carson in Denver. Mickey, son of the Harold Stoffels, 133 S. Highland, was 22, at home sweet home and had his foot in a cast March 10. He hadn't planned to do any dancing on his birthday anyway so a broken ankle didn't stall party proceedings at all. The fracture was the result of a skiing accident during an army tournament. Mickey and cast returned to Fort Carson Sunday.

Mrs. Michael Hoggay, 24 S. Chestnut, is home from St. Joseph Hospital in Elgin where three weeks bed rest was prescribed to alleviate coronary failure. Although she's feeling quite well now, Mrs. Hoggay will be taking things easier from now on.

Sunday and Monday guests in the Martin Bliese home, 713 S. Chestnut, were longtime Wisconsin friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Schwarz, en route home to Madison from a vacation in Hot Springs. Part of any weekend stay here is a visit with Schwarz' sister and good friend of Mrs. Bliese, Miss Vicky Schwarz, who is now a teaching nun at St. Michael's in Chicago's Old Town. Monday was the day for the reunion, and, later, a tour of points of interest in Old Town.

The temperature was dropping at O'Hare airport Monday night at about the same time the Sam Clarks came down, returning from 10 summery days in Key Largo, Fla. It had been 91 on the Keys when they left. Vacationing with the Clarks were friends from Lake Forest who also like warm weather, even after they come home from Florida.

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Frances Boeger and Mrs. Charles Kleinofen, 627 S. Chestnut, were saddened to learn of the death March 7 of LeRoy Boeger, Mrs. Boeger's son and Mrs. Kleinofen's brother. Although he made his home in Elmhurst in recent years, Boeger lived here for many years and was well known locally.

The Darrell Bangs, 413 S. Carlyle, entertained at a pot-luck supper and bridge Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Busch, the Vern Heims and the Richard Cooks.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton, 111 S. Dryden, will be hosts at a dinner party Saturday in honor of their son, Tom, who wil be installed as master councilor of Mount Prospect Chapter, order of De Molay. His cousin, Charles Meyer Jr., a student at Purdue University, wil be his installing marshal.

Family members coming for the weekend will be his grandparents, the Senior Howard Milbourns of South Bend and Thomas Milbourns of Buffalo Grove and Mrs. Charles Meyer of Purdue.

Missing from the family gathering will be Tom's sister, Peggy, who will spend the weekend at Camp Pine with her Girl Scout Troop.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 S. Wilshire, are back from a 10-day stay in Mexico, where they visited Mexico City and attended a banking convention in Torreon.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. McKown Jr., 206 S. Gibbons, are Mr. and Mrs. John Lindberg of Appleton, Wis. They arrived last week, then flew to Las Vegas for a 3-day holiday, returning to Arlington Heights last Thursday to stay through the weekend.

Mrs. McKown and Mrs.Lindberg maintain a friendship that began long ago when both worked as stewardesses on the Mexico-New York flight of American Airlines. Mrs. Lindberg's picture still appears on all the American Airlines posters of Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lockwood, 312 S. Derbyshire, went to Iowa over the weekend to celebrate the birthday of their twins, Robert Lockwood Jr. of Evanston and Mrs. Marvin Lowry, the former Linda Lockwood, now living on the campus of the University of Iowa.

They were accompanied by the Junior Lockwoods and joined their daughter and son-in-law, his parents, the Werner Lowrys, and sister, Miss Sharon Lowry, for a birthday dinner at the Captains Table in Washington.

The party became a triple birthday event when the twins offered birthday toasts and a surprise birthday cake to their mother who also shares a March birthday.

Miss Nancy Johnston came home Wednesday from Pennsylvania State University, where she is a junior in education, for a 10-day visit with her parents, the junior A. N. Johnsons, 428 Banbury.

Mrs. Edward McGrath, 206 E. Rockwell, and her youngest daughter, Susie, spent the past week in Ottumwa, Iowa, visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Phillip Swanson. While there she had daily visits with her two elder daughters, Frances and Patricia, students at Ottumwa Heights College.

Patricia, a freshman this year, took one of the leads in the college play, "Carnival," which was presented over the weekend.

Accompanying Mrs. McGrath to Iowa were two Arlington Heights friends of her daughters, Frank Zeller and Jay Freitag.

Miss Mary Mockenhaupt, daughter of the Jerome Mockenhaupts, 430 S. Belmont, took a weekend off from classes at Western Illinois University to go to Milwaukee to visit her Scarsdale neighbor, Miss Susan Lepinski, a student at Mount Mary College.

The Joseph F. Faners, 615 Mayfair, spent the past week in New Orleans, attending the National Utilities Purchasing Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heintz, 888 Bristol, have returned after spending a month in Florida. The Florida Keys are their favorite part of the state, and they stayed in a leased house in the Tropical Bay subdivision of Big Pine Key. Renewing friendships and deep sea fishing were favorite pastimes.

Jim Tindall will come home for a weekend visit with his parents, the Robert K. Tindalls, 356 S. Beverly, and will bring as his guest Miss Dianne Callan of Detroit. Both Mr. Tindall and Miss Callan are freshmen at the University of Michigan.

Mrs. E. J. Jacobs, 904 Burton, entertained at a coffee March 9 for friends and Scarsdale neighbors, who afterwards saw an informal spring hat showing from a collection presented by Mrs. Jacobs' sister Miss Kathi Watson.

Mrs. Frederick C. Schmoyer, 445 S. Pine, gave an "around the clock" bridal shower Sunday for Miss Susan Anderson, daughter of the Byron Andersons, former Scarsdale residents now living in Wilmette. She will be married to Julian Arron March 25, the wedding to be performed in the Anderson home followed by a reception and dinner at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Milne, 436 S. Belmont, will have their nephew, Bill Darling of Columbus, Ohio, as their Easter week guest.

Mrs. Richard Strech of Los Angeles and her daughter, Cheri, will be house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Grayson, 768 S. Belmont, this weekend.

Mrs. O. E. Fry, 727 S. Bristol, just returned from a 2-week visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Thompson of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Victor Myer, 819 Bristol, received birthday congratulations Saturday at a cocktail party. He and Mrs. Myer were hosts to 60 friends which included Mrs. Marguerite Stitt Church and business associates of Mr. Myers. (A

Q. I see more and more people tipping their soup plates in order to scoop out the last bit of soup. Is this proper?

A. Yes, if done properly. You tilt the plate gently AWAY from you, using your spoon, of course in the same direction.

Chances are that your car's electrical system, particularly the distributor, is at fault. The condition of the cap, rotor, points and vacuum and centrifugal advance mechanism has a bearing on this missing problem.

Of course, there could be other reasons, too. For fast and accurate service in getting a smooth running engine again, drive over to JOE'S SUNOCO, 2101 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights. You'll drive away shortly after with an even-running motor. You'll be satisfied because this isn't 'just another "filler-up" station.'

DON'T LET A COLD CATCH YOU!

The very common expression, "I caught a cold," should be stated just the opposite way around — "A cold caught me." For, no one deliberately goes out looking to catch a cold. Rather, they should try to protect themselves from one.

In the month of March the weather is especially changeable. Extra care must be taken to avoid having a cold catch you. At the first signs that you have become a victim of public enemy number one, you should take the necessary steps to prevent it from developing into something serious. Nose drops, aspirin, rest, a cough remedy, etc. can help in the early stages. But if a simple cold starts getting worse or lingers on you should see your physician.

Suburban Chest Gives $147,515 to 90 Towns

The Suburban Community Chest Council distributed $147,515.28 to 90 suburban communities this week.

This represents their portion of the third quarter distribution of funds raised through industrial sources and distributed by the council, according to S. G. Kosinski, secretary of the council board of directors.

"These funds," Kosinski said, "represent contributions received by the council during November, December and January for distribution as designated by the donors.

"OUR RECORDS show that as of March 10, the Suburban Community Chest Council has received funds equal to the total amount distributed last year. Accordingly, all funds received after that date and through April will constitute an increase in monies to be sent to the designated suburbs and agencies."

Three area progress report meetings were recently conducted by the council to sound out the sentiment of its 78 members in connection with forming a new metropolitan organization.

"We would combine the suburban and Chicago efforts to raise funds on a metropolitan basis," says Harry L. Blout, the council's executive secretary.

"Indications are that suburban sentiment on this question is strongly in favor of continuing negotiations. Members are pleased by the progress made to date and are looking forward to the time when they can relate a comprehensive recommendation to their individual communities for formal consideration."

PARTICIPATING communities in this area and the amounts they will receive are:

Addison, $1,074.96; Arlington Heights, $1,885.33; Elk Grove Village, $720.08; Mount Prospect, $1,369.22; Palatine, $1,121.14; Prospect Heights, $302.32.

Accused of Bid to Cash Stolen Check

Albert Wallberg, 27, of 204 Cleardon, Prospect Heights, was charged with attempt to commit forgery after he was apprehended March 13 in an attempt to cash a stolen payroll check in Arlington Heights.

Wallberg told police he found the check, one of a series of payroll checks stolen last week along with a check-writing machine from the Cook County School Bus Co., in a wallet in a Des Plaines theater parking lot.

THE CHECK was spotted as one of the missing series by Evelyn Rokosz a teller at the Arlington Heights National Bank, when Wallberg made his first attempt to cash it. The amount was $103.63.

Wallberg told police he became worried when the teller went away from her window to report the incident and left the bank.

But cashier Norman Dewey called police and gave them a description of the suspect's clothing. He was picked up minutes later as a patrolman saw him enter Harris Drugs in Dunton Court.

Wallberg is scheduled to appear March 20 in the Evanston branch of the Cook County Circuit Court. Bond was set at $1,000.

Do not say, "I wish you would let me alone." It is much better to say, "I wish you would leave me alone."

"Convenient TO" should be followed by a person, and "convenient FOR" should be followed by a purpose. Thus: "This arrangement will be convenient TO you," and "This book is convenient FOR reference."

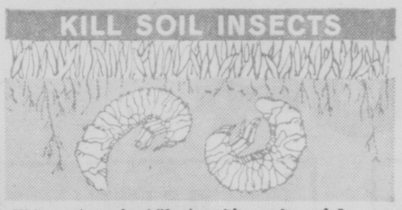
2 Triple Action Crab Grass Killer gives your grass an ideal "first feeding" with a 10-5-5 fertilizer, fast, vigorous growth.

KILL SOIL INSECTS



3 This product also kills the white grubs and Japanese beetle grubs that can damage your lawn.

See us for Greenfield Triple Action Crab Grass Killer—the product that does three big spring lawn jobs at once.

WEED and FEED

With Greenfield DOUBLE ACTION Plant Food

This ideal fertilizer for flowers, bulbs, plants, also contains Greenfield's exclusive Treflan®. It's a unique weed preventer that is harmless to established plants, flowers, and shrubs when used as directed. Prevents grassy and many broadleaf weeds as it fertilizes plants.

SEE THE DIFFERENCE IN GREENFIELD MEASURED-RELEASE LAWN FOOD

Wildwood Drive Is Really Wild

by DON HEINE
Staff Writer

At one highway juncture near Randhurst, extraordinary efforts have been made by traffic engineers.

They have erected 136 traffic lights (counting all red, yellow and green lamps and turn arrows) on behalf of motorists.

These lights are in the single triangle formed by the crossing of three busy roads: Rand, Foundry and Elmhurst.

No matter which way the driver looks, he is faced with a signal to keep him going in the right direction at the right time.

While the number of signals is unusual, it is indicative of the extent of traffic control efforts.

NEVERTHELESS, motorists in the northwest suburbs like those in other places frequently complain about not being able to tell where they are or where they are going.

Recently the Chicago Motor Club announced that a survey shows that 62 per cent of the travelers who were asked to say what annoys them most mentioned "confused or inadequate direction signs."

In view of these results, a group of northwest suburban residents were asked whether they think their own area is confusing to visitors. Most persons could mention one or more confusing street or highway markings.

A number of drivers say a Des Plaines intersection is particularly puzzling. This is where Rand Road, Northwest Highway and River Road cross. Going south on Rand (Route 12), the driver sees Route 12 signs pointing in two directions.

Mannheim Road also puzzles some drivers who note that in going northward the motorists get no forewarning of the intersection of Higgins or Algonquin.

A stranger heading south out of Buffalo Grove also is likely to be mixed up by following road names. Buffalo Grove Road, which makes a series of right-angle turns, later becomes Three States Boulevard, and in turn, Three States Highway. If continued, it would become Windsor Drive.

Double names for roads are common. Arlington Heights Road and State Road are an example. So are Foundry Road and Kensington Road.

Newcomers trying to locate a street address may be befuddled by two streets having the same name.

FOR INSTANCE, the village of Wheeling, has both a Wheeling Road and a Wheeling Avenue. They run parallel, about three-fourths of a mile apart.

Palatine Road, which runs east and west, is called Chicago Avenue in the village of Palatine.

Arlington Heights also has a Chicago Street, which runs north and south, through Virginia Terrace and into Linnwood. Should this road be extended a few hundred feet some day, it will interseet with Palatine Road. This corner then could be called "Chicago at Chicago."

In Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg, the use of Pleasant addresses gets confusing. Hoffman Estates has a Pleasant Street, running a mile west of a Pleasant Drive in Schaumburg.

The principal north-south arterl in Schaumburg is Springinsguth Road, named after a local family. But the name has been misspelled "Springingsguth" by many newcomers, map makers and telephone book compilers. To solve the spelling difficulty, the southern part of the street has been given another name: "Springingsouth."

What is east, west, north and south in street terminology? Not what you might think, if you are in Prospect Heights, on Wildwood Drive. You can get on this drive and keep going all day, since it makes a 360-degree circuit.

But Wildwood Drive West, runs north and south; Wildwood Drive north runs east and west; Wildwood Drive east, north and south; and Wildwood Drive South, east and west.

In other words, you may go north on Wildwood Drive West before making a turn to the east on Wildwood Drive North an then turning on Wildwood Drive East to go south. Understand?

DRIVER CONFUSION frequently is experienced at this intersection between Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Village. Motorists aren't always sure which road they are on or which road they are coming to. Nationally, surveys show that the chief gripe of travellers is confused or inadequate signs and the northwest suburban area is no exception. (A-14

Geological Group To Have Auction

The Des Plaines Valley Geological Society will have its annual silent auction of fossils and mineral specimens at its meeting today (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in West Park Fieldhouse, 651 Wolf Road, Des Plaines.

Gronouski Says

Cut in Postal Jobs Won't Impair Service

The cut of an additional 3,100 postal jobs during the fiscal year starting July 1, as announced by President Johnson, will result in limited adjustments in some postal services without impairment of any that are essential, Postmaster General John A. Gronouski said.

The Post Office Department expects to save an additional $12.7 million during the 1965 fiscal year as follows:

1. $3,714,000 and 697 jobs by reducing delivery service on exclusively parcel post routes from 6 to 5 days.

2. $5,286,000 and 1,103 positions by reducing some window services.

3. $3 million and 850 positions by miscellaneous reductions, such as a reduction in maintenance services.

4. $500,000 and 300 positions by the recently announced consolidation of regional accounting and data processing functions.

5. $200,000 and 150 positions by consolidation of 300 small, primarily fourth class, post offices.

These economies will mean a Post Office Department cut from a 1965 budget allowance of 597,454 positions to 594,354, Gronouski pointed out.

HE EXPLAINED that the department is already making staff cuts announced earlier.

The 3,100 new job cuts will not be signifiacnt in the economy of any locality. They will be distributed among hundreds of post offices, branches and stations, and they will be achieved by leaving vacated jobs unfilled, the postmaster explained.

The particular day of the week that parcel post delivery is cut will be chosen by the local postmaster to fit local conditions, he said.

Regarding reduced window service, Gronouski said window service will be curtailed on Saturdays in certain offices, postal customers will continue to get all essential services, such as those for sale of stamps or deposit or delivery of mail.

IN SOME of the big post offices where it is now provided, Sunday window service will be discontinued.

The third area of economies, such as reductions in vehicle miscellaneous, includes items such as reductions in vehicle facilities and in maintenance of facilities and equipment in line with newly established criteria, Gronouski said.

The fourth area of savings, consolidation of regional accounting and data processing work, is an internal economy to be achieved by merging work that has been spread among 14 postal regions into 6 regions. This has no effect on public services, the postmaster said.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

SWINGIN' SQUARES

This Arlington Heights Club will kiss winter goodbye and welcome the new season tomorrow night with a "Spring Wing Ding." Swingin' Squares' publicity chairman says, "Yes, we are all now thinking of apple blossoms, mowing the lawn, picnics, mowing the lawn, vacations, mowing the lawn. . . ."

He suggests that if these lovely thoughts do not bring joy to the dancers' hearts, said dancers should "spring into action to the calls of Dale Manson." Dancin' to Manson and going 'round 'n' 'round with round-dance specialists, Carl and Marie Peterson, is a guaranteed effective spring tonic — and lots more fun than sulphur and molasses.

IF ALL WENT as per plan over the weekend, the Swingin' Squares banner was re-retrieved, this time from the Palatine Squares. It's one of the most transient pennants on the local circuit, a sure sign that Swingin' Squares dances are visited by many guest couples — most of them with "light-finger" tendencies. Guests are always welcome at all Swingin' Squares sessions and all area dancers are invited to the affair tomorrow night.

Dancing begins at 8:30 in the 500 E. Miner, Arlington Heights. Coffee and cookies on the house are served throughout the evening, and dancing ends at 11:30. The club dances the first and third Friday nights of every month. (A14

New Want Ad Service Is Announced

Beginning April 5, "The Suburbanite," Paddock Publications' Sunday edition, will include classified advertising.

Announcement of the new want ad service was made this week by Robert Y. Paddock, advertising director of the 14 Thursday newspapers and Sunday Suburbanite.

"In response to the increasing demand for a local Sunday paper, we are extending our Suburbanite to include want ads," said Paddock. "This additional service means that classified advertisers in our Thursday editions can also schedule their want ads in the Sunday Suburbanite at reduced cost through our exclusive multiple insertion advertising program."

WITH MULTIPLE insertion, want ads appearing in the 14 Thursday editions will also appear in the Sunday Suburbanite.

The Thursday editions reach 37,000 homes, and the Sunday edition is delivered to 43,000 homes for a total combined audience of 80,000 households.

"This is the largest readership per dollar advertising value available," explained Paddock. "We believe the addition of classified advertising will make the Suburbanite an even more important Sunday paper and that readers will view it with increased enthusiasm and extra interest."

To introduce the new streamlined service, Paddock Publications is offering for a limited time a 50 per cent Suburbanite Want-Ad discount, when combined with the Thursday edition.

Full details are available from the classified advertising department, CLearbrook 3-1520 or FLanders 8-2025. DuPage County phone is 773-1520.

Lower Bills for NI-Gas Users

James W. Karber, chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission, announced recently that, following joint studies of the Illinois Commerce Commission and the Northern Illinois Gas Co., the utility has filed rate schedules that are estimated to reduce its revenues by $4.1 million annually.

Almost 600,000 residential customers, who use in excess of 40 therms per month, will receive lower bills. Residential customers will receive approximately $2,625,000 of the rate reduction. The balance will go to commercial and industrial customers. (A-14

Lists Ways to Prevent Poisoning of Children

The Northwest Suburban Pharmaceutical Council warns that approximately 500,000 children will be accidently poisoned in the home this year, 400,000 of them children under five years old.

This is National Poison Prevention Week, the council announced, a good time to make sure that homes are free of the danger of child poisoning, it added.

Carelessness in the handling and storing of toxic materials is one of the major factors contributing to this poisoning danger, the council said.

WHILE BY law manufacturers must label any products which are potentially hazardous, adults must be sure they are out of the reach of children, the council added.

The following suggestions to prevent home poisonings are made by the National Planning Council for National Poison Prevention Week:

1. Keep household products and medicines out of reach and sight of children, preferably locked up.

2. Store medicines separately from household products always in their original containers and properly labeled.

3. MAKE CERTAIN all products are labeled and read the label before using.

4. Never take medicine in the dark or give it to children without turning on the light.

5. Children imitate adults; avoid taking medications in their presence.

6. Always refer to medicines by their names, never as candy.

7. CLEAN OUT medicine chests regularly. Get rid of old medicines by flushing them down the drain and rinsing out the containers.

A "Save a Life" counterdose chart for the home may be obtained from any pharmacist.

Show Tickets Sold Out

Prospect High School's production of the Lerner and Loewe musical, "Brigadoon," is sold out for tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday nights.

Sterling Mische, producer and director of the show, said this week that the only seats available are for tonight's (Thursday) performance in the Prospect High Little Theatre starting at 7:30 p.m.

This production of "Brigadoon" will feature the use of a special "band-estration" in which the normal string parts are reassigned to a variety of wind instruments. "Brigadoon" is the first and, at the present time, the only musical available in this form, Mische said. The show band will perform under the direction of Edward Volz.

Other Prospect faculty members cooperating in the production of the annual music department musical are George Fredin, art; Lewis Crane, audio-visual; Leroy Hollenbeck, coaching and makeup; Charles Jenks, publicity and piano accompaniment; Lon Cordell, stagecraft and George Chard and Don Fyfe, dialogue coaches.

Student assistants in "Brigadoon" include Gayle Travers anl Sally Wolfe, rehearsal accompanists; Pat Hampton and Larry Frankenberg, stage management; Cynthia Reed, prompter; Christine Gunderson, wardrobe and Fred Thorsen, Art Blair, Bill Newman, Pete Riley and Richard Schegel, electricians.

There is marked similarity between Lerner's original story for "Brigadoon" and a German short story, "Germelshausen," written in the 1850's by Gerstacker, Mishe said. Both stories involve villages which come to life for one day out of a century. In both cases, the boy voluntarily leaves the village. the endings, however, differ greatly.

The lavish and colorful costuming, Scotch bagpiping, gay backdrops and a hundred and a half persons on stage make for unusual entertainment, the show's director commented. (ACM DOING A LITTLE collecting for tonight's opening performance of "Broadway's Best," Arlington High School Orchesis member Jackie Kleinofen has partner Connie Van Ness canned for the curtain. The show, which features interpretations of musical comedy hit tunes, is slated for 8 p.m. Thursday and Saturday evenings in the school's Little Theater. (ACM

BGA Head Denies 3rd Party Charge

CHICAGO, (UPI) — George E. Mahin, executive director of the Better Government Association (BGA), Tuesday denied charges by Illinois House Speaker John Lewis that the BGA is promoting a third political party in the state.

"The BGA is active in setting up a statewide committee to take over election campaigns of qualified candidates," Mahin said. "There is no BGA political party or slate," he said.

Mahin's statement was in reply to a charge by Lewis that BGA was "promoting a third political party in the State of Illinois."

LEWIS, IN asking that the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) investigate BGA, also said he thinks BGA should lose its tax-deductible status.

Mahin said BGA's function was in aiding the committee in "getting off the ground" and then it would "cease to be a BGA affair."

"We've been doing this since 1923 as part of our policy of encouraging qualified candidates to run for office," Mahin said.

"Lewis is opposed to a third slate of candidates for fear it might upset their little apple-cart in electing incumbent representatives and in securing his re-election as speaker of the house," Mahin said. (A-14

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Dick Smith, 517 S. Prindle, who was home for 10 days on a between-quarter break from Iowa State University at Ames, relaxed for the first week but wound up his vacation with a busy weekend. Dick and his fiancee, Barbara Nelson of Prospect Heights, Sue Felknor of Dandridge, Tenn., and George Monroe of Columbia, S.C., all students at Iowa State, attended the Shrine Circus Saturday evening and after the performance "did the town." Sue was Barbara's weekend house guest and George stayed with Dick.

Sunday Dick's parents, the Robert Smiths, gave a dinner party in Barbara's honor and included Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson of Prospect Heights.

What most couples dream of doing, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ehlen, 425 S. Gibbons, did - "got away from it all" by spending a long weekend in New York City. All of the tourist attractions were on the agenda, including a visit to Radio City, a tour of the United Nations Building and the sight of Times Square at midnight. Luck was with Ed and Mayme and they were able to get tickets for a performance of "Foxy" with Bert Lahr.

MRS. BURTON Soderberg, 436 S. Phelps, was hostess Thursday evening when the Birthday Club celebrated the March 11 birthday of Mrs. Fred Both, 433 S. Phelps. Birthday cake and coffee were served to the 16 members.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, entertained several business friends at a bridge party Saturday evening.

The Louis Schultz family, 528 S. Waterman, is receiving congratulations from family, friends and neighbors on the adoption of a son, Steven Rex, born Jan. 7 and welcomed into the Schultz home Feb. 7. The Schultzes have two daughters, 12-year-old Connie and 9-year-old Janet.

Duane Bingel couldn't think of anything nicer for his eighth birthday Saturday than two birthday cakes and two parties. The first was a supper party given Friday by his parents, the Robert Bingels, 533 S. Phelps, with Grandma and Grandpa Langner of Chicago and Burlington, Wis., as guests. Saturday the guests were Grandma and Grandpa Bingel of Chicago and the scene of the birthday dinner party was Cesar's in Des Plaines so Duane could enjoy his current favorite food - pizza.

SUNDAY WAS a big day for Eric Smolinski, 2105 E. Grove, who was celebrating his fifth birthday. Church was followed by the ceremony of gift opening, which in turn was followed by a festive dinner in his honor. In the evening his parents, the Leo Smolinskis took Eric and his brothers, Brian and Bruce, to the Ice Capades at the Stadium and topped off the celebration by stopping at the Red Balloon for sodas on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miner, 421 S. Gibbons, had their 23rd wedding anniversary March 15. By way of an advance celebration, the Miners had dinner at Berghoff's in the Loop Feb. 6 with friends from Norridge, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Morgan, and attended a performance of "How to Succeed in Business."

More recent celebrations included an informal get-together at the Miner home Saturday evening with close neighbors, the Gerald Mertens and the James Masseys, and a weekend visit from Arlyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lustgarten of Miller, Ind. The Lustgartens' visit was not only in honor of the wedding anniversary date but to mark the coming 18th birthday of their granddaughter, Gail Miner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Both, 433 S. Phelps, with Fred, Jr. and Joanne, celebrated the March 11 and 12 birthdays of mother and son at dinner at the Elks' Club in Des Plaines last Wednesday. The double celebration was repeated Sunday at a family dinner party. Guests included Anita's mother, Mrs. Anna Durcany of Chicago, and several aunts and uncles.

PAUL OBUCHOWSKI chose to celebrate his eighth birthday Friday by inviting James Domke and Murray Lemons to spend the night. After birthday cake, ice cream and "pop," the boys concentrated on staying awake as long as possible, the chief aim of the slumber party, which ended with breakfast Saturday. Paul is the son of the Ralph Obuchowskis, 407 S. Forrest.

Greg Dombrow, 428 S. Prindle, celebrated his 17th birthday Friday at a family dinner complete with his favorite dishes and a birthday cake.

Greta Hermanson, daughter of the Gust Hermansons, 437 S. Forrest, entertained an overnight guest Friday, Anitra Lindquist, formerly of Arlington Acres and now of Plum Grove Countryside. The girls were celebrants Saturday at a first birthday party for "Duchess," canine member of the Hermanson household. They were joined by Greta's brother, Mark, and Barby Jenko of S. Prindle.

Friends and neighbors of the Grafitti family, 436 S. Waterman, are sorry to see them leave Arlington Acres and wish them well on their move to Chicago. (A

GARDEN GAMUT

Shamrocks, leprichons and the wearing of the green will always be in style, come March 17. It seems one doesn't have to be Irish to enjoy a good St. Patrick's Day party, as was shown at the party Kay Borucki, 406 W. Cypress, gave for 13 of the girls in the Gardens.

Neighbors were glad to see Denny Albers, after his six months in the Army. He returned home March 12.

Elaine Rudnicki, 1119 S. Mitchell, has her mother, Mrs. Irene Dybas of Chicago, with her to help take care of her son, Mike, and the new baby, Deborah Joan.

ELAINE AND JOHN Craynon, 1264 S. Walnut, attended the wedding of Elaine's niece, Beryl Stuke of Downers Grove, to Richard Haley of Champaign on March 7 in Downers Grove. Elaine's son, Daryl, 5, was ringbearer.

Miss Julie Grabowski of Wilmette was a houseguest of Kay and John Borucki last weekend.

"Lost Vegas" was the theme used by the Nocturne Dance Club's annual dance March 7 at Chevy Chase Country Club. Present from the Gardens were the Wally Ambroses, George Leonards, John Trockis, Bob Adamczyks, Tom Pooles and the Pete Kays.

A surprise birthday party for Burt Eland was given at the home of Joan and Denny Albers, Walnut Street. Helping him celebrate were the Ken Wendts, George Kempsells, the Lou Leonarduzzis, Boots Potas and Charlene Eland, all of Arlington Heights and the Al Helferts of Chicago.

MRS. DORA Phillips of St. Petersburg, Fla., is a houseguest of Elaine and John Craynon of Walnut Street.

Hostess at coffee Wednesday night was Nan Wendt, 413 W. Cypress. The guests included Arlene Fenney, Kay Borucki, Barbara Kempsell, Boots Potas, Peggy Leonarduzzi, Charlene and Burt Eland.

It has been reported that Tina Herrmann, 1245 S. Walnut, is doing fine after her operation in Northwest Hospital. In the hospital for observation is Muriel Gebler, 1237 S. Walnut. Best wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to both of them. (A School Gym Becomes 'Little Indianapolis'

It looked like Indianapolis through the wrong end of a pair of binoculars March 6, when Cub Scout Pack 130 held its annual Pinewood Derby competition in the South Junior High School gymnasium.

The Cub Scouts and their fathers waited in the grease pits for their qualifying run. They worked on the cars not with wrenches, but with sewing machine oil.

The race was not 500 miles, but rather down a 32-foot incline. The cars were not hundreds of pounds of glass and steel, but a maximum of five ounces of soft wood.

Even in such miniature, the cars retained the appearance of their Indianapolis counterparts.

THE DERBY was run in eight heats, composed of six Cub Scout dens of the pack and two Webelos dens. First place winners of each den then competed for the first four places in over-all speed awards.

All cars were then reviewed and judged for beauty, with eight prizes awarded in this judging session.

Winners for over-all speed were: first, David Brask; second, Jeff Thal; third, Bob Conklin, and fourth, Scott Travis.

Winners in the beauty judging were: first, Bob Wheaton; second, Richard Crow; third, Mike Cleveland; fourth, Ken Whitehead; fifth, Richard Willard; sixth, Thomas Davies; seventh, Steven Wickless, and eighth, Carl Blackman.

JUDGES for the beauty and speed determinations were representatives from Boy Scout Troop 159, including Don Krysh, Tom Dickenson and Norm Smith.

First and second place winners in the den competitions each received plaques. Second, third and fourth place winners in the over-all competition received ribbons, and the first place winner received a gold trophy.

Second through eighth place beauty winners received plaques, while the first place Scout received a gold cup.

Movies of the race and award presentation were taken by Wally Williams, and will be shown at future Pack 130 meetings. Head of the Pinewood Derby event for 1964 was Chuck McKay. Cubmaster for the pack is Paul Chaffee. (A

THE GREASE PIT at the Pinewood Derby held recently by Cub Scout Pack 130 gives an indication of the work and ingenuity which went into construction of small wood cars. Here the final drops of oil went on before the beginning of elimination heats.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it really considered proper for a man and his wife to kiss when meeting or leaving in public?

A. There's nothing at all wrong with this, but be sure it's a "public" kind of kiss. Long, tender kissing is better done in private.

'I Am Free to Live'

Park PTA Sponsors Americanism Essays

"I am free to live." These were among the simple, but meaningful, words written in Park School in their entries for the "This is My America" essay contest sponsored by the school PTA.

The contest, which was run on a voluntary entry basis in grades one through five, drew more than 300 entries.

PTA sponsorship of this, the only contest of its type in the District 25 elementary schools, was designed to stimulate home discussion with parents and other members of the family on American heritage, ideals and values, according to Mrs. Herbert W. Carl, president of the Park School PTA.

The topic was announced prior to the writing date to encourage such discussion, but the themes were written in the classrooms on a voluntary basis without any adult help, Mrs. Carl said.

CONTEST judges were: Philip F. Worland, Park School principal; Mrs. Marjorie Carroll, vocal music teacher; Miss Katharine Cronin, librarian; Ted Seiler, representing PTA membership, and Mrs. Carl.

Winners of the contest in each grade were announced, and prizes awarded at the March 17 PTA meeting. In addition, honorable mention certificates of merit were awarded to approximately 85 children for outstanding work on their themes.

First prize winners in each grade received an American Flag, second prize winners were awarded a book at their reading level selected by the school librarian, and third prize winners got a framed copy of the Declaration of Independence.

First prize essays included such sentiments as, "I sing out proudly when I sing songs like the 'Star Spangled Banner' and a few other songs like that."

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM RIDGE PARK

Happiness sometimes occurs in a two-fold manner, and it came as such recently for Lucille and Charles Black, 812 N Kaspar. At Drake University, their daughter Linda's sorority, Alpha Phi, invited the mothers to be honored guests for a weekend of entertainment, beginning March 6. Among the many things to which the mothers were treated a fashion show and a play.

When Mrs. Black returned from her enjoyable weekend in Des Moines, there was still another pleasure in store for her. Their son, Tom, had completed his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and he arrived home March 7 to spend his two-week furlough with his parents before reporting to Ft. Jackson, S.C., for further duty.

Let it be said that Dorothy Cryer, 1007 N. Kennicott, has nothing against flowers or cameras. When a "shutter bug" husband named Newman takes his wife to McCormick Place to attend a flower show, though, it means "weary feet, look for trouble." Fortunately for Dorothy, Thursday's episode doesn't take place everyday.

A WELCOME is extended to Donald and Alice Paluch, new owners at 922 N. Patton. Mr. Paluch is teaching a fifth grade class at Dryden School, while his wife is a physical education teacher in District 26, Mount Prospect. They moved to Ridge Park the end of February.

Admiring the beauty of Florida but still appreciating their home in Illinois are the V. J. Warejckas, 1009 N. Princeton. They returned March 1 from a nine-day sightseeing trip which included approximately 3800 miles of traveling. They covered the east and west coasts of Florida; visited Cypress Gardens, viewed the famed orange groves and also stopped to see the winter encampment of the Ringling Bros. circus in Sarasota. Unfortunately, the weather wasn't very accommodating, so there wasn't much opportunity for lounging on the beach and soaking up warn sunshine.

Jean and Marshall Gray, 1011 N. Princeton, also took a recent trip, but it was a weekend jaunt; the destination being Macomb. They and their children spent the time touring the campus of Western Illinois University, which Marsha is looking forward to attending next September.

Belated, although still very meaningful, are the neighborhood welcome wishes to the Eugene Stumpf family, 908 N. Salem. They lived in Arkansas City, Kan., for 11 years prior to moving here in January. Eugene is employed by the Santa Fe Railroad in Chicago.

THEIR SON, Gary, was 10 March 13. Attending his family party that evening were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stumpf of Roselle, along with an aunt, uncle and cousin, the Feeleys of Mount Prospect, plus Gary's brothers, Don and Billy.

When a younger sister visits an older sister at college, you can be sure of one thing. That weekend will definitely not be dull. To confirm this as fact, not fable, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hugg, 1007 N. Chicago. Carolyn, along with family friends, was Janet's guest at the State University of Iowa in Iowa City on March 7 and 8.

Greg Andrew, 941 N. Salem, had problems instead of fun recently. As he was all set for a swimming session at a local pool, Greg didn't have the opportunity to dunk his bathing suit. Instead, he wound up slipping on the floor of the locker room and banged his head in the fall. Some school days were missed as a result. Not one to be dismayed, though, Greg is looking forward to his next swimming trip. This time he hopes to land in the water.

FROM SHERWOOD

Mrs. Mary Colvin, 1319 Watling Road, has good reason to crow these days. Her son Stephen, has captured the leading role of "Mephistopheles" in the Washington and Lee University production of "Dr. Faustus."

Busy was the word for the Richard Bronwell household at 1117 Burgoyne this past week. March 9, Shirley entertained the Sherwood sewing group and on Thursday, three Arlington friends were her luncheon guests.

HIGHLIGHTING the entire week, however, was the Bronwells' 19th wedding anniversary. It was March 10, but the celebration took place on Saturday, when the Norman Johnsons and Bob Andersons arrived from Rockford. Also present were Mrs. Bronwell's brother and his wife, Warren and Mary Ellen Tapovatz of Janesville, Wis.

Among the Sherwood college students expected home this week to spend the Easter holidays with their families are:. Richard Olson, 1219 Watling Road, from University of Chicago; Alice Sue Vorhees of Elmhurst College, daughter of the Vance Vorhees; Bob Sauer, 1215 Watling, Dartmouth University.

Beth Wood is due in from the State University of Iowa on March 19, to be welcomed by her brother, Jim Wood Jr., who arrived from Southern Illinois University on March 14. Another expected arrival this week is Dave Wollerman, 1111 N. Patton Ave., from Culver-Stockton in Canton, Mo. (A

Herrick House

Sign Lease for New Child Care Center

Dependent and neglected children, temporarily housed at the Arthur J. Audy Home for Children while awaiting home placement by Family Court, no longer will have to associate with other children awaiting hearings on delinquency charges, Seymour Simon, president of the County Board, announced this week.

Assurance came with the signing on March 10 of a two-year lease, at $5 per year, by which Cook County acquired from the Chicago Community Trust a group of buildings, known as Herrick House, an unoccupied rehabilitation center near suburban Bartlett.

THESE dependent children, whose daily population average is 35, will be quartered in Herrick House as soon as certain repairs to the buildings are completed, President Simon explained. Occupancy is expected about June 1.

The lease, signed by President Simon following unanimous approval by the Cook County Board of Commissioners, provides that the county, if it so desires, can have the group of buildings and the 12 acres of land on which they stand as an outright gift at the end of the two years, but only if the county will purchase, for forest preserve use, the remaining 42 acres of surrounding woodlands that lie in Cook county and are likewise owned by the Trust.

Cost of the land, though not agreed upon, has been estimated at as high as $3,000 per acre.

THE CHILDREN, who range in ages from 6 to 16 and whose average stay is 30 days, will be transported to and from Family Court by bus as occasion demands, according to James M. Jordan, superintendent at the Audy Home. The Audy Home and Family Court occupy adjoining buildings at 2240 and 2246 W. Roosevelt Road, respectively, Chicago.

Herrick House will be manned with a staff of 24 and will be under the supervision of the Audy Home, it was further explained.

The County Board in its 1964 budget appropriated $109,000 for operation of Herrick House for an eight-months period. Cost of repairs has been estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000, of which the Community Trust will pay $20,000.

REPRESENTING the Community Trust at the signing of the lease were Charles E. Troughear, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, and Edward D. McDougal Jr., a member of the Trust's executive committee.

In addition to President Simon, county commissioners present were Ruby Ryan, chairman of the board's Audy Home committee; Charles S. Bonk, Lillian Piotrowski and Floyd T. Fulle. (A-14

Praises Family Court Budget

"The first substantial improvement in many years" was the appraisal by the Citizens Committee on the Family Court of the 1964 budget for the Family Court and the Audy Home approved by the Cook County Board of Commissioners.

The appraisal was contained in a progress report from the Citizens Committee which listed four major appropriations as contributing to the improvement in facilities and program of both the Family Court and the Audy Home.

THESE included:

1—A $109,000 appropriation for eight months' operation of Herrick House, which was established as a temporary care center for dependent and neglected children with occupancy expected about June 1.

2—An increase of approximately $92,000 in the budget for Audy Home, mostly for additional supervisory and diagnostic personnel.

3—An increase of approximately $442,000 in the Family Court budget which will make possible employment of 43 additional probation, administrative, diagnostic and clerical personnel.

4—Funds for rental of additional office space to relieve the overcrowded working conditions at the Family Court.

THE REPORT also noted two administrative changes which the Citizens Committee felt were forward steps. It mentioned the creation of the position of chief administrative officer with a salary sufficient to attract a highly qualified and experienced person.

The other improvement cited was the assignment of two associate judges to assist Judge Daniel J. McNamara on the Family Court bench.

"This is the first time in the history of the Court that more than one full-time judge has been assigned and is a great step forward," the report said. (A-14

Seeks BA Degree

Student in Appeal For Citizen Help

A 22-year-old Arlington Heights college student is seeking the aid of local residents in completion of a bachelor's degree in political science.

David J. Cordes, of 415 W. Miner St., is on the last leg of a documented bachelor's thesis consisting of an intensive study of the Republican primary election, particularly the contest for the GOP governor nomination between Charles H. Percy and William J. Scott.

"I NEED the help of people in completing and returning a 20-part questionnaire," the blond-haired University of Illinois senior explained to Paddock Publications.

"I hope some 200 residents receiving the questionnaire will conscientiously fill it out and return it as soon as possible before the April 14 primary. The questionnaire will be mailed this weekend.

"The questions are not intended to determine what the recipient knows, but rather what his opinions are."

CORDES SAID his goal is to get as close to 100 per cent response as possible.

The results will be combined with interviews of politicians and a study of voting trends, and will finally be incorporated in the written thesis.

Cordes and his wife, Beth, are members of the Wheeling Township Young Republican Club. They have lived in Arlington Heights for two years.

SAMPLE questions Cordes is asking are:

Do you consider yourself to be a Democrat, Republican or Independent?

Do you intend to vote in the primary election?

Who would you prefer as the Republican nominee for governor?

Do you think the federal government should institute a program of medical care for the aged?

After Cordes receives his bachelor's degree in political science in June, he plans on entering the University of Illinois medical school. (A-14

Editor Sues Over Salt On Streets

DODGEVILLE, WIS. (UPI) — John M. Miller, managing editor of the Dodgeville Chronicle, has started suit against the city, alleging his car was "injured" by salt put on the streets to aid in ice control.

Miller said salting the streets was in direct violation of a Wisconsin statute that makes it illegal for anyone to distribute foreign matter on highways that "would be injurious to a motor vehicle."

Miller also issued a complaint with the county concerning its salting operations, and the county board has asked him to get three estimates of damage done to his car by the salt.

BY LINDA NORRIS

WE'VE ENTERED a new year in the record industry and we can't help but hope it may be the year of a new era in good music (for a change) . . . The music the past few years has been on the upgrade with fewer Hound Dogs and more of the lush-type melodies so popular in yesteryear . . . But it can still be upgraded more and we hope to find this happen in the coming 12 months . . . As it is, 1963 brought many revivals of old hits, such as Maria Elena and There, I Said It Again and this should be an indication of good music ahead . . . Let's hope.

Not to be too fussy, we do have particular dreams we'd like to see come true in 1964 . . . Such as:

More albums by the Kingston Trio, by far the most talented and versatile group of young men in the business today . . . These boys really sing, not just play at it;

More albums, too, by zany Allan Sherman, alias the Celebrity, alias the Nut . . . Sherman's satires are highly original and particularly humorous, the type that can be heard over and over without wearing out the welcome;

Less stress on big names with no singing talent, such as Vince Edwards who makes a good Dr. Casey but a pretty miserable Como or Darin;

More albums aimed at the teen trade that are good rather than just the hackneyed rock 'n roll. How about a Hayley Mills album, for instance? And/or Patty Duke?

A long-overdue return to the record trade of pretty Joy Layne, former 15-year-old Mercury flash who is now 22, glamorous as all get out and singing better than ever in the night club circuit. Where are you record scouts?

This is really all we want for 1964. Is that asking for too much?

Spring Flower Show Planned

By BETTY ROGERS

It's a tedious traffic-tangled trip from Randhurst to McCormick Place, but if you made it to the Chicago Flower and Garden Show, I'm sure you will agree that it was worth the effort.

I had to admire the exhibits that converted McCormick Place into a land of enchantment. It is going to be hard to wait for the 2nd Annual Gladiolus Show scheduled for Randhurst. During the last few weeks, Randhurst has been adding hundreds of new and young plants throughout the mall, and by the first day of spring, the colors of Easter will bring added luster to Randhurst.

Two Randhurst stores had exhibits at the Flower Show at McCormick Place this year. The show was complemented by music from the Lyon & Healy exhibit, and when I visited it, Joe Gallagher of the Randhurst store was on duty.

Another hard worker at the show was Chuck Price from Craft Studios. He had two booths at the show, and each was a beehive of activity for the 9 days of the exhibition. Craft Studios introduced a new craft product at the show called "Whip Wax" that can be used to enhance the candles in your flower arrangements and table settings. If you missed it at the show, stop in the Craft Studio and ask Mr. Price to demonstrate it for you. It's fantastic!

Today at Randhurst there will be a beautiful spring setting that will rival even some of the Flower Show gardens. Randy, the Randhurst Rabbit, will be on the main mall and greet the small fry at his French Palace Gardens. All of the children will receive an entry for the Easter coloring contest from Randy. Entry blanks are also available at the stores and shops. The winners in the contest will be three lucky girls and three boys. Prizes for the contest are six bikes. All children under the age of 12 are eligible to enter.

Pierre, the jolly French photographer will take pictures of children upon request. Be sure the children see the magic wishing well, the flower wagon, and the pond with baby ducks swimming about.

On Saturday, March 21 at 12:30 p. m. and 2:30 p. m., Randhurst will present two complete fashion shows. Fifty models will promenade upon three stages set up on the courts of Randhurst.

If you wish to relax and enjoy the show during your lunch hour or coffee break, reserve a table for you and your friends up at Carson's Restaurant located directly under the magnificent dome and watch spring fashions flow by. We hope the fashion show will stimulate your interest and participation in the Randhurst Easter Family Fashion Parade scheduled for 2 p. m. Easter Sunday. Hundreds of dollars of prizes will be awarded to the best-dressed boy, girl, man, and woman, and a family group. Full details and entry forms are available at all of the stores.

So many times on an Easter Sunday the weather is not what it should be for strolling about in lovely new clothes. The Easter Parade won't have to worry about weather at Randhurst! The little girls will be able to wear their new shiny shoes. The little boys can show off how well they look all dressed up, and Moms and Dads can beam with pride.

Able Electric piled up their highest score of the season with a 46-17 win over the 45th, to end the regular schedule with 13 wins and one loss.

The Greens, who came in second only one game behind the leaders, edged out the Rockets 30-27.

In other games the Netters beat the Old Men 29-19, and the Brewers downed the Waterman Pops 45-28.

With the season completed, the teams in both the Wednesday and Thursday night leagues will compete against each other in a single elimination tournament. The tournament will be comprised of two divisions, with the top four teams of each league in division one and the other teams in division two.

Twilight Golf League Preps For 24th Year

The Mount Prospect Twilight Golf League begins its 24th year of play this year April 27-28 and won't end the season until the last week of August.

Members of the league received cards this week. Cards are to be returned to Stan Deming and Rudy Recher, membership chairmen, so teams and playing schedules can be worked out, according to the league.

With its permanent home now at Mount Prospect Country Club the league has grown over the years from a band of a few neighbors to an organization that includes 120 regular members and 45 alternates, calling for play in two sections on two different evenings.

Park Sinclair, Pro Sport Tied

Arlington Park Sinclair and Pro Sport ended the regular season tied for first place in the Arlington Heights Park District Classic basketball league.

Sinclair got a surprise in its game with the 45th Artillery, as they found themselves trailing 38-30 at halftime. The second half was a different story with Sinclair outscoring the 45th, 43-19, for a final tally of 73-57.

Pro Sport had a tough contest with the Arlington Oilers, trailing the latter through most of the game. Although handicapped without their big scorer, Dick Brubaker, Pro Sport managed to salvage a shaky 53-49 win over the Oilers. Jim Summers led both teams in scoring with 21 counters.

With the standings all tied up between Arlington Park Sinclair and Pro Sport, a play-off game for the championship will be played on Monday, March 23 at Arlington High School girls gym beginning at 8 p.m.

Parent-Teacher News

OLIVE SCHOOL

It was strictly "teacher's night" at the March 3 PTA meeting in Olive School, when the entire teaching staff presented a hilarious skit depicting school activities and a "model kindergarten."

The entire production was written and directed by Miss Marcia Bambenek, the school's kindergarten teacher. Scenes included "The Daze of a Principal," "Open House," "A Ski Trip," "The Kindergarten" and a finale on "Apathy."

Olive School PTA is planning an all-cartoon movie for Saturday, to be held in the multipurpose room. Nine color cartoons include Woody Woodpecker, Little Lulu, Bugs Bunny, Timid Pup, Noveltoon, Little Sniffles and Daffy Duck.

Popcorn will be available during both shows, the first beginning at 10 a.m. and lasting until about noon. The afternoon show starts at 1 p.m. and ends at 3 p.m.

KENSINGTON

Using the topic, "The Mental Health Approach to Sex Education," Miss Mary McCarthy of the Northwest Mental Health Clinic of Arlington Heights addressed the March 17 meeting of Kensington PTA.

The program was followed by "buzz sessions" led by fathers of the students.

MINER JUNIOR HIGH

The language, art and social studies departments of Miner Junior High School will be highlighted at the next PTA meeting, March 24 at 8:15 p.m. Slides of students taken during classes in these departments is planned, in addition to the election of new PTA officers.

Parents are invited to remain for refreshments at the close of the meeting, announces Mrs. Harry Bierma Jr., press chairman. (A

PROVIDING UNIQUE HUMOR for Olive School's recent PTA program, teachers staged an original skit on a "model kindergarten." Among them were Mrs. Velma Mertens and Misses Judy Bertch, Mary Kay Fallon and Marcia Bambenek.

Work Begins on 99-Home Project

A $3 million development designed for 99 homes is now under construction in Arlington Heights at Cedar Glen and Algonquin Road. Bee-Gee Builders, 5420 N. Harlem Avenue, Chicago, has broken ground for five model homes which will be ready for showing by May 1.

The models will be a three and four-bedroom bi-level, a high ranch, ranch and colonial. Features in all homes include two-car garage with concrete driveway, finished recreation room with fireplace, and a housewife's fully equipped 'dream' kitchen with dish washer, garbage disposal and cabinet kitchens with built-in oven and range with vent-a-hood.

ARLINGTON Heights is the second step in a four-point $11 million building program being undertaken by Bee-Gee Builders. The firm already has built and sold 60 homes of a 90-home development in Des Plaines at Oakton Street one-half block west of Mount Prospect Road.

Future developments in addition to Arlington Heights will include two sites in Palatine; one of 65 homes at a cost of $2 million and another of 95 homes totaling $3 million. (A

Eastwood Events

Mr. and Mrs. George Brinke of 507 N. Lincoln Lane are receiving congratulations this week on the birth of their first grandchild. A little girl was born to the former Joanne Brinke and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Randlle of 517 E. Algonquin Road, last Tuesday, March 10. The baby, who is named Stacey Jo, was born in Northwest Community Hospital.

The 16th birthday of David Manchee on March 10 wasn't celebrated with a party, but for David with something much more important. At 7:30 in the morning he was applying for his driver's license, and receiving it was the best present of all. David's parents are the Kenneth Manchees of 641 N. Beverly Lane.

Visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brinckmann at 210 N. Dryden is Mrs. Brinckmann's mother, Mrs. Amy Hawkins, who is here for several weeks from her home in Taylorsville, Ill.

THE OSCAR Johnson's son, Bob, of Beverly Lane, is now a member of Uncle Sam's Navy. Stationed at Great Lakes, Bob will be home on April 4 for his first 12-hour pass.

Michael Nitch of 813 N. Hickory Ave. was the blue ribbon winner of the Pinewood Derby held at St. James School last Friday night. Other neighborhood boys — John Lilly, Glenn Larson and Matt Cockrell — received awards for their entries. It's hard to say who was more excited, the boys or their dads who helped them with their cars.

Mrs. Glenn Larson and Mrs. Herle Seicks were among the 42 ladies of the Homemakers of Cook County who visited the flower show last week. The group boarded a bus at the Arlington Market and spent the entire day at McCormick Place. Among all the lovely exhibitions they saw, they were particularly impressed with the one displayed by Charles Klehm and Son, local nurseryman.

The mild, almost summerlike weather has brought summertime excursions to mind, and the Jack Anderson family decided to take advantage of Sunday's sunny skies for a jaunt to the Museum of Science and Industry.

THE STEVEN Bartolones of N. Hickory Avenue and friends, Frank and Jana Lynn Davenport of Windsor Drive, attended the St. James party Saturday night at Randhurst. They were part of the large group paying homage to St. Patrick a few days early.

The Bartolones' youngest child, Julie, is recovering from a siege of asthmatic bronchitis.

Distinguish between AWARE and CONSCIOUS. We are AWARE of what goes on about us, and we are CONSCIOUS of what we perceive or feel within ourselves. One may be CONSCIOUS of fear, but not altogether AWARE of the dangers about one.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Competing in the State Music Festival finals at Waukegan last weekend was Ken Petrucci, son of the Bill Petruccis, 1115 N. Wilke. Ken, a senior at Arlington High School, won a superior rating for his tenor solo, "Oh, God, Have Mercy" by Mendelssohn; he was awarded a blue ribbon. The Revelairs, an octet of which Ken is a member, were awarded an excellent rating for their presentation; they won a red ribbon.

Ken is now working on his part in "The Music Man" which will be presented at Arlington High in April.

A baby shower was given for Joan McInnis, 1321 N. Wilke, on Sunday by her aunt, Elsie Kopke in Park Ridge. Fifteen relatives, including aunts and cousins of Joan, were present at the shower.

Celebrating his 10th birthday March 12 was Robert Husted, son of the Robert Husteds, 1610 W. Olive. He was honored at a dinner Friday night attended by his parents, his sister, Deborah, and brother, John, and his friend, Michael Wiley. Michael was also an overnight guest. The boys attended a movie on Saturday as a birthday treat.

PAUL AND Jimmy Platte attended the Shrine Circus at the Medinah Temple in Chicago on Friday. They were accompanied by their mother, Kay, and their grandmother, Mrs. Charles Platte of Chicago. The Plattes reside at 1318 N. Race.

Both Michael and Russell Brown celebrated birthdays during the past week. Michael was 6 March 11 and Russell was 1 March 16. The boys are the sons of the Larry Browns, 1408 N. Yale. To celebrate his birthday, Mike had a party on Saturday for Mark and K. C. Moser, Carol Jean Randle and Julie and Cindy Lollar.

Saturday night the boys' grandmother came for dinner, and Russell's first birthday was celebrated. Russell's parents, his brothers, Mike and Ken, and his grandmother, Mrs. R. C. Ferguson of Highland Park attended his party.

Angela Piscopo, 1325 N. Race, was both a committee member and a model in the sixth annual fashion show presented by the Ladies Auxiliary of Father Breen Council at the Chateau Royale in Chicago on March 10. As a committee member, Angela was chair lady of the 12 hostesses. As a model, she was a bridesmaid in the bridal section of the fashion show.

The Terrace extends sympathy to the Warren Blackburns, 1326 N. Race, on the death of Joan's father, Mr. Emil Kraft, on March 9. Mr. Kraft resided in Lansing, Mich.

SUNDAY guests of Hugh and Phyllis Bredenbeck, 1706 W. Oakton, were California residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drews; from Springfield, Va., the Carl Drews family; and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Roberts of Chicago. They all resided in California at one time. Now they enjoy an occasional reunion. The Drews families were overnight guests of the Bredenbecks.

Visiting in Edwardsville last weekend were Dominick and Mary Massa and son, Kenneth, 1710 W. Olive. They visited the Charles Massas there. On Sunday, Dom was confirmation sponsor for his nephew, Richard.

Mike Maybee, 11 March 16, celebrated his birthday at a family party Sunday. Attending were his grandparents, the R. F. Kreuschers of Kenosha and the C. Johnsons of Waukegan, his parents and his sisters and brother, Debra, Kathleen and Timothy. The Maybees reside at 1251 N. Wilke.

Honored at a Saturday party was Larry Van de Merkt, son of the Eugene Van de Merkts, 1231 N. Wilke. He was 7 March 12. Attending the party were Jeff Gibson, Kenny and Kevin Francis, Rick McCabe, George Wilmot, Gary Crowe and Larry's brother, John.

Barbara Wiederhold, 1322 N. Chicago, was honored at a baby shower Saturday in Chicago. Hostess was her aunt, Mrs. Walter Alenander Founteen relatives and friends from the Chicago area attended the shower.

Phil and Lee Pods and daughters, Susan and Trudi, 1208 N. Race, visited Lee's mother and step-father in Detroit last weekend.

WEEKEND GUESTS of Les and Jo Rozdalovsky, 1321 N. Race, were Jo's parents, the Joseph La Prestis, and her brother and family, the Ned La Prestis, all of Milwaukee. Jo's birthday was last week, and she had her whole family with her over the weekend to celebrate. The Joseph La Prestis will spend the remainder of the week with their daughter and family.

Two Terrace couples enjoyed dinner followed by a play at Old Orchard last weekend. The Richard Kirsteins, 1310 Jo Lane, and the Joe Singers, 1402 N. Illinois, viewed "Under the Yum Yum Tree" at Old Orchard.

Saturday guests of Dan and Sally Duda, 1337 N. Wilke, were Dan's parents, the Joseph Dudas of Chicago. It was their first visit in their son's new home.

Robert Steele, son of the Harold Steeles, 1722 W. Oakton, celebrated his 13th birthday on March 14. Sunday night Robert was honored at a party attended by his parents and several friends. He is looking forward to the coming visit of his grandmother and aunt, Mrs. Georgia Gentry of Clarkston, Mich., and Audrey Jenkins of Lansing. They plan to spend some time with the Steeles the end of this week.

Sally Davis, 1266 N. Chicago, enjoyed the four-day visit of her friend, Angela Stokes of Livonia, Mich. The two women spent four busy days viewing places of importance in Chicago: they attended Don McNeil's Breakfast Club, where Angela appeared reading a poem which she had written; toured the Merchandise Mart; had dinner at the Top of the Rock; and spent an evening eating at Old Orchard and seeing a movie later in the evening. Angela flew back to Detroit Thursday to join her family who also had visited the Davises the past weekend.

Once again this reporter has received calls from Terrace residents who are disturbed by the numbers of dogs and cats running loose in the area. Dog and cat owners should refer to the village ordinance on pets.

Arlington Greens

Arlington Greens Round Robin Bridge games for March were completed Friday evening. Hosting for the month were the John Cowards, Don Helblings, Ken Jahnkes, Tony Tomassos, Howard Schicks, Bob McLeans and the Ron Lundells. Top three scores are: Mr. and Mrs. Lester Oliver, 22,540; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Williams, 20,760; and the Gary Waffles, 20,560.

A flight home on March 7 ended a five-week trip to the San Diego area for John Van Diggelen of N. Hickory. He accompanied the Ralph Petersens, formerly of Des Plaines, who were moving to the coast. His first trip to California, John was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Don Engelskuchen of San Diego who joined him on fishing and boating excursions, sightseeing in the area and nearby Tia Juana, Mexico.

MR. AND Mrs. John Heyer of E. Clarendon began their recent vacation to the Virgin Islands on Feb. 21, with a flight to San Juan, Puerto Rico, and then on to St. Thomas, where they were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Moran. Their two-week stay seemd all too short, as they enjoyed tours of nearby islands: St. Croix with its annual historical tour of the area, St. John and the popular Trunk Bay, the British Virgin Gorda Island and sailing in Little Dix Bay. A tour of old San Juan was one of the "musts" before their flights north and home.

Mr. Heyer arrived home Sunday, but his spouse went on to New York City for a visit with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hormel and a tourist friend from Jamaica, Mrs. B. Robinson. Touring the United Nations Building and sightseeing ended the holiday for Mrs. Heyer. She arrived home Tuesday. Accompanying the Heyers on their trip to the Islands were Mr. and Mrs. John Edman of Glencoe.

Button Phone Dialing Coming This Summer

Arlington Heights' telephone users will be among the first in the state to have new Touch-Tone calling, described as one of the most significant improvements in telephone technology since the dial.

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. Manager G. W. Kaucher said this new way of calling in which buttons are used instead of a dial will be available this summer to Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights residents.

"Touch-Tone — faster, easier and more convenient — will be offered on an optional basis at a moderate monthly charge," Kaucher said.

A 10-button keyboard carrying the same number-letter combination found on the conventional dial, replaces the familiar dial wheel. Customers no longer will wait to wind up the dial for each digit then wait for it to spin back. They will be able to tap out the number twice as fast as they now dial it.

"TOUCH-TONE is not an 'overnight' project," Kaucher said. "In addition to a complete line of new phones it requires major modifications in some 550 central offices in individual communities. It signals one of the bggest changes in telephoning since the beginning of the Roaring Twenties when the conversion to dial began."

In May, Naperville will be the first Illinois community to get Touch-Tone.

By fall, the service will be available in a number of Chicago and Evanston prefixes. Touch-Tone will also be introduced in Hinsdale, Willowbrook, Burr Ridge, Clarendon Hills, Oak Brook, Waukegan, North Chicago, Wadsworth, Gurnee, Great Lakes, Morton Grove, Elk Grove, Lake Forest, and Lake Bluff.

Proposed rates, filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission to be effective March 23, call for a one-time $5 installation charge on residence phones. There will be a monthly charge of $1.50 for each main line, regardless of the number of extensions associated with that line.

Business rates vary depending on types of service. The sleek Touch-Tone will come in a range of colors and styles; including a smaller wall set than the models now in use with dials.

TOUCH-TONE has a "new guage." Special converters and receivers are being installed in telephone central offices to translate the tones from the new telephone sets into language that present switching equipment can understand.

As each button is pressed, two simultaneous musical tones (called oscillations by technicians) are flashed to the central office. The tones, which can be heard on the receiver, are similar to the ones that can be heard now when making long distance calls in some areas.

Touch-Tone is not new to northern Illinois. It was in Elgin that the pushbutton phones were tested back in 1958. After that test the phones were returned to Bell Telephone Laboratories for study and redesigning), 98 per cent of the 110 Elgin customers using Touch-Tone said they preferred it to the present dial system "because of the speed and convenience of calling." (Bob Frisk and Tom Tully of Paddock Publications' sports staff, who conduct weekly columns in the chain of suburban newspapers. present a combined column this week previewing the 57th Illinois State High School basketball tournament.)

After last year's miscalculations you would think that a couple of guys named Frisk and Tully would be looking for manhole covers to pull over their heads this week.

If you will recall, Frisk decided that an elderly chap named Jasper Robinson would tote the big trophy back to Rockford Auburn while Carver tripped over its bridesmaid gown for the second year in a row. Tully allowed that the Assembly Hall was a mighty big place, but not large enough to keep Centralia from running Carver out of it. For the record, Carver edged Centralia for the title.

But unabashed by the past, and armed with 1964 model crystal balls, we return again, confident that this year there is no room for error. So here is a look at the 'Elite Eight' and what will happen to them:

EVANSTON VS. DECATUR
1:15 P.M. FRIDAY

Evanston is one of the surprises of the state tournament. A member of the coveted "Elite Eight," Jack Burmaster's club was fourth-seeded in regional play.

Even that regional victory didn't add many supporters to the Evanston camp. The Wildkits were lightly regarded in the sectional, but they won again in a thriller over Waukegan.

Crane Tech, Chicago Public League titlist and third-ranked club in the state, was favored to topple the 'Kits Tuesday. Crane is on the outside looking in today.

Burmaster, Illinois basketball captain in 1948, is equipped with several talented performers, and he's been a master at juggling his personnel throughout tourney action. Evanston has been plagued by a rash of illness, but the bench strength has taken up the slack.

Hero in the victories over Waukegan and Crane Tech was Arnie Moschin, a 6-foot senior forward, but Burmaster also works with such stickouts as Ken Wideman (6-0), Rommie Taylor (5-9), Bob Reece (6-1), and Bob Bost (6-2).

Wideman is averaging 18 ppg, and he teams with Taylor to give Burmaster a quick set of backcourt operators. Rommie was an All-State football halfback.

The Wildkits are 18-7, and they've won nine of their last ten.

Decatur's high-flying Reds, a virtual regular in state tourney ranks, will bring a 27-game winning streak and nifty 31-1 record into action against Evanston.

Decatur has cracked the "Sweet Sixteen" 20 times and took the top prize just two years ago with a last-second victory over favored Carver.

Balance dictates the Decatur attack with vet Jack Sunderlik (6-1) on top with a modest 14.6 ppg. Charlie Currie (6-1) is next in line with a 12.7 average, and he's a remarkable rebounder. Dave Scholz, a 6-foat-5 center, also is averaging in double figures.

Working in the backcourt for Decatur are George "Butch" Smith (5-7), an All-State football halfback, and Bobby Warnsley (5-9).

Decatur hasn't had a severe test in several weeks, but the Reds should get one Friday in the bout with Evanston.

Frisk: Evanston has been pulling them out in the closing seconds, and the 'Kits have one shocker left. The Wildkits advance, 60-52.

Tully: Evanston's Arnie Moschin develops a hole in his "pocketful of miracles." Big Red a winner, 66-60.

COBDEN VS. GALESBURG
2:45 FRIDAY

It took a quick shuffle of school board members and three overtimes to do it, but by golly, the Appleknockers made it.

Cobden, smallest school to reach the quarterfinals since Hebron won the whole show in 1952 (is that an omen), will finally get a chance to show off its young giants at Champaign.

Last year a school board vote shelved one of the Appleknockers who decided to get married, and classy McLeansboro team got rid of the rest of them in the sectiosal.

This year there are some new school board members, Ken Flick is back on the team, and Cobden has slain 30 of 32 opponents. The main reason the Appleknockers are so tough is that the school has defied the law of averages by producing four boys 6-5 and 6-6 from an enrollment of 142.

Perhaps the reason Flick (6-5) got married was because he was lonesome. The rest of the team is made up of Chuck Neal (6-6) and his brother Jim (6-5) and Ken Smith (6-5) and his cousin Jim (6-0).

Chuck Neal, a little all-state selection, is the leading scorer with an 18 point average and Flick paces the crew in rebounding.

The Appleknockers will have to be on top of their game tomorrow afternoon. They are matched with cagey John Thiel and his talented Galesburg Silver Streaks. John says this is one of his best editions and that means the Streaks are as good as their 24-3 record would indicate.

Thiel's club is both young and experienced. It started getting that way in mid-season last year when John told his seniors goodbye and went with his sophomores. The latter proved to be a bumper crop, reaching the super-sectional before being jolted by Springfield Lamphier. They corrected that Tuesday night in a return match.

Follow 'Super' Action on UPI Wire

At first glance, Galesburg does not appear to be tall. There will be no 6-5er's to match Cobden in the starting lineup. But four of the starters are between 6-2 and 6-3 and all hit the boards. Moreover, Thiel can call on Mike McCreight (6-5) and Larry Doyle (6-4) from the bench.

Perhaps the Streaks' most valuable asset is balance. All-State Mike Davis averages 17, Marv Harris, 16, Rick Callahan 14 and Frank Dexter, 13.

Tully: I'm afraid that Cobden wil find that Galesburg and particularly Thiel have made too many previous trips to the well. I like the Streaks, 72-61.

Frisk: The Appleknockers get knocked by the streaking Streaks, 68-60.

CENTRALIA VS. ALLEMAN
7:30 FRIDAY

Centralia is back and determined to make up for the heartbreaking loss to Carver in the title tussle last winter. The Orphans just may have the horses to go all the way.

Coach Bob Jones has a big front line keyed around the work of All-Stater Cliff Berger (6-8), a flop at the state tournament in 1963 who has drawn raves this season. Cliff's shooting .600 from the floor and averaging around 26 points for each outing.

Berger is the only regular back from that '63 powerhouse, but Jones found solid replacements in Merrit Pulley (6-4), Dave Rapp (6-3), Mel Stalls (5-10), and Eldo Garrett (6-0). This classy quintet is averaging 75 points per game.

Centralia's only loss was to Belleville (51-46) in holiday tourney play, but the Orphans avenged that later in the season.

"Last year we were a classy looking team with good individuals and a lot of flash," Jones points out. "This team is more down to earth. They're good workhorses and tough competitors.

Berger is the key man. And the Orphan guards hit him more often with passes. Last year Centralia lived or died with long-shooting guards. They died against Carver.

The state tourney is a new experience for Rock Island Alleman. Actually, winning a regional was a new experience for the Pioneers.

Prior to this season, Alleman had never moved past the regional semi-finals in 14 years of hardwood competition. They're red-hot right now.

Included in a streak of seven-straight wins are decisions over such touted clubs as East Moline, Rock Island, Galva, and Rockford Auburn in Illinois and Muscatine, Iowa's top-ranked quintet.

Lombard Team Faces Pekin

Kerzan Paces Winners Into Quarterfinals

AURORA, ILL., (UPI) — Four consecutive field goals in the closing three minutes of the third period put Glenbard East of Lombard on the road to a 42-37 Super-Sectional prep tourney triumph over Bradley Tuesday evening.

With the victory Glenbard's Rams advanced to the "Elite Eight" of Illinois schoolboy basketball. They will hook up with highly regarded Pekin Friday evening at nine o'clock.

The Rams trailed 12-7 at the end of the opening period Tuesday, but came back in the next stanza to tie the score at 19-all at the intermission.

TRAILING AGAIN, 27-22, in the third period, Glenbard's 8-point flurry turned the tide and the Rams were never headed again.

John Kerzan paced the Glenbard offensive with 17 points. High-scoring Tim Weiss, averaging 18 points a game, was blanked for the evening.

Pekin, the Rams' opponent in state firing Friday, fought back from a slow start and bumped tall Streator, 61-46.

THE CHINKS trailed 12-3 after one period, but caught fire finally with All-Stater Jim Sommer leading the charge.

By mid-game Pekin trailed by only one point and with 7:50 letf in the third period, a driving shot by Sommer put the Chinks ahead for good, 22-21.

Evanston Cops 55-53 Thriller

Moschin Goal in Second Overtime Sinks Crane

EVANSTON, ILL., (UPI) — A last second basket by Arnie Moschin gave upstart Evanston a 55-53 double overtime victory over Chicago Crane Tech here Tuesday in the first round of the state final prep basketball tournament.

Moschin, hero of the Wildkits' 71-70 conquest of Waukegan in the Arlington Sectional championship game with six free throws in the last 46 seconds, fired from 20 feet away with one second on the clock.

Evanston controlled the ball throughout the second overtime period, playing for a final shot.

Moschin made only two baskets in the game. One tied the contest at the end of the first overtime period and the second won it.

EVANSTON seized an early lead only to see the Chicago Public League champions tie the game in the final minutes of the fourth period. The game was tied at 47-all at the end of regulation play.

In the first overtime, big Gene Ford, an All-Stater this winter, gave Crane a two-point lead with a rebound. Evanston's Bob Reece tied it up moments later.

Dan Davis and Ford again scored for the Cougars, but Reece and Moschin tallied to knot the game at 53-all at the end of the first overtime period.

Evanston then controlled the basketball, and Moschin drilled from 20 feet away with one second remaining. It went right through.

KEN WIDEMAN was red-hot at the outset of the game in pacing the Wildkits to a 25-13 first period lead, and the slender standout had 14 markers at the intermission with the 'Kits on top, 33-26.

Wideman finished with 22 for the winners. Ford paced all scorers with 27 points.

Evanston's last trip to Champaign-Urbana for the state tournament also was earned with a victory over Crane Tech. The Wildkits whipped Crane, 67-60, in 1957 to crack the elite group.

Crane finished the season with a 23-2 record.

All-Area Five Out Next Week

Paddock Publications will present its second annual all-star basketball team next week.

Selected by Paddock's sports staff, the all-area team is restricted to the nine schools covered in the chain of suburban newspapers.

Schools with players eligible for the all-star team are Arlington, Forest View, Prospect, St. Viator, Palatine, Glenbard West, Fenton, Lake Park, and Willowbrook.

Paddock's all-area squad adheres strictly to proper positions with two forwards, one center, and two guards.

A special page on the all-stars will be presented with pictures and sketches of each player.

Willowbrook Gymnasts Head State Finals; Cards Fourth

Willowbrook stands alone today on the top rung of the state gymnastics ladder.

Vic Lesch's powerful Warriors, performing before the home folks, grabbed the top prize Saturday in the Illinois High School Association Championships.

In a photo finish Willowbrook collected 56½ markers for a two and one-half point margin over runnerup Niles East. Defending champ Evanston was a close third with 53.

Arlington (32) and Proviso East (31) rounded out the top five schools in the 1964 finals.

THE LEAD CHANGED hands three times in the hectic windup before Willowbrook emerged with first place.

Going into the final event, tumbling, defending champ Evanston held a 53-49½ lead over the host Warriors. Niles East was third with 36.

Evanston didn't boast any tumbling entries, but both Willowbrook and Niles were equipped with possible point-getters.

Willowbrook's Jerry Bonney offset an 18-point surge by Niles East when he turned in a nifty 159 routine for fourth place in the pressure-packed event.

BONNEY, WHO had some trouble earning a slot in the finals, was judged at 80, 82, 79, and 77 by the four officials, and Willowbrook had the coveted team championship.

Niles East slipped past Evanston into second place thanks to that 18-point effort in tumbling.

Willowbrook scored in five events en route to the team title with versatile Neil Schmitt the individual leader. Schmitt wrapped up the all-around crown and posted an impressive first on the high bar.

'Y' Girls Claim Two Trophies in District Finals

Roger Tobin's girls swimming team of the Northwest Suburban YMCA broke three records and gained two second place trophies in the District I championship meet last Saturday at Proviso West High School.

Kathy Rowe of Arlington Heights, swimming in the Prep Division, broke the 50 yard butterfly mark with a clocking of :32.5, took second place in the 100 yard individual medley, and worked a leg on the record-breaking medley relay squad.

Kathy teamed with Elizabeth Tobin of Des Plaines, Connie Foster of Mount Prospect, and Patti Wollerman of Arlington Heights in the medley relay.

ELIZABETH TOBIN took a first in the breaststroke in the Prep Division.

In the Cadet Division the Northwest 'Y' had its strongest showing from the medley team of Jan Lesniak (Prospect Heights), Sandy Gabler and Kathy Narup (Arlington), and Susie Hale (Mount Prospect). These gals placed second.

Breaking the Juniors medley relay record by two seconds was the unit of Jeanne Pollard and Jill Olson (Mount Prospect), Andee Farmer (Des Plaines), and Mickey Hibbs (Palatine). Andee Farmer took second in the 50 yard backstroke.

In Midget competition Mary Ellen Geisler of Prospect Heights placed second in the 50 yard freestyle.

The top four places in each event will advance to the Illinois Area (State) Meet sponsored by the Northwest YMCA on April 11 at Glenbrook North High School.

GARY HOLVECK, a junior at Arlington High School, captured the trampoline title Saturday in the state gymnastics meet at Willowbrook. Holveck had finished second in the schoolboy finals as a sophomore.

Daletski Grid Boss, Owens Cage Head at Wheeling High

Head coaching positions in eight of the ten sports have been filled for the new Wheeling High School, it was announced officially this week.

Assignments have not been made in swimming or cross country.

Only two of the Wheeling head coaches are from outside District 214.

ART KRAFT

MIKE OWENS

Mike Owens, who will head the Wildcats' basketball program, is at Limestone Community High School in Peoria, and Art Kraft, the wrestling coach, is on the staff at Fenton in Bensenville.

THE VARSITY football team at Wheeling will be directed by Bill Daletski, a member of Arlington High School's staff.

Other head coaches at Wheeling will be Wayne Selvig (gymnastics), Jim Hoffman (track), Ted Ecker (tennis), Steve Chernicky (baseball), and John Berry (golf).

Owens and Kraft, the two newcomers to District 214, have impressive backgrounds both as competitors and coaches.

Owens is a product of Galesburg High School and Bradley University. He played guard on the Galesburg powerhouse that was ranked second in the state before falling to Rockford West in sudden death in sectional action. Rockford went on to win the state championship.

AT BRADLEY Owens was a stickout for three years, starting on a veteran squad as a sophomore and teaming with Bobby Joe Mason to give the Braves their finest backcourt combo in history.

Owens captained Bradley's National Invitational Tournament champs as a senior. He paced the Missouri Valley Conference in shooting percentage for two years.

Owens, who also took a fling at professional baseball, guided Limestone, normally a push-over in the league, to the Mid-State Eight title last winter.

KRAFT, THE NEW Wheeling wrestling coach, is the oldest of three wrestling brothers. Ken Kraft is the varsity coach at Northwestern, and Don Kraft, a senior at Sterling High School, was runnerup in the state mat tourney at heavyweight.

Art Kraft also attended Sterling High School, earning a state berth, but never reaching the finals. It was at Northwestern that he made his name in wrestling, copping an NCAA championship as a senior after placing as a junior. Kraft was never pinned in college.

He served at Niles East for two years before joining the Fenton staff.

DALETSKI, Wheeling's head football coach, has been on the Arlington High staff for five years, four as a successful frosh-soph grid coach.

Bill guided the young Cardinals to a share of the West Suburban Conference championship last fall and in four seasons saw his squads lose only eight games.

Daletski attended Holy Trinity High School in Chicago and played football and basketball, earning most valuable honors as an end on the gridiron eleven. He made the Catholic league all-star team in basketball.

AT ST. BENEDICT'S College in Atchison, Kans., Daletski was an all-conference performer for four straight years. He was an All-Catholic All-American as a sophomore and a Little All-American as a junior.

Daletski captained the St. Benedict's team as a senior although slowed down by injuries.

As a sophomore, the new Wheeling head man ranked 10th in the nation in pass receiving. He was 11th as a junior in the NAIA statistics.

Daletski's coaching experience before coming to Arlington was at St. Patrick High School in Fremont, Neb., where he was varsity head in football and basketball.

STEVE CHERNICKY, the Wheeling baseball coach, is on the Arlington High staff where he has served as both a football and track assistant. Chernicky is a graduate of Purdue University and played both football and baseball in the Big Ten.

Wayne Selvig takes over the gymnastics reins at Wheeling after serving as frosh-soph coach under Tom Walthouse at Arlington. A grad of Northern Illinois University, Selvig guided Arlington's frosh-soph gymnasts to an unbeaten season in 1963-64 and the West Suburban Conference championship.

Jim Hoffman is no stranger to Distirct 214. Jim is an Arlington High product, graduating in 1957, and has coached in the system for two years. He was the head track coach at North Cobb High School in Georgia and guided the school to third place in the state meet in its first year of the sport.

TED ECKER, a grad of Moline High School and North Park College, is more familiar in the area for his basketball background although he will be in charge of the Wheeling tennis program.

Ecker coached Arlington's unbeaten frosh basketball team during the past season.

John Berry, currently on the teaching staff at Forest View, will take over the Wheeling golf program with Grant Ahlberg, also at Forest View, serving as trainer.

John Anderson will head the intramural program.

FV Frosh Five Nip Palatine

Forest View's freshmen "A" cagers took the consolation championship for the second straight time in the Barrington tournament last week by nipping Palatine 33-32.

The Falcons captured an 11-6 lead in the first period but then slipped slightly in the second to hold a slim two-point margin (19-17) at the half.

Coach Ray Maylor's charges then regrouped to outpoint the Pirates 8-4 in the third frame but slipped again in the final period to be outrun 11-6 and almost drop the victory.

Leading the Falcon attack were Ford, Lambert and Brasch, all with nine points, while Sullivan led the Bucs with 14.

The night before the consolation final, the Falcons earned their berth with a 66-40 romp over Dundee-Lakewood. Lambert, with 16, and Ford, with 15, led Falcon scoring, while Dundee's Dunlap led game scoring with 21.

St. Paul Lutheran Wins Title

The Wednesday night YMCA Basketball League has finished another successful season.

The St. Paul Lutheran Men's Team of Mt. Prospect finished on top with eight wins and no losses. With quick guards leading a fast break offense and tall men clearing the boards, the team averaged 57 points per game.

The aggressive team's leading scorer was Lori Frank of Des Plaines, who averaged 18 points per game; and the top rebounder was Chris Rau of Park Ridge. The other team members are teachers at St. Paul Lutheran School in Mount Prospect. They are Coach, Ron Brandt; Dave Bray, Marty Hasz, Gayle Manthei, Bill Richardt and Jerry Simmons (coach).

The teams were sponsored by George L. Busse Realtors, Meeske's Food Market, Mount Prospect State Bank and Wille Lumber Co.

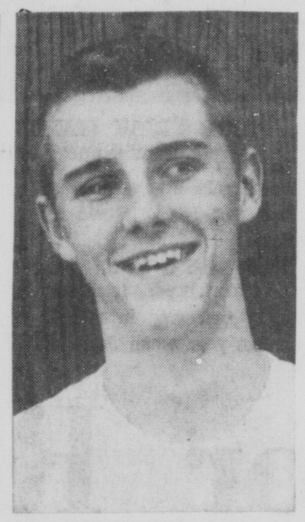
Mueller, Dunnigan Lead Forest View In Season Scoring

Senior Joe Mueller and sophomore Pat Dunnigan have made their marks on Forest View basketball this season by accounting for nearly half of the Falcons' scoring.

Together, the two have tallied 517 of the 1,073 team points, with Mueller leading the parade with 285 and Dunnigan second with 232.

For Mueller, though, the year concluded with a new record, ending his high school days with the Forest View career scoring record neatly stowed in his pocket.

JOE MUELLER



PAT DUNNIGAN

Mueller, who holds 10 of the 13 marks in Forest View's two-year history, established the scoring record at 682 after dialing 397 markers the previous season, which, incidentally, is another school record for the most points in a single season.

Other records established by Mueller (all set in 1962-63 season) include the following: most points, game (31 against West Leyden); most free throws, season (121), best field goal percentage, season (.436); most field goals made, season (138); most free throw attempts, game (24, Deerfield); most free throws, game (19, Deerfield); most field goals, game (11, Glenbrook North); and most free throw attempts, season (194).

IN OFFICIAL figures released this week, it was also revealed that Dunnigan set one school record after sinking 70.8 per cent of his free throw attempts this year to establish the best percentage from the line for a season.

The other two records are held by senior Rick Anderson, one set this season and the other last season. Anderson holds the marks for the most rebounds in a season (228, 1962-63) and for most rebounds in a single game (20 against Glenbrook North, 1963-64).

Anderson, tied for third place in team scoring with 152 points, also led the squad this year in rebounding with 90 offensive and 111 defensive.

Mueller, who earned all-conference recognition this year with teammate Darrell Fenton, averaged 14.4 points a game in the 21-clash schedule, while Dunnigan had an 11.2 standard.

FENTON, a transfer from West Aurora, averaged 12.9 points a game and tallied a total of 152 to tie Anderson in scoring. Fenton, also a senior, was strong on the boards, too, with 65 offensive rebounds and 66 defensive.

Coach Ken Arneson saw improvement in his club this year, but was also disappointed with the results that landed the Falcons in third place in the conference.

"Maybe I expected too much of them," said Arneson, "but I expected a stronger offense. However, we lost Brian Karp most of the year because of sickness and that hurt, since he was a pretty good shooter."

"OUR DEFENSE showed quite a bit of improvement," continued Arneson. "Our shooting from the free throw line also improved. Last year, Mueller was the only kid with 60 per cent or better. This year there were five. Over-all we made 61 per cent of our free throws this year, while last season it was 44 per cent."

"I don't think we had one kid who didn't do better with ball-handling," the mentor went on, "and the figures show this. This season, we averaged 12.4 turnovers a game. The previous year, we had an average of 19.5."

For next season, Arneson sees even more improvement. "Our boys will be bigger and we have Dunnigan and (John) McRae back. As far as I can see, Dunnigan will be an outstanding player in the conference."

"WE SHOULD also have good rebounding and a little scoring punch at the guards that we didn't have this year. We have a good shooter and rebounder in junior Steve Jacobsen (6-4½) and two sophomores coming up who look good."

One sophomore, 6-4 Jim Baumgardt, "is a real dunker, but didn't get to play too much this year because of an injury. Jacobsen, too, missed a good part of this season because of illness."

The other soph is 6-2 Jeff Grismer. "For his height, he's the finest jumper we've ever had," said Arneson. "He needs a little work on his offensive play, but he's excellent on defense."

For next year, Arneson concluded by saying he sees a lack of experience at the start with gradual improvement, but added, "I think we'll be better on defense again, than on offense, which will remain a question mark."

Next Week

Basketball statistics for the Prospect Knights will be published next week in the final wrap up of the 1963-64 cage season.

Red-Hot Kits Smash St. Patrick, 79-64

by BOB FRISK

Jack Burmaster's hot-shooting gang from Evanston High School rode into the championship game of the Arlington Sectional tournament last Thursday evening with an impressive 79-64 conquest of touted Chicago St. Patrick.

Although operating without two regulars who were shelved with illness, the Wildkits were in the best of shooting moods as they blitzed the Shamrocks in a game most observers felt could go either way.

Evanston dazzled a capacity crowd with some of the deadliest marksmanship ever seen in the Arlington gym. The Kits fired up 48 shots. Thirty-one found the mark, and there were several long-range bombs in the group.

That's a healthy .646 percentage, and you don't lose many games with that kind of shooting.

EVEN ST. Pat's showed a respectable night from the field, but Max Kurland's crew, a regular in sectional play and a perennial schoolboy power, couldn't cash in from the free throw line.

The Chicagoland Prep League entry saw only 18 of 35 free throws find the mark.

The Shamrocks never led in the contest but kept things interesting until late in the third quarter when Evanston made its move. St. Pat's was within four points (43-39) with five minutes remaining in the third segment but was outscored 11-2 in the next four minutes.

EVANSCTON'S Burmaster, a master juggler of his personnel, received double figures from four starters with 6-foot-1 Bob Bost the chief contributor. Bost flipped in 21 counters and also pulled down 10 rebounds, top marks of the evening.

While Bost and 6-foot Bob Reece did most of their work under the basket, Mel (Romie) Taylor and Ken (Weasel) Wideman popped away from outside.

Taylor, an all-state football halfback, whipped in 25-footers with amazing consistency. He didn't have to drive. He hit eight for 10 from the field.

WIDEMAN, the second best scorer in the Suburban League this winter, tossed in a few from out front and also showed some dandy drives. He was eight for 11.

Wideman drilled from the side to give Evanston an early 2-0 lead, and the Kits never trailed. St. Pat's pulled even at 9-all with 3:53 showing on the clock in the first period, but Evanston held on and took a 17-14 lead into the second stanza.

The Shamrocks fell behind by 15 points late in the second period but continued to battle back.

Evanston held a 38-29 lead at the intermission, then ran into some trouble early in the third quarter. With five minutes remaining St. Pat's closed to four points.

THAT SIGNALLED an Evanston revival with everyone getting into the act. Two free throws by Bost ignited the explosion and when the firing subsided at the break the Wildkits held a 54-43 lead.

The fourth quarter also belonged to Evanston as Burmaster's outfit continued to fire away with amazing accuracy. Forty-five points flashed on the scoreboard in the hectic wind-up.

Bost's 21 topped both teams with Wideman and Taylor collecting 17 each for the victors. Dan Pierce headed the losers with 17 points on five baskets and seven free throws.

The Shamrocks shot 52.5 per cent from the field but showed a 51.4 effort from the line.

Rotarians to See Film of Carver Win

Arlington Heights Rotarians will view Carver's thrilling victory over Centralia for the Illinois State High School basketball championship in 1963 when they meet at Rolling Green Country Club today (Thursday).

Bob Frisk, sports editor of Paddock Publications, will narrate the film supplied by the Illinois High School Association.

Rocky's Wins Crucial Game In 'Y' League

In a tight, nearly errorless game, Rocky's-Western Gear defeated Kartridg Pak in an overtime, 57-55, in the Major Men's league at the Northwest YMCA.

Kartridg Pakp playing without high scoring Ecker, held an 8-point lead with seven minutes to go, then big Jerry Greer fouled out. Within five minutes Rocky's-Western Gear caught the Kartridg Pak five.

Kartridg Pak gained control and elected to hold the ball for the last shot. Bob Magnus took that shot and a rebound shot, missing both.

Regulation time ended in a 53-53 tie.

Dick Brubaker committed his fifth personal just as the overtie began. Donahue scored on a 25 footer for Rocky's and Grady tied it up. With both teams playing deliberate ball, Rocky's finally gained control. Jerry Higgins was fouled with one second to go. With a 1-and-1 situation, Jerry calmly sank the two winning free throws.

Brass Rail, Hamm's Gain On RM Bowl

It looks like thrilling finishes are going to be the trademark of the Paddock Classic Traveling League this year.

Morton Pontiac won the first half title on the final night. With just four weeks remaining in the final half, a similar climax is not out of the question.

Saturday night's action found Rolling Meadows Bowl, the leader in recent weeks, was held to a 2-2 tie with Casares Bowl. While RM Bowl was treading water, the second place team, The Brass Rail Restaurant, moved to within one-half point of the lead with a 3-1 win over Pioneer Lanes. A new contender also moved into the pictures. Hamm's Beer vaulted into a tie with the Railers with a 4-0 whitewash of Jeffery Lanes. The final match of the evening saw Morton Pontiac gain a 3-1 victory over Gunnell Lanes.

IT COULD have been worse for Rolling Meadows Bowl. The RM crew built a fat lead with a 1002-888 victory in game one, then dropped a pair of relatively close games and gained the split with a point for total count.

Hottest man on the lanes was Bob Hurwitz of Casares. Bob rebounded from a 156 in the first game with a 231 and then a big 276 to capture league honors for the night with a 663 series. The final game and the series were his biggest of the season and the 276 ranks fourth in league play this winter.

Al Jordan of Rolling Meadows was not far behind. Jordan, number three in the individual race, rolled a 245-211-204 — 660. The series figure was his highest of the season. Teammate Gene Koshinski chipped in with a 600 series.

The Brass Rail gained a point when after dropping the first game, they captured the last two and added a point for total pins. The only close call was in the third game, won by the Railers 930-923. The series failed to produce a 600 series. Don Christensen paced the winners with a 591, while Ralph Karkow took match honors with a 597 for Pioneer.

Hamm's took the first game by just ten pins, but had little trouble the rest of the way with a Jeffery team playing a man short. The winners' Herm Simonis had the best series in the match, a 610.

Morton Pontiac dropped the first game, but captured the second, third and match points.

To Replace Kinneman

Collier Named New Knight Cage Coach

by HOWARD HARMENING

Warren Collier, Prospect's junior-varsity cage mentor, has been named to take Dick Kinneman's place as varsity basketball coach for the Knights next season.

Collier, 41, in his second year at Prospect, came to the school from Flora, Ill., High School, where twice he had teams reach the sectionals.

As a varsity coach, he has an over-all record of 243-141.

Coaching at Flora from 1955 until 1962, Collier began his career after graduating from Eureka College in 1947 by returning to his alma mater, Paris, Ill., High School, for a year to act as assistant chief in basketball, football and track.

AFTER THAT first year, he joined the staff of nearby Kansas, Ill., High, where he was head coach for seven years and saw his teams beaten by Paris three times in regional finals.

"Kansas only won two ball games the year before I went there," says the coach. "I found some good boys, though, and the first year we won six and lost 19. The next year, we won 19 and lost seven."

Collier, who sparked his jayvees to a 10-0 record for the Mid Suburban Conference title this past season, led Kansas to the regional finals for three consecutive years, 1950 through 1952.

IN 1950, the team finished 20-10, expanded that to 25-5 the following year and then went back to 20 wins against nine losses in 1952.

"I hope I can continue on with the tradition here," said Collier. "This will be the first school I've taken over where the team has had successful seasons before."

Adding that it was easier to take over a poor team because "there can always be some improvement," Collier said it took two years to build a team at Flora after taking up his job there.

THE HIGHLIGHTS of his career, he says, came in 1959 and again in 1962 when Flora sent teams to the sectional, where both times they met defeat at the hands of Centralia.

In 1959, though, Flora reached the finals before being knocked off and ended the year 23-7. "In 1962, we didn't have a kid over 5-11," said Collier, but Flora, compiling a 15-13 record, reached the sectional again and was eliminated in the first round.

Collier began at Prospect as the sophomore coach and sparked his charges to a 13-3 record for the season and 11-1 in the conference—good enough for the title.

THIS PAST season, the Knights junior-varsity finished 16-2 for the year under his guidance.

WARREN COLLIER

While in high school, he was a three-year varsity cager. His college career was interrupted by the Navy, but he lettered in track, baseball, golf and baseball at Eureka and in track and basketball at Illinois State Normal, where he studied as a sophomore.

Collier, his wife, Dorothy, and daughter, Diana Lea, nine months, live at 131 Weller Ln., Mount Prospect.

Kinneman announced his retirement as cage coach last Thursday, but said he'd stay on at Prospect as its athletic director.

Dundy to Speak At Arlington's Sports Banquet

Mike Dundy, an Arlington High School graduate who starred on the University of Illinois' Rose Bowl football team last fall, will be the guest speaker at Arlington's "Winter Sports Night" on Tuesday evening, March 24.

Members of Arlington's basketball, gymnastics, swimming, and wrestling squads will be honored in the program getting under way at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Dundy will also show colored film highlights of the Rose Bowl game and parade.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria following the activities in the sym.

ing champs.

Evanston lost out in a bid for a second straight title, and the three individual gymnasts shooting for repeats also faltered.

Dale Hardt of Niles East, who "hadn't missed all year," missed Saturday and had to settle for seventh in the trampoline event behind champ Gary Holveck of Arlington.

A SPRAINED ankle on his first trip down the mat eliminated Urbana's Hal Shaw in tumbling. Shaw landed on the edge of double-piled mats as he completed a double back flip in his first attempt.

Arlington's Reid Olson slumped to seventh on the still rings after heading the field last winter as a sophomore.

Here's the way each event stacked up at Willowbrook with emphasis on the Paddock area entries:

Arlington's Holveck, a junior, took home first place on the trampoline after finishing second as a soph. Holveck's routine was judged at 87, 87, 89, 88 as he picked up 11 team points.

MIKE ZADEL of Prospect, a 10th place finisher in 1963, placed sixth this time around with a 158 routine.

With Urbana's Shaw ousted in tumbling the title was shared by Sam Richards of York and Hardt of Niles East, the latter making a fine recovery after his disappointing tramp effort.

Willowbrook's Bonney was fourth and Palatine's Steve Applehans fifth in tumbling. Applehans' impressive performance gave the Pirates their first state markers in history in gymnastics.

RANDY BROWN of Proviso East and Ron Rapper of Niles East tied for first on the parallel bar with Arlington's Ron Harstad a close third. Brown and Rapper were given 174 cards with Harstad judged at 172. One official caught the Cardinal senior in 93, but the high and low scores were tossed out.

Glenbard West, another Paddock area school, posted its only three points with Rupie Crouch's eighth place finish on the parallel bars.

The side horse belonged to Niles East's Mark Slotten with a brilliant routine. Several coaches praised Slotten as the best at his event they've seen in many years on a high school level. Mark's routine was judged at 187 with a 94 and 92 disregarded.

WILLOWBROOK picked up 14 points on the side horse thanks to George Flanigan's third and Bill Martin's fifth.

Waukegan's Fred Dennis, second in the district action at Arlington, was the still rings winner off a 179 routine.

Arlington's Olson was given an 88 on one card but could only show a 166 for his routine in skidding to seventh. A 178 had won the title for Reid as a sophomore.

WILLOWBROOK claimed seven and one-half points with Chuck Froeming's sixth and Dick Kenney's tie for eighth. Prospects Tim Jenning placed tenth.

The high bar went to Willowbrook's Schmitt in a sparkling routine. Neil won with a 183 score and each judge caught the Warrior standout in 90-plus.

Prospect's Scott Paris tied for fifth on the high bar with a 166 count.

Schmitt captured the all-around with a 609 total. Arlington's Harstad was second with a 603.

Willowbrook also landed six team points with Keilar's fifth in the all-around.

Colts Finish Unbeaten

The Colts finished the regular season with a perfect record in the Arlington Heights Park District Thursday mens volleyball league to take the undisputed championship for the second year in a row.

The Colts however did not come by their final victory with ease. At half time they trailed the Strats 16-14 and had to bear down to take a close 32-28 decision.

The Spikers having only lost two games, both to the Colts, came in a strong second with a 29-25 win over the J Boys.

The Old Pros pounded home a 39-19 win over the Stags to round out the nights play.

Johnny McGonigle (6-2) is the Pioneers' leading scorer with a 17 ppg average, but head man Don Morris also has some other boys who can find the basket. Steve Spanich (6-2) fired in 23 points against East Moline.

Mike Ryan (6-4) is the big man in the Pioneer alignment.

Alleman likes to switch defenses, and Morris has inserted a few new wrikles on offense. The Pioneers are much more formidable than an 18-10 record would indicate.

Frisk: The Orphans want that title, and they're going all the way this year. Berger will be too much for Alleman to handle. Centralia advances, 65-53.

Tully: As usual, Centralia looks like the team to beat. Alleman's hot but make it the Orphans, 73-63.

GLENBARD EAST VS. PEKIN
9 P.M. FRIDAY

Glenbard East is the reason such area powers as Proviso East, Downers Grove, Kankakee, Bloom, Lockport, Riverside-Brookfield etc. are playing basketball these days. Wayne Stevenson's Rams watched all the big boys get beat and eased through the York regional, the Aurora East sectional and supersectional without doing much of the dirty work themselves.

Fans started to get the message about this club when they hammered Elgin 61-40 in the sectional finals. Nobody toys with a Bill Chesbrough team, even a mediocre one, without the horses.

And the Rams do have horses. Stevenson's front line of Tim Weiss (6-5), John Kerzan (6-4) and Bob Hager (6-3) is rangy. Guard Ken Parker (6-2) is no midget. Only Dick Bomley (5-9), among the starters, is on the short side. Moreover, Stevenson can call on John McGladdery (7-0) — that's right!!! and Dan Stewart (6-4) from his bench.

Weiss is the top scorer with an 18 point average and Kerzan and Hager are both double figure performers. There is an emotional factor here. Star junior Mike Fleming, the team's second leading scorer has been out several weeks with a concussion and the team has developed a "win for Mike" attitude.

On the other side of the ring is Pekin, champion of the Mid-State Eight and conqueror of such heavyweights as Weukegan, Lockport, Galesburg and Streator. The Chinks have a 27-3 record and there are at least three good reasons for it.

In no particular order they are: an all-state center in Jim Sommer. He has been worth nearly 700 points to them. A speedy and productive pair of in Dave Golden and Ronnie Rhoades. Golden has tallied over 400 points, Rhoades nearly 300. Finally the Chinks are directed by an excellent and tourney-wise coach, Dawdy Hawkins.

The Chinks have one serious shortcoming. One that hasn't bothered them much yet, but could present problems against the Rams. They are very small. Sommer is just 6-3, but he towers over forwards Amel Massa (6-1) and Jim Couch (5-11). Golden (5-11) and Rhoades (5-8) are also small. They get a little more size when their fine sixth man, Tony Buzick (6-2) is in the lineup.

Tully: Some of Pekin's regular season victories impress me. I think I'll string along with the Chinks one more time. Make it 59-50.

Frisk: Size is not enough of a factor here. Chinks have class and Sommer. They ride to semi's, 57-49.

SEMI-FINALS

Frisk: Evanston vs. Galesburg. 'Kits run out of gas. I like the Streaks in a 66-63 barn-burner.

Tully: Decatur vs. Galesburg. I have this horrible picture of last year's Big Red club. They were horrible, not the picture. Galesburg, 66-51.

Frisk: Centralia vs. Pekin. The Orphans dominate the boards and the Chinks. Jones' crew is right where it was last year in the title game. Centralia, 65-56.

Tully: Centralia vs. Pekin. The end of the line for a fine, small team comes when it meets the good, big team. Orphans get another chance, 61-54.

FINALS

Frisk: Centralia vs. Galesburg. Here's another case where Centralia's size is the key factor. The Streaks are young and should be back next winter, but the Orphans take home the biggest prize of all Saturday evening. They said the state title was decided in the Salem Super-Sectional where Centralia battled Collinsville. I agree. The Orphans will be state champs, 60-54.

Tully: Centralia vs. Galesburg. The question is, will this obviously determined Orphan team, anxious to make amends, be able to overcome Thiel's thirst for about the only thing that has escaped him — a state title. Thiel is a determined man and has said himself that a cubback in the sports program at Galesburg is bound to hurt the flow of talent that has always been so abundant in that town. I don't think he'll let this chance, perhaps his last, get away. Galesburg, 58-55.

JUST DOGS

By DAVE TERRILL

Hole diggers - -

Even though we may still be slugged with a few more days of chilly weather and perhaps some snow along with it, watching a man out cutting his grass in one of our southern cities the other day brings to mind that it won't be long until we will have spring and summer . . . and with it a problem associated with dogs.

I don't think that we have ever been involved too much with this subject before, however, there is nothing like a "digging dog." Now is the time to do something about it, or at least have a fair idea about how to correct the problem when it does come up.

Most dogs will dig holes because they are completely bored. This is true of a dog that is kept in an enclosed run. Sometimes they dig for exercise, and often from the habit of digging for chipmunks, rabbits or to bury or dig up a favorite bone.

IF A DOG starts digging a hole somewhere around the house, try covering the hole with a sheet or two of newspaper . . . with one little surprise under the paper. Just place one or two set mousetraps without any bait, of course, in the hole under the paper. If this does not work, try crumpled chicken wire in the hole, or fill the hole with stones. If you can catch him in the act, and take some stern corrective measures right then and there, this will help.

One more thing. In very hot weather, dogs will often dig holes in order to lie in the cool ground. When this happens, bring the dog indoors or put him in the shade.

For boys and girls - -

Boys and girls will compete in a contest testing their knowledge of correct type in dogs at the 24th International Dog Show, April 4 and 5, in the International Amphitheatre, Chicago.

The dog judging contest is open to any boy or girl between 10 and 20 years old. Boy scouts, girl scouts and 4-H members are eligible, and trophies are offered to the highest scoring 4-H member.

CONTESTANTS are scored on their judging of classes of three breeds: Cocker Spaniels, Dachshunds and Boxers. Each class consists of four dogs. Sterling silver trophies will be awarded to the six ranking winners by the International Kennel Club of Chicago.

According to show officials, no entry fee is required to compete in the contest. Entry cards may be obtained on request by writing the International Kennel Club of Chicago, Exchange Bldg., Room 116, Chicago 9.

Barks & Bays - -

Its too bad that people who own dogs don't take care of them. I'm speaking about the folks who let their family hound roam the highways and byways. Already the death toll from getting out on highways, now that warm weather is creeping up and folks turn the dog loose during the day, is starting to mount.

Bulldogs Stop Ponies, 74-55 In Semi-Final

by TOM TULLY

Waukegan, advertised as a small ball club, didn't play that way in the opening round of the Arlington Sectional last Wednesday evening.

The Bulldogs, who make up for what they lack in height with strength and savvy, had much too much of both for Mundelein and raced past the Ponies and into the finals by a 74-55 count.

Jack Miller's ball club, well known for its disdain of the difficult shot, ran his intricate patterns to perfection and time and time again riddled the Mundelein defense for layups.

THE HUSKY Bulldog unit does two things very well. They all rebound and they all drive. These two qualities led to a bushel basket full of easy shots and the winners eliminated the Palatine regional champs with a blistering 29 for 51 performance from the field.

Typical of the Bulldog's passion for the crip shot was the play of junior guard Gene Bromstead. The well-built 6-1 backliner took Mundelein's smaller defenders to the goal repeatedly and scored over them.

Bromstead, a substitute the first half of the season, topped all scorers with 25 points and six of his nine field goals came from under or around the goal. His work around the goal was complemented by the shotmaking of teammates Ted Demkiw, Ray Coleman and Mel Hurndon. This trio rewarded Miller's decision to start them in the front court with 14 buckets and every one of them came within five feet from the goal.

The red clad Mustangs made it interesting until late in the first half. After Waukegan jumped off to early 8-1 and 13-3 leads, the Ponies played even through the final half of the first quarter which ended with Waukegan leading, 18-10.

THEN AFTER the Bulldogs doubled the score on a short jumper by Demkiw, the Ponies went to work. After Don Johnson hit a foul shot to make it 20-11, Mundelein scored four points in one second. Johnson hit a ten foot jumper and was fouled on the play. He missed the charity toss, but Dave Lohrke was above the goal to tip it in. That made it 20-15.

Coleman tipped one in at the other end to make it 22-15, but Jerry Shanholtzer hit a long jumper for Mundelein and followed it with a three point play to cut the margin to 22-20.

That was all for the Mustangs. Bromstead got bucket on a rebound. Then a pair of foul shots. Coleman interrupted with a rebound and then Bromstead hit another, this time from the top of the circle, to make it 30-20. It was 34-23 at the half.

Mundelein was still within ten with 1:45 remaining in the third quarter, but Waukegan chose this juncture to start a final surge. It was 50-36 by the end of the period and two minutes into the final frame it was 58-36.

Miller motioned to his reserves with 3:50 remaining and his club sitting on a 65-38 lead.

DEMKIW and Hurndon followed Bromstead in the Waukegan scoring column with 13 each, and Coleman had ten.

Shanholtzer led Mundelein with 15 and Lohrke had ten.

Chicagoland Names Murray, Grandt on All-Star Cage Units

by BOB FRISK

St. Viator didn't land any first team selections but did have two players honored on the 1963-64 edition of the Chicagoland Prep League all-star basketball team.

Guard Jim Murray and center Chuck Grandt earned second and third team berths respectively on the post-season honor squad named by the division coaches.

St. Joseph of Westchester, a third place finisher in the league, landed two slots on the first team to head all schools. St. George, DeLaSalle, and Holy Cross picked up one berth each.

League champion St. Patrick didn't gain any positions on the first team but had boys on both the second and third squads.

MAKING UP the first team are Don Sebek (St. Joseph), Tony Barone (St. George), Dave Gilmore (DeLaSalle), Paul Klassovity (St. Joseph), and Frank Petritis (Holy Cross).

Sebek and Barone finished 1-2 in conference scoring and were well ahead of the pack.

Sebek the 6-foot-4 senior stickout from St. Joseph, fired in 295 points in 14 league outings for a 21.1 per game average. A second team selection last winter, Dick had everyone talking with his brilliant 53-point effort against Holy Cross late in the season.

BARONE, a 5-foot-10 backcourt ace, collected 276 markers in his 14 league games for a 19.7 standard. His best day also came against Holy Cross when he whipped in 12 baskets and 11 free throws for 35 points.

Barone broke the scoring record in the Chicagoland Prep League Christmas Tournament with 84 points in three games. He was named the most valuable player.

Second team selections in the Chicagoland division were Art Harmon (St. Ignatius), Dan Pierce (St. Patrick), Tom Hunter (DeLaSalle), Gil Witherspoon (St. Patrick), and Murray (St. Viator).

THE LIONS' Murray also was a second team selection last winter when he recorded 138 points in conference play. Jim canned 222 points in 14 league games this time around for a 15.8 ppg. He had 27 against St. Ignatius for his best loop effort and reached double figures in 13 of the 14 Chicagoland games. He topped 20 on four occasions.

St. Viator's Grandt joins Jim Crivilio (St. Mel), Tom McManahan (St. Patrick), Don Geist (St. George) and Turnley Boyd (St. Ignatius) on the third team.

Grandt, a 6-foot-3 junior, is one of the rising stars in the area. He was a standout all season for Ron Feiereisel's club and turned in an impressive performance in regional tournament play.

Chuck is an excellent rebounder and defensive player, and he scored 204 points in the conference for a 14.6 per game average. Grandt's best game was a 26-point effort against St. Mel when he bagged 16 free throws. He was in double figures in 10 of the 14 conference frays.

Splittorff Collects 376 Points; Conner 2nd on Card Varsity

Paul Splittorff, a 6-foot-3 senior, walked off with all the honors on Arlington High School's varsity basketball team for the 1963-64 season.

Splittorff was the only Cardinal named to the all-conference team. He was Arlington's co-captain and most valuable player.

Official statistics released this week by Paddock Publications indicate that Splittorff also was the individual leader in the major offensive departments.

For the 22-game season Splittorff dialed 376 points on 150 baskets and 76 free throws, all team highs. In addition, Paul hit .784 from the free throw line, one of the best Cardinal marks in recent years.

In his varsity career at Arlington Splittorff posted 567 points.

TWO JUNIORS were next in line for Arlington.

Bob Conner, a 6-foot-4 forward, came on strong in the second half of the season and finished with 218 points on 86 field goals and 46 free throws. Conner also played some varsity basketball as a soph, recording 38 points.

Lloyd, a 6-foot-6 center, had played very little basketball prior to the 1963-64 campaign, but he came through with 142 points on 54 baskets and 34 free throws. Chuck had the second best standard from the free line among the regulars with a .641 percentage.

Dan Sherman, 6-foot-2 senior co-captain, was the only other Cardinal topping 100 points for the season. Sherman, shelved in mid-season by illness, added 130 this winter to a 205 total as a junior for 335 career points. Dan made noticeable improvement at the line, hitting .627 after a .462 mark as a junior.

HEAD COACH Ted Wissen will have 439 points returning from a club that posted six wins in 22 games this year. Other boys back next year will be guard Mike Frase (55) and center-forward Ralph Morrisett (24).

Highlighting Arlington's season were a "Sleigh Bells" victory over Palatine, triumph over neighboring Prospect in January, and near-misses with powerful Downers Grove and Riverside-Brookfield. The Cards took regional champ Downers into overtime before falling and battled R-B to the wire in a 74-72 thriller.

Arlington bumped Palatine in a return match at the regional but was shelled by Mundelein in the tourney semi-finals.

Moschin's Foul Shots Give Evanston 71-70 Win Over Waukegan

by TOM TULLY

The gymnasium at Arlington High School was no place for the faint of heart last Friday evening and that included the spectators as well as the participants inside the black lines.

Exciting is an inadequate description of the match between Suburban League foes Waukegan and Evanston to determine Crane Tech's opponent in Tuesday afternoon's Super Sectional at Northwestern.

Emerging from the hysteria was Jack Burmaster's Evanston club as the Wildkits qualified for Sweet Sixteen play with a 71-70 verdict. The boy who put them there was an unlikely hero named Arnie Moschin and he did it with a foul shooting performance that was little short of incredible under the circumstances.

MOSCHIN, a well distributed six footer, gained his spot in the sun because mononucleosis stripped Burmaster of regular forwards Tom Weingartner and Dick Ollman prior to sectional play. Moschin had lost a starting job in mid-January and regained it only because the seige of 'mono' decked Weingartner and Ollman.

His response to the challenge was a team leading 25 points that included 17 of 19 opportunities from the foul line. He scored the Kits' last eight points and ten of their last twelve. He and his teammates will be a long time forgetting the last six of these.

All came from the foul line and all with his team either trailing or tied.

The first pair came with 46 seconds remaining and Waukegan leading 68-65. They cut the Bulldog margin to one. A walking violation cost the Bulldogs the ball seven seconds later. At the 32 second mark the whistle blew again. Waukegan's Ted Demkiw left with his fifth foul and 'automatic' Arnie went to the line. Both tosses were good and Evanston led, 69-68.

NOW THE pressure was on Waukegan and Gene Bromstead, a brilliant performer in defeat, responded with a 20 foot jumper with 25 seconds showing on the clock. Waukegan had its final lead at 70-69.

Evanston wasted ten seconds before Moschin made a move to the goal from the right side. Mel Hurndon whacked him with 12 seconds remaining. Moschin, immune to the pressure, calmly dropped in the tying, then the winning points.

Waukegan had a shot at it when Bruce Daydif went to the line with ten seconds remaining, but the reserve forward missed.

It was a game for the reserves as both teams ran into foul difficulties. A total of 53 fouls were called, 29 on Waukegan, and each team lost three regulars via the foul route.

EVANSTON won it at the line. Outgunned 25-18 from the field, the Wildkits bagged 35 of 46 foul shots. Waukegan found the range on 20 of 30.

It was all Waukegan in the early moments. The Bulldogs raced to a 22-9 lead with 1:36 remaining in the first period. At this point, Waukegan was without a foul shot, Evanston without a bucket.

Then Burmaster sent his club into a full court press for the second. Earlier, it had been ineffectual. This time it was devastating. In less than three minutes the Kits turned a 22-9 deficit into a 25-25 tie.

Keying the surge was Ken Wideman, the slender backcourt ace known affectionately to Kit rooters as the 'Weasel.' The weasel, leading Kit scorer with an 18 point average, was not much of a factor in the first six and a half minutes. Then, he suddenly scampered out of his hole and drilled 14 of his team's next 18 points. Included was a burst of ten straight,.a feat accomplished in 1:45.

THE BULLDOGS got their second breath when Bromstead scored eight points in a row (six of them from the line) and led at halftime, 38-35.

Both teams were in serious foul trouble by the middle of the third quarter. Wideman and Bob Bost had both exited for Evanston and Waukegan had Chuck Reid and Ray Coleman saddled with four each.

Both teams got fine relief work from the bench but particularly effective was the chore turned in by Evanston's Ron Harris. He teamed at guard with Roamie Taylor to provide most of the Wildcat punch until Moschin's last minute heroics.

Waukegan raced out to a 51-43 lead on a five point surge by Bromstead, but the Kits tied it at 53 and two goals by Harris in the final 21 seconds gave them a 59-55 edge after three quarters.

THE WINNERS were still up 63-57 when Waukegan came up with what appeared to be a game saving rally. When Bromstead hit the second of two straight jumpers from the key, the Bulldogs led 68-65 and appeared to have the momentum.

Bromstead turned in his second superb performance of the tourney. The husky junior followed his 25 point performance on Wednesday night with eight goals and 12 of 14 foul shots to lead all scorers with 28 points. Coleman was second in line for Jack Miller's Bulldogs with 15.

St. Joseph Sophs Top St. Viator

St. Joseph of Westchester bumped St. Viator Saturday evening, 51-44, in the championship game of the St. Viator Invitational Soph Basketball Tournament.

St. Francis of Wheaton captured the consolation trophy with a 73-44 conquest of Ridgewood.

Although St. Viator had toppled St. Joseph in two league games during the season, the Chargers were not to be denied Saturday.

Tom Miller, a 6-foot-4, 190-pounder, paced the winners with 21 points.

PAUL DUMKE, who finished the campaign with a 17.0 per game average, collected 16 for Larry Nomellini's Lions. Dumke fouled out with four minutes remaining.

In the consolation semi-finals St. Francis bumped Marian Central of Woodstock, 57-49, with Murphy firing in 34 points, and Ridgewood eliminated Maryville 50-47 in a double overtime.

St. Viator's sophomores, host for the eight-team attraction, finished the season with an impressive 18-6 record. The Lions were 11-9 as frosh.

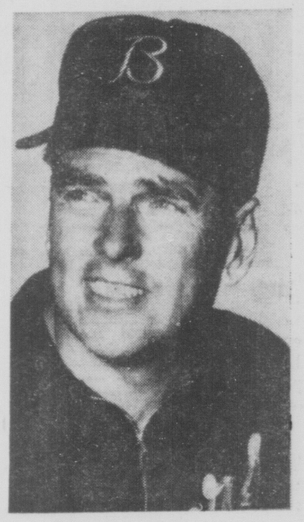
Allen To Speak At Falcon Fete

George Allen, defensive coach for the Chicago Bears, will speak Tuesday, March 24, at Forest View's Winter Sports Banquet.

Sponsored by the Forest View Booster Club, the banquet begins at 7:30 p.m. in the boys' gym and will honor Falcon coaches, athletes and managers involved with winter sports.

Allen, who's credited with a large portion of the engineering that opened the path for the Bears to the National Football League title this past season, joined Chicago in October, 1958, after a season with the Los Angeles Rams.

A native of Detroit, Mich., he spent nine years as a head college football coach before turning to pro ball. Twice, he had college teams that ranked in the top three on pass defense in the nation.



GEORGE ALLEN

While in college himself, Allen played varsity football at Marquette University and later was a varsity wrestler at the University of Michigan.

Allen is married and has four children, a girl and three boys.

Falcons Topple To Rams

Glenbard East toppled Forest View cagers 54-38 last week in the opening round of the Wheaton Soph Tournament.

Forest View, losing the ball 24 times in the clash, trailed 11-8 in the first period and 26-16 at halftime.

Unable to cope with the Rams' 1-3-1 zone in the game, the Falcons continued to slide in the third period, and Glenbard held a 40-28 lead going into the final stanza.

Coach Rog Steingraber's charges hit 11 of 47 attemps from the field for 22 per cent and lobbed in 16 of 27 free throw attempts for 59 per cent. The Rams connected on 14 of 30 trys from the line for 47 per cent.

Leading the Rams' scoring effort was Bellock, described by Steingraber as being "a very fine shooter and all-around player," while the Falcons were sparked by Jim Baumgardt's 13.

Schreiber Wins Loop Mat Crown

Dave Schreiber of Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, a graduate of Arlington High School, captured the 177-pound championship in the Iowa Conference wrestling meet.

Schreiber was the outstanding matman in the conference meet as he won all but his final bout by pins. He outpointed his opponent 7-1 in the finals to take his third straight individual crown.

Schreiber had a string of 22 straight matches without defeat this season and finished his dual meet career with a record of 30 wins and five losses.

Luther College won a fourth straight Iowa Conference title.

Arlington's Sophs Trip Glenbard East, Gain Tourney Crown

Arlington's sophomore Cardinals, a seventh place finisher in the West Suburban Conference, rolled past three opponents and captured the team title in the Wheaton Frosh-Soph basketball tournament last week.

Arlington had advanced to the title tussle with wins over Naperville (59-34) and Glenbard West (48-43).

GLENBARD East held a 31-27 lead over Arlington heading into the decisive period of the championship game, but the Cards got hot in the final eight minutes.

John Blomquist zeroed in during the concluding stanza, fired in six of his nine baskets, and Arlington outscored the Rams 19-9.

Glenbard East held a 22-19 lead at the intermission.

Blomquist was high for both clubs with 18 points. Vaughn Strong collected eight and Pete Barker seven for the Cards.

Kelly, Irv's Maintain 1-2 Classic Slots

Kelly Olds and Irv's Fire Extinguisher Co. held their 1-2 positions in the Paddock Women's Classic Traveling League with identical 3-1 victories Saturday evening.

Kelly turned in a 2676 team total for three games en route to its conquest of River Rand, and Irv's, continuing its red-hot pace of recent weeks, fashioned a 2614 in dumping Charlotte's Pizza.

One point still separates the two pace-setters in the hectic battle for the second half championship.

EDITH WAYNE fired a 581 in leading Kelly to its 3-1 victory over cellar-dwelling River Rand. Edith had a 202 middle game. Thanks to a booming 218 Rosemary Babich finished at 559.

River Rand received two handsome efforts from Ethel Juenger (587) and "Moe" Miller (573) but that wasn't enough.

Four gals eclipsed 500 as Irv's rolled past Charlotte's Pizza and dumped the latter from third place in the women's division.

BONNIE KUHN was high for the winners with 554, but teammates Fran Altergott and Ethel Martin were right behind with identical 545s. Nancy Dietz hit 500.

Vi Douglas posted the big series for Charlotte's with a 569 although teammate Shirley Schultz had the only 200-plus with a 202.

Steve's Restaurant climbed into third place on the strength of an impressive 4-0 victory over the skidding Morton Pontiac entry that suffered its fourth straight whitewashing.

LAVERNE Rosset, who had a 606 last week, turned in a nifty 602 Saturday with a 217 third game. She was supported by teammates Ann Neumann (553), Louise Lass (525), Delores Harris (523), and Delores Shaffer (494) as Steve's achieved the best team total for the evening with a 2677.

Ruthmary Baurhyte was tops for Morton Pontiac with a 587. She closed with 215. Penny Smith had a 220 game and 545 series.

The standings:

Kelly Olds	31½
Irv's	30½
Steve's	26
Charlotte's	24
Morton	16½
River Rand	15½

Grade School Mat Tourney Set Saturday

The area's top grade school wrestlers will compete for team and individual honors Saturday at 11 a. m. in the annual mat tourney sponsored by VFW Post 981 of Arlington Heights.

Set for the Forest View gymnasium, the tourney will be open to all boys in the area, according to Hal Henson, wrestling coach for the host school and tourney director.

Weigh-in for all boys who are entering unattached or representing a school is slated for tomorrow (Friday) from 3:30 to 5:30 p. m. at Forest View.

Ribbons will be awarded for the first four places in each weight class as well as a team trophy for the first and second place teams.

Boys will grapple for honors in the following weight classes: 70 pounds, 77, 83, 90, 97, 105, 112, 118, 125, 135, 145, 165 and heavyweight. The heavyweight class includes anyone over 165 pounds.

Last year, more than 200 boys turned out for the tourney and forced officials to refuse entry to many who hadn't pre-registered, according to Henson.

Last year's team champion was South Junior High, with Miner Junior High in second place. A real wrestling power, South tied Dempster Jr. High in 1962 for first place.

Henson will be assisted by Dick Mudge, Prospect's grappling coach, and Julius Fliehler, Arlington's.

To avoid turning away any possible entries, Henson said boys entering unattached should bring the entry blank below to the weigh-in, signed by their parent or guardian.

The Way We See It

Youth Commission Plays Vital Role

Juvenile delinquency has been labeled the problem of the crowded cities, the slum tenements, the ghettoes and ethnic minorities. But it is a narrow view which restricts such a problem to these areas alone.

In a single northwest suburban village last month, nearly 20 names were entered on the police juvenile report. Among offenses listed were assault, truancy, vandalism, larceny and violation of village ordinances.

The vast majority of these cases in the suburbs — and these listed are only the ones for which someone was apprehended — are handled through "station adjustment" or a similar procedure.

But in most villages there is a problem area for which there is no solution. Where a court appearance, record and possible sentence are considered too harsh for the nature of the offense, a reprimand or conference in the police station may not provide the necessary counselling or supervision for some youths.

In a few villages, notably Rolling Meadows and Palatine, the gap seems to have been filled by only one function of a non-judicial body with as many functions as its broad title implies — the youth commission.

The Rolling Meadows group, described generally as quasi-governmental, was established in 1960 as the Police Juvenile Advisory Commission. To the north, a similar body established this year is titled simply the Palatine Youth Commission.

Similar objectives spelled out by both commissions include both the prevention and cure of juvenile delinquency.

Perhaps the primary role now is guidance and supervision of juvenile offenders, handled on a referral basis from the police departments by volunteer teams in Palatine, and by volunteers and a paid social worker in Rolling Meadows.

In most other area communities, the only step short of a court appearance is a conference in the police station between the child, the parents, and the juvenile officer.

But beyond this role of counsel and guidance, the youth commission steps into the field of prevention. Members of the Palatine and Rolling Meadows commissions are selected from the clergy, the schools, village government, the police department, the park district, and other interested groups.

They deal in advice on combatting local conditions which would contribute to delinquency, in promotion of healthful youth activities, and in surveys of deeply-rooted community problems.

The effectiveness of the commissions depends in great measure on the harmony of relationships with officers of the county court system, the local and state enforcement officers, and public and private assistance agencies.

In Palatine, particularly, the problem is finance. Because the commission has been ruled out of bounds for village appropriations, all work must be volunteer, and the group must depend to a great extent on professionals in other agencies.

Can these agencies and officials, working without the youth commission in other villages, do the same job? Experience has proved that without the commission as a central point for referral and organization of activities the gears of the system do not mesh.

The community juvenile officer, even if he is hired jointly by the village and school systems as the proposal stands in Bensenville, must remain first a member of the enforcement team.

Other agencies such as the Northwest Mental Health Clinic and the Big Brother Movement are ready tools, but they must be applied through a medium of understanding.

The youth commission stands as that medium, and as the group which can help channel the energy of youth in the direction of creativity and the community interest.

Critic's Corner

Grassroots News Plight

by HELENE BRISTOL
Staff Editor

Perhaps if I remember to always follow the straight and narrow, work extra hours, develop a sparkling, clear and readable style in my reporting, I may be assigned as a correspondent to an inter-planetary government someday.

The assignment is bound to be a real "plum" if present practices in government and organizations continue.

The rule seems to be "The bigger the group, the better the treatment" — for journalists, at least.

BRISTOL

Attend a national convention of any service, fraternal, religious or educational group — the press is given top-flight facilities. Main speakers are always available, pictures are supplied, copies of speeches prepared ahead of time for news dis[illegible] they make getting publicity for their group a real pleasure.

IN ADDITION, usually the press is given something "extra"—a special cocktail party attended by the leading officials of the group; an "intimate" dinner for 50 reporters and the top brass of the organization; not to mention tours or visits to any spot the group may be sponsoring.

There is always someone available to help you get information, gain access to cloistered leaders, conduct you to any spot, even provide transportation to get there.

Contrast this with the usual treatment given reporters by individual clubs, schools or churches.

QUESTIONS ARE met with doubt as to intent — many times the attitude of "the less they know, the less they can criticize," seem to prevail.

Cooperation, in some instances, appears to exist only for their own convenience — including scheduling of interviews or sessions with photographers, only to discover on arrival (perhaps as far away as 15 miles from the office) that "Mrs. Jones couldn't find a babysitter so we will have to make another date." At times, this is not even accompanied by a spoken, much less felt, "I'm sorry."

With notable exceptions, local schools ignore the press except when they need publicity for a bond issue referendum. Interesting or experimental work within the classroom is never considered for public discussion, much less preparing any research materials.

THE SCHOOL administration or school board will complain that the paper never carries any information about the schools, but some how expect reporters to be clairvoyant about what activities are being conducted. A telephone call, freeing of a teacher for a brief period to explain a program or spending a few minutes discussing some curriculum change or educational philosophy, is too much to expect.

Local government appears to flourish on "executive sessions"—either openly at the village hall, or in pre-meeting or post-meeting private sessions. Any questioning of village officials, procedures or finances is met with deep suspicion or resentment.

Press facilities? In many places you consider yourself lucky if you rate a chair.

Availability? It is at the convenience of the local official, whether it meets the deadline schedule of the paper or not.

IN CONTRAST is the cooperation given even at the county level—really only one step toward bigness. There are press facilities, information is available, officials are available.

A special press officer (and an assistant) do nothing but make sure the reporters can see and can obtain the information they seek.

A special press room is maintained, complete with typewriters and telephones.

The facilities at the federal level are more lavish, and I presume the United Nations must outdo itself with press officers conversant in a dozen languages.

AH, WELL, things do look black down here in the suburbs—but there is hope. By some miracle as local government grows, cooperation grows, too. And there are really notable exceptions among smaller clubs, villages and organizations where outstanding press cooperation is maintained.

And, then, typical to the newspaperman's outlook, when you get too much cooperation the suspicion seems to gnaw away that perhaps, by the very bigness of the group, the dirty linen is not seen. Perhaps good press relations and the provision of "canned" information is a means of covering up what the public should see but what would be "embarrassing" for officials.

By their very bigness, it becomes easier to hide mistakes, embarrassing problems and shortcomings in county, state or national groups.

Perhaps the Lively Ladies Wednesday Sewing Circle and Card Club has something to recommend it—it's a cinch everyone of the ladies and the community knows just what is going on. The ladies will tell you all—even if it isn't acceptable copy.

I'D DEFY A U.N. reporter to find out about a shady affair with as much speed as it can be found in a town of 500 people.

Everything is out in the open, and I do mean everything! U Thant could wish all the U.N. diplomats were as "out in the open" I'm sure, not to mention the poor news correspondents assigned there.

Maybe I'm better off than I realize—To heck with the "straight and narrow!"

The New Way

To Garner Votes

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

Ambassador Lodge's stunning victory in New Hampshire seems likely to revolutionize the methods of political campaigning.

We all learned last week how the cherished methods, as practiced by Gov. Rockefeller and Sen. Goldwater, had failed conspicuously. Rockefeller and Goldwater stumped the Granite State from top to bottom but the more speeches they made and the more hands they shook, the fewer the votes they got.

CUMMINS

The votes went to Ambassador Lodge who was in Saigon and not talking.

I hear a couple of old political "pros" discussing the new ways. If you will listen in with me, we will learn how the new ways work.

JOE: This year we really need a strong man at the top of the state ticket. Got any ideas?

HANK: I thought Whetstone was ready for the top spot, but now I'm not so sure. The guy wants to make speeches. Wants to get in a station wagon and drive around to all the county fairs. Climb up on a platform and talk. Shake hands. Meet the people. All that stuff.

JOE: Murder. Sheer murder. That's what it would be. The guy is living in the 19th Century.

HANK: Rep. Clambake is a possibility. He doesn't say much.

JOE: You're right about that. He's really close-mouthed. But I understand he wants to hang around the state during the election campaign.

HANK: We talked to him about that. Got him to agree to take a two-week fishing trip to Wisconsin during the campaign, but that's as far as he would go.

JOE: Not good enough, in my book. Suppose the Democrats sent their candidate to Arkansas for three months? What chance would Clambake have then—just being gone for two weeks? No sir, we need someone who is willing to hole up in Tasmania if need be, for the good of the party.

HANK: That young fellow, Bronson, told the slatemakers he would spend all his weekends in Cedar Rapids if they gave him the nod.

JOE: Cedar Rapids, eh? Not bad. The kid has guts. But would the public go for just weekend trips? They want a candidate that gets lost and stays lost.

HANK: I know it sounds like shooting for the moon, but I'd like to see our man—whoever he is—I'd like to see him spend the whole campaign in Asia!

JOE: Don't you think that's been overdone? How about all those aldermen who went to Saigon? And that South Dakota senator who promised to stay in Calcutta until Election Day?

HANK: I'm thinking of something better than that. I'm thinking of having our candidate take a trip by yak cart through Tibet. It has a lot of possibilities.

JOE: Such as?

HANK: Well, for one thing, Tibet is supposed to be practically inaccessible. It would be almost impossible for any word from the candidate to reach the folks back home.

JOE: Good. Good. What else?

HANK: The second thing is that Tibet is supposed to be completely wild. Full of tribesmen. Abominable snowmen lurking in the mountain passes. And avalanches.

JOE: Yeh, it's wild, but . . . so what?

HANK: Don't you see? The public is going to get the idea —and mind you, we couldn't come right out and promise this—but the public will get the idea our candidate might never come back! It would make him irresistable!

The Independent Slate

The Better Government Association is pushing ahead with its project of forming an independent slate for next November's at-large election of the Illinois House of Representatives.

The BGA this week announced the appointment of Jack Sundine and George Bogert as co-chairmen of the group which will pick a "blue-ribbon" independent slate.

Sundine, a Republican, is editor of the Moline Daily Dispatch. Bogert, an attorney, is a Democrat and was active in behalf of various Blue Ballot causes and the candidacies of Adlai Stevenson and Sidney Yates.

The idea behind the independent slate is potent. Under special legislation passed to govern the at-large election, the Republican and Democratic party conventions to be held in June may nominate no more than 118 candidates each for the 177 seats in the House. They may nominate less.

The number of candidates which the third slate group will nominate will be the difference between the number nominated by each political party and the 177 to be elected.

Without the third slate, the typical voter presumably would mark his ballot for the party slate of his choice and then be faced with the Hobson's choice of either not voting for a large portion of the House membership or voting for candidates from the opposition party.

The BGA anticipates that voters will turn to its third slate as the answer to this dilemma. It will permit them to use all of their votes and without regrets. It will appeal equally to most Republicans and Democrats, except, of course, that large body of incumbents whose most obvious concern in planning the election was to guarantee their own return to the House.

Obviously, with this broad appeal, it has a good chance of sending to Springfield a number of representatives who combine ability to serve ably with freedom from obligations to political powers-that-be in city halls and courthouses. This combination could do a world of good for the State of Illinois at this juncture.

If the at-large election leads to victory for a bloc of blue-ribbon independents, it will make the remap fiasco of the last legislative session a blessing in disguise.

Accepts Editor's Advice

Scott Disavows Smear

By BRUCE LADD
Associate Editor

I talked to Bill Scott this week.

As I had hoped, he emphatically denied having given even noncommittal approval to distribution of a four-page pamphlet which casts aspersions on Chuck Percy's patriotism.

"I assure you," Scott told me, "that we're doing everything possible to discourage our people from having anything to do with this literature."

LADD

He said he's been told that distributors of the "hate piece" conceived its contents long before Scott became a candidate for governor.

In this column last week, I suggested to Scott that he forbid his workers from touching the pamphlet—a masterpiece in innuendo. He's accepted the advice and I hail him for it.

As an aside, the pamphlet's author—Paul Stout of Lombard—questions Percy's wisdom in having dinner in 1959 with Frol Kozlov, a member of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of the Soviet Union.

A QUICK investigation showed that, as a part of the agreement which sent former Vice President Richard Nixon to Russia (Remember the famous Nixon-Khrushchev "kitchen" scene?), Kozlov was to be accepted in the United States for a like period of time.

Nixon asked Percy to spend a few hours with Kozlov when the Russian visited the Midwest. Percy handled the assignment, and as a result, apparently won the ill-will of the John Birch Society.

I MET AND talked Saturday with Barnett (Barney) J. Neidle of Chicago, a GOP candidate for governor. He's quite a guy. Never a dull moment.

Neidle's campaign literature reads as follows:

"Make Percy scream for mercy. Make it hot for Scott. Make Barney Neidle governor. Why not?"

I don't know. Why not?

THE OFFICE received a news release from Sherwin Willens, Niles Township Republican committeeman and candidate for Illinois Auditor of Public Accounts.

Willens indirectly criticizes John Kirby of Williamsville, one of eight candidates for auditor, and directly raps Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction.

"Contrary to his pledge, Mr. Page has been actively soliciting political contributions and support for the candidacy of his former employe (Kirby)," Willens said.

"I regret that Mr. Page has taken upon himself to build a political dynasty from his position as superintendent of public instruction.

"When nominated and elected auditor," he continued, "I feel that it will be my duty to recommend an amendment to the Constitution which would remove the office of superintendent of public instruction from the political arena.

"Furthermore, I pledge that . . . one of my first economy moves will be to do away with the chauffeur-driven Cadillac limousine given to the auditor. I urge other elected state officials, including the superintendent of public instruction, to do the same."

COOK COUNTY Sheriff Richard B. Ogilvie said Feb. 5 that the dismissal of Chester Elder of Vandalia, Ill., by the secretary of state's office was "pressure of the basest sort."

Elder claimed he was fired because he was supporting Scott for governor. Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier is backing Percy; Ogilvie is behind Scott.

So what does Ogilvie do?

He permits County Jail Warden Jack Johnson to fire an employe for successfully challenging the petitions of an Ogilvie candidate for ward committeeman in Chicago, and then — with only three days notice—"releases" two women county building employes for committing similar political sins.

What's good for the goose is good for the gander, I guess.

Backs City Council on Law Requiring Removal of Shrubs

Having just read the letter by "Rolling Meadows Homemaker" I feel obliged to make a reply although our lot will not be affected since we have not planted onto the parking. But by the same token, it is not "as bare as last year's alfalfa field."

In the first place, "Homemaker" tends to forget that the parking area fronting anyone's home belongs to the city and ONLY to the city. If she would scrutinize the plat of her lot she would find definite defined boundaries—and they would not include the grounds owned by the city for eventual use of sidewalks and parkings.

Just because no sidewalks have been installed does not mean the city has conceded the ground to the owner of the land adjoining city property. Some people begin to get a feeling of possession when they daily look at all that land from their house to the street, unbroken in view by a sidewalk.

True, planting shrubs and bushes to the street line makes their property appear more spacious; true, shrubs and bushes enhance the property value and appearance; true, trees, shrubs and bushes some years old are valuable and costly to remove. However, the property owner was usurping a privilege that was not hers to begin with: planting on city property. Thus, they have no right to raise their voices decrying the "value of eight-year-old nursery stock . . . ,and what its removal will mean to the value of the property, not to speak of the cost involved in removing it."

Permission to plant on city property in 1956 of a "friendly city clerk" should not have been asked for in the first place. Anyone looking to the future would have realized that the city in that year was a baby, comparatively speaking, and many changes would be made as the city grew and progressed. No matter where "Homemaker" moved from to come here, she certainly must have been aware that no where does one infringe on city property, and she should have been suspicious of any "friendly" agreement to allow her to plant on it.

Landscaping does a great deal to distinguish one home from another but I would hesitate to put the positive word "only" before that statement. In my opinion the numerous home alterations—many very extensive—offer a great deal to the individuality of the home, along with the landscaping. Too, I have never seen a picture of an attractively landscaped home illustrated in Better Homes and Gardens or House Beautiful nor have I seen a professional landscaper plan for a landscaping which contains a grouping of bushes or shrubs located along the street line for eye appeal to the home. This city has homes priced on many levels, from low priced to in the $30,000 bracket, and I resent the tone of "Homemakers" letter suggesting we advertise Rolling Meadows as a shanty-town.

As for the question why are so many people selling their homes and moving—question too, why are so many "For Sale" signs in Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect or Los Angeles, Tucson and Houston for that matter. It is a well known fact, and statistics prove (as do changing school enrollments), that we are fast becoming a nation on the move. The unrest is not due to any certain locale but is general over these United States.

Let us not get so carried away emotionally over the "value of the property" that we forget the property does not belong to us; let us not get so carried away emotionally over our "eight-year-old nursery stock" that we lose sight of the fact that that same stock can by now only be too tall, too bushy, and too dense to see youngsters behind them, who are creatures of impulse, and who can dart in front of a moving car before the driver can know they are near.

Let us not be so carried away emotionally by the cost involved in removal that we become childish and ask "the author of this ordinance to reimburse me." As a legal point, one might leave the offending shrubs and bushes and evergreens where they are and let the city remove and dispose of them.

All parents, whether of young or grown children, and compassionate childless adults, should be able to see the need of unobstructed views at driveways, street corners, curbings and wherever a moving motor vehicle is used. If conscientious parents, concerned with raising a live child, would raise a hue and cry thanking and supporting the City Council for a long overdue ordinance, the sobbing of these few small minded, think-of-me-only people worried about their few shrubs (which in actual money at the time of planting was probably very negligible) would be lost in the clamor of safety for our young citizens.

Says Business Should Pay More Of School Costs

Election time will be here again soon and much literature will be circulated concerning qualifications of candidates. However, most taxpayers would be primarily interested in what they will do for us, especially in the way of reducing real estate taxes substantially.

Years ago most pupils went to work after grade school, but now practically all of them go to high school, and the cost of education has become a serious burden. Why are homeowners, many of whom are retirees, single women, low income families, and the unemployed, taxed for the total cost of education? Attempts should be made to secure funds from other sources. Industry is making billions in profits on educated employes; therefore, business ought to pay the greatest part of the cost of education.

DuPage County taxes are considerably higher than other counties. Perhaps 90 per cent of our students will work in other counties and states where enormous profits will be made by those who employ them. The cost of education is a national problem which should be taken up with representatives in Washington and associated with business profits and national income.

In corporations only stock holders are allowed to vote, so why are people, who are not property owners, permitted to vote on issues for which homeowners are taxed?

The President has seen the need for reducing income taxes; local real estate taxes should likewise be reduced.

The time has come when a strong Homeowners' Union is a necessity for unity and proper representation and protection.

Charges Percy Tries to Ride Barry Coattails

In last Thursday Paddock Publication, Bruce Ladd criticized a pamphlet being distributed against Charles Percy, candidate for Governor of Illinois. I have read this pamphlet, and it seemed to repeat only what I have read in the Chicago Tribune, and I do not believe that the facts were distorted in any way.

The voters of Illinois should be informed of such pertinent facts, regarding a candidate for governor, and this pamphlet lists more then Mr. Ladd mentioned. For example:

"Mr. Percy was vice chairman of the "Conference on World Tensions" in May, 1960. Participants included Ralph Bunche, Philip Jessup (Institute of Pacific Relations), Paul Hoffman (UN), Norman Cousins ('SANE' Nuclear Disarmament), and Cyrus Eaton (Pugwash Conference & other prosoviet activities). Among the ideas advanced by this conference were: 1. A world government with police power. 2. Repeal of the Connally Amendment. 3. Submission to Communism as a preferable alternative to nuclear war. The conference report said that the Communists are interested only in trade, not in subversion and revolution. Mr. Percy commended the work of the conference.

The pamphlet also contained this bit of information, which to me does not sound like a masterpiece of innuendo, because it quotes the Congressional Record:

"In 1961, Mr. Percy endorsed the appointment to the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission of Mr. Earl Dickerson, who has some 30 Communists front affiliations (Congressional Record July 29, 1963; p. A 4803-5) and Ralph Helstein, also a supporter of red fronts."

(Perhaps these are the gentlemen that are now dictating to Motorola on whom Motorola should hire.)

I have yet to hear Mr. Percy answer any of these criticisms. Yet only today I heard Mr. Percy's new campaign manager, Mr. Tom Houser, say that Mr. Percy is a supporter of Barry Goldwater. Since their political philosophies are so different, I am inclined to think that Mr. Percy is trying to ride on the coat tails of a possible winner.

At any rate, I would like to see the Paddock Publication verify these statements by contacting the Chicago Tribune, and let its readers know whether it is fact or fiction.

Urges Citizens Attend Village Board Meetings

I am writing this with regard to the apathy displayed by the citizens of Arlington Heights toward the Village Board Meetings.

At most meetings, the village officials outnumber the citizens in attendance. The village officials are doing a good job and they deserve the support of the people. An increase in attendance would do two things:

1) It would give a morale boost to the village officials.

2) It would afford them a cross section of public opinion on vital issues that confront them on many occasions.

Good government can only be achieved by alert village officials backed up by a vigilant citizenry.

All I can say in closing is that the old saying "Let's Get Out the Vote" should be changed to "Let's get the people out to the village board meetings."

Policemen Helped When Lights Went Out

We hope you will find space to give a special commendation to the police department of Bensenville.

On Thursday morning, March 5, from 3 to 6 a.m. all lights and telephones were out in our home for aged people, because a cable had broken. Our nurse, Mrs. Jill Adelman, left for the police station at about that time and reported it.

We don't know who the officers were, however, they lost no time in setting up temporary lights in our hospital section, so that our nurses could continue care of our very sick, old people.

We want to say publicly how proud we are of the Department, their decision to know exactly what to do and the swiftness with which the job was done.

Spraying Called Harmful to People, Birds

March 15 is National Poison Prevention Week.

"Children should be kept away from areas recently sprayed with insecticides both inside and outside the house," warned Dr. Samuel Andleman, Chicago Commissioner of Health. He also cautioned parents to keep their offspring out of back yards while such property is being sprayed or fogged with bug or mosquito repellent chemicals.

I am also concerned with the frightful loss of wildlife, and song birds we used to enjoy. Since the event of elm tree spraying and mosquito fogging I have found more than a dozen dead and dying birds in and near my garden.

I do not use poison insecticides. Since the tree sprays do not save trees and mosquito fogging should be confined to the breeding places.

Not only is this practice wasteful in taxpayers money but cruel to wildlife and harmful to people.

Gratified by TV Showing of Religious Films

So much has been written from time to time in criticism of the TV industry, that we would like to take this opportunity to express a word of praise.

Several of us have written to the various stations requesting that they consider showing movies of a religious nature during the season of lent. The response in general was prompt,

We wish to thank in particular ABC's Channel 7. They wrote to us that they would have a showing of the movie that was our specific request of them—The Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima. Because the focal point of the message at Fatima is penance and prayer, we felt it would be inspirational for the penitential season. Channel 7 not only agreed to show this excellent movie but suggested another to show in addition. (It will be shown on Good Friday at 4 p.m.)

Thanks again to Ralph Andrews and to Marcella Braun of WBKB-TV.

Calls on Dog Owners to Face Responsibility to Community

This is a justified and long overdue complaint on the part of property owners in the 200 block of S. Mount Prospect Road (there may be an exception or two).

We all admire dogs, and in some cases even love dogs, but we sure don't like the way "dog droppings" are not handled. In front of my own house there were 11 patches of excrement, dropped within two days' time — then again, they may have been dropped during the night.

This is a most deplorable and unsanitary condition. It is deplorable that the dogs were led to anyone's front yard and unsanitary because the dog owners abandoned "the jobs," then left them for the "peasants" to dispose of same.

I own two German Shepherd dogs, who in a period of six and one half years haven't even set a paw print on someone else's lawn. These dogs eliminate in their own backyard and we "clean up" after them, thereby eradicating a health hazard. The stools are not left for the filthy appetites of flies, dung-beetles and mice—all of which can enter a house and run over exposed foods, thereby setting up a pattern of disease distribution, of in the least, a case of roundworms.

This complaint is not a "squawk" by a crabby old pet hater. To the contrary; I admire all forms of pet life, from the lowly centipede to the majestic large cats, but only when they are properly cared for and cleanly housed under strict supervision and sanitation.

Our town is "bursting at the seams" with population explosion. Soon there will be no existing empty lots; therefore, pet owners should start to curb their dogs now, before drastic pet regulations are forced upon us all.

I have visited a few of these self-appointed dog comfort stations, and they are a nauseating sight to behold. They will be a breeding ground of filth this summer—for our vacationing youngsters to roll upon.

The youngsters can even pitch a pup tent over an old dried-up dusty dung pile and make believe it's sand and throw it at each other. "Disgusting" you say. Yes, and it will become more so, unless we dog owners face up to our responsibility to the community and its growing children, and to the general cleanliness of each neighborhood, as well as to proud home ownership in an exceptional town of knowledgeable people.

Praises Board For Holding Open Hearing

Because of the widespread interest and concern shown in the matter of rezoning the Blank farm in Roselle, the Village Board of Roselle decided to call a special meeting for the villagers to be held in the Parkside School auditorium on Sunday, March 9. Here it would listen to the pros and cons of the proposed development of the property.

I wish to commend the board on arranging this meeting and also the residents who attended.

The entire affair was held with the dignity and decorum expected of a civilized community in our great country. This is the "democratic way" in action.

Many grievances and misunderstandings could be settled in this manner making our government truly of the people, by the people and for the people.

School Board Criticized for Rejecting Foyer at Prospect

Once again the Board of Education for High School District 214 has broken faith with the people of the Prospect High area by voting down a motion to go ahead with construction of the foyer for Prospect High.

I do not think that it was mere coincidence that this move took place immediately after the voters of the district had voted better than 2-1 for the bond issue for the fifth high school. Prior to the vote the board had made all kinds of vague noises to give the voters of the Prospect area the impression that they were finally going to do something about this long overdue and sorely needed addition to the school. The ink was hardly dry on the final tallies when the majority of the Board (Smith, Aronson, Lockwood and Chapman) decided that this was not really what they meant at all.

Prior to the vote on the bond issue there was considerable feeling in Mount Prospect and in that part of Arlington Heights making use of Prospect High to the effect that it was about time that the board completed its obligations to the schools already up and not completed before the voters were asked to approve the bond issue for the fifth school. I suggest that the noises made by the board to the persons interested in this project were pure window dressing. Only two members present (John Haas and Hal Armstrong) were willing to stand by what the board had previously indicated it would do.

The suggestion was made by two members (as reported in your March 5 issue) that they "were not sure but what some other maintenance and improvement projects at the district's schools might be needed more." At least one of those members should look at the record. She has been on the Board for almost four years. Two years ago the Board voted to set aside one-half of the money for this foyer project with the avowed intention of setting aside the other one-half the following year. This member should be aware that a list of priorities was compiled for the Board on May 2, 1960, by the business office (Bulletin No. 126) and that on that list this very same foyer was in one of the top priority categories.

Last year the board decided that an administration building was more important (and I do not den ythat it no doubt was) and decided to use the money allocated for the Prospect foyer. With this background and history, the need for this project should not come as such a surprise to our board members.

Your paper also reports that Mr. Lockwood has again sung the age-old refrain of this board —a comparison of the facilities of Arlington with those at Prospect. He is quoted as saying that Prospect has better facilities than Arlington and that he didn't feel committed to add more.

I would have more confidence in the position of this member if he had rather suggested that perhaps Arlington's facilities should be upgraded. Instead he apparently feels that none of our schools should improve their facilities unless Arlington first compares.

I did not notice that he made any mention of the fact that only Arlington has adequate football stands or lights on the football field. I did not see anywhere a suggestion from him that the other schools should be given these.

We at Prospect have heard this "Arlington doesn't have it" year after year. The day will also come when the people of the Forest View and Wheeling schools will also be told "Arlington doesn't have that." Can it be that some of our board members live too close to Arlington to see the problems at Prospect?

Your paper further reports that Mrs. Chapman said that she didn't see that the board was committed. This would seem to resolve itself into a question of just what it takes to make a commitment. Mrs. Chapman certainly must be aware of the previous requests made by committees from Prospect on this subject, she certainly must be aware of the previous priority lists and the previous commitment to the extent of putting this item into the budget two years ago.

I think that this action of the board represents a giant step towards ruining the cooperation of the voters of the villages of the district in connection with the bond issues which the board has proposed in the past. We in the Prospect area will now feel free to vote a big, strong NO the next time around. Despite the efforts of many of us on the various lay committees, formed in the past to work for passage of these bond issues, we will feel no such commitment the next time around.

In conclusion may I say that perhaps we have too many members of this board who are residents of Arlington Heights to insure that the needs of all of our schools are adequately covered. If this latest action was not pure partisanship, then it must be a graphic illustration of procrastination at its best.

Suggests Movie Decency Ratings Be Published

As residents of this area and readers of your newspaper, we feel it is our duty to ask you to perform a public service. Our suggestion is that you publish in your theater section a "Legion of Decency" rating on all movies as a guide for parents. Since it is impossible to judge a movie, these days, by their ads, we feel that this would aid many parents who have children, if they care to use it.

There are various rating lists available and we shall be happy to help you find one if necessary.

If it is impossible to print a complete guide, perhaps a classification of the movies shown at the Arlington, Prospect, and the Cinema theaters would be possible such as is being done by the Catlow Theater in Barrington.

Appreciates Coverage on New High School

As Superintendent of Township High School District 214, I want to take this opportunity to thank Paddock Publications for the excellent coverage which your papers have given us in presenting the facts and figures relative to the need for the fifth high school in the district.

I have discussed this with the members of the school board and they, too, were most gratified by your fine spirit of cooperation.

We want to particularly thank Helene Bristol for her sense of dedication. She spent long hours in attending board and Citizens Lay Committee meetings in order to keep abreast of the planning that went on to determine the need for a high school at Elk Grove Village. She then spent additional hours in preparing articles for your readers.

We would be remiss if we failed to thank all those who worked diligently on the Citizens Lay Committee, those who worked in the referendum and those who supported the bond issue with their vote. We are fully aware that it was a team effort and the results speak for the effort expended.

Bows Head in Shame at Lack Of Swim Pools

We need a swimming pool for our high schools. District 214 is one of the largest in the state and can ably afford it.

A pool is as important in a modern high school as a gymnasium or football field. Pools are a good investment because healthful recreational facilities are available for boys and girls during the entire school year. Most of the near-by school districts have pools. Some are equipped with sliding outer doors permitting open air use in summer.

The old worn out argument, "I never had a pool when I went to school; what was good enough for me is good enough for my children," is a farce. Would any of the people making that statement like to return to the coal shoveling, outdoor plumbing, walk to everywhere days?

Do you know that the boys on our high school swimming teams get up in darkness on Saturday mornings and provide their own transportation to the Des Plaines YMCA so that they can swim at 6:30 a.m., before the Y's regular Saturday schedule begins? How can they be expected to make a good showing in the league swimming meets? It was discouraging to have only one district representative in the recent regional swimming tournament.

Will we provide for construction of adequate high school swimming pools; or when approached by the other schools in the swimming league for a home and home series, will we continue to bow our heads in shame.

Attacks Percy For Participation At Conference

Why does Mr. Ladd entitle his editorial "Birchite Smear"? Why not "Tribune Smear" or "Tagge Smear" since most of the same material has been printed there on Feb. 8 and 22, 1964, besides an article on March 14 by George Tagge about Percy's political hirelings from the University of Chicago which is certainly not known for its conservative nature.

Next Mr. Ladd claims the 1960 Republican platform "has been widely heralded as one of the best ever devised by the Republican party." This could only be a liberal translation. Conservatives called the platform a hodgepodge of watered down, straddling me-too-ism.

Now let's get on to more important things that Mr. Ladd omitted. And I quote:

From the pamphlet of Mr. Stout also comes the following— "Mr. Percy was vice-chairman of the Conference of World Tensions in May 1960. The ideas advanced by the conference were: a world government with police power; repeal of the Connally Amendment; submission to communism as a preferable alternative to nuclear war. Mr. Percy commended the work of the conference."

As to the United Republican Fund, he goes on to say: "This fund has donated money to the campaigns of candidates endorsed by the IVI, which is the local affiliate of the ADA, the chief voice of socialism in America." Another item of the pamphlet says "In 1961, Mr. Percy endorsed the appointment to the Illinois Fair Employment Practices Commission of Mr. Earl Dickerson, who has some 30 communist front affiliations and Ralph Helstein, also a supporter of red fronts."

In Mr. Tagge's Tribune column of Feb. 8, 1964, there is the statement "There is no question that Percy is a liberal."

Another favorite Percy theme is the getting of more corporations to build more plants in Illinois to bring more money and jobs into the state. How does he reconcile this with the fact that since 1949 when he became president of Bell & Howell, they have built six plants, all outside of Illinois?

Mr. Stout, Mr. Tagge, and the Tribune have only reported events and activities of Mr. Percy, be they relevant or not, to the office of governor. We have come to expect Ladd's condemnation of the Birch Society (speaking of innuendoes), but why equate this with the voters being told more than he thinks they should know. Every aspect of a candidates political past should be aired before the voters. How else can they make an intelligent decision.

Maybe sometime soon Mr. Paddock, you could get just one conservative editor. After all, just think of all the potential conservative subscribers.

Disagrees with Columnist's Reference to Tree Experts

I have just read an article in your March 12 edition of the Mount Prospect Herald entitled "Hints to Homeowners" by James Fizzell, associate farm adviser. Alert homeowners dial daily 392-3060.

According to the "Illinois Tree Experts Act" approved July 5, 1957, enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the general assembly, a "Tree Expert" means any person who, for profit, diagnoses the condition of shade or ornamental trees and recommends or supervises the treatment of any such trees, by feeding or fertilizing or by pruning, trimming, bracing, treating cavities or other methods or protects or attempts to protect any such trees from damage by insects or disease by spraying or any other method.

Section 2 provides — no person shall engage in the business of a tree expert without having a license therefor issued by the department. (Amended by act approved July 22, 1959).

In James Fizzell's article he advises homeowners "to avoid becoming easy prey for unscrupulous tree experts with quick cures for the Dutch Elm disease," and concludes with his advice that "when homeowners are in doubt they should call an established, reliable nurseryman or landscaper or your local farm advisor's office."

It seems to me that this is rather bad advice since the People of the State of Illinois have elected to have their tree problems diagnosed by "Tree Experts" only. In order for a nurseryman or landscaper to advise a homeowner he must first be a licensed tree expert. I would venture a guess that not five per cent of all nurserymen and landscapers in this state are also licensed tree experts.

It is further stated in the above mentioned article that "Elm trees infected with Dutch Elm disease die rapidly." According to the Illinois Natural History Survey Circular 46 "Illinois Trees: Their Diseases" by J. Cedric Carter, printed by authority of the State of Illinois at Urbana April, 1961, — page 61 under Dutch Elm disease— "Some trees affected by the fungus Ceratocystis uluri may die slowly over a period of one or more years . . .others may die within a few weeks."

The above mentioned article also states "Some other diseases cause similar symptoms but don't kill the tree." Page 66 of Carter's circular 46 states that "Phloem Necrosis, caused by avivirus is a widespread and destructive vascular disease of American elm and other varieties of elm . . . most elms showing symptoms indicating this disease die in a single growing season. Others die within two or three weeks."

May I suggest a review of Agriculture Information Bulletin No. 193, The Dutch Elm Disease and Its Control, by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture will clarify other points mentioned in the "Hints to Homeowners" article previously referred to.

May I add, gentlemen, that the tone and inflection of this article demands an apology to all the licensed tree experts of this state.

McDonald's

Restaurant Chain Has Research Lab

Everybody's got a research laboratory these days — but whoever expected a chain of self-service hamburger restaurants to turn up with one?

Especially a lab where the emphasis is on electronics — and its application to process control and quality control.

McDonald's has its own research laboratory in Addison, headed by electronics engineer Louis Martino.

The emphasis is on engineering, because the point of the lab is to develop new items of kitchen equipment to turn out McDonald's limited menu—built around the 15-cent hamburger —faster and better.

MARTINO AND his staff of engineers and lab technicians have come up with such inventions as an electronic computer which controls the cooking of French fried potatoes, figuring out everyting from the temperature of the oil to such variables as the solidity of potatoes and the number of potatoes in a basket.

The lab also developed McDonald's unique dispenser which squirts precise amounts of catsup and mustard on each hamburger. Another invention is an alarm device that insures proper carbonation for soft drinks.

The McDonald's chain itself credits the research lab with being a major factor in its phenomenal growth, from a single unit back in 1955 to nearly 600 in 45 states today.

Martino, who heads the lab, has been an electronics engineer for 20 years, also has operated a McDonald's restaurant for five years.

Building Company Moves Its Offices

Houston Homes Inc. has moved its offices from Ferndale Woods to "Stone Gate Center," 606 S. Northwest Hwy., Barrington.

In announcing the move, Herb Houston, firm president, said he is expanding operations to include remodeling and home improvements as well as light commercial construction.

This is the 20th year Houston has been in the custom building field. Formerly he was associated with R. Houston Jr. & Sons, River Forest, which built homes in western and southern suburbs and later in Palatine where the firm erected 165 homes in Fair Grounds Park and Glen Tyan Manor.

Houston moved three and a half years ago to the Barrington area where he has developed Ferndale Woods, two miles east of Barrington on Main Street. He also has built custom homes in the Inverness section and in Barrington Hills.

Plum Grove Homes Give Adults Privacy

"BONUS ONE," a Cape Cod home featuring a separate owner's suite, is one of several furnished model homes now open for inspection at Plum Grove Countryside two miles south of Palatine. (9BB

In the 1964 homes now being shown in Plum Grove Countryside, located on Route 53 two miles south of Palatine, increased attention is being given to today's demands for more adult privacy, plus a more imaginative use of interior space.

Describing his approach to modern home design, builder Albert Riley says, "Even the most understanding parents can be worn down by super-active teenagers and their current craze, whether it be Beatles or rock - and - roll or just noisy growing pains. That's why, in our homes, we emphasize plenty of well - planned space — plus a separate owner's suite, with private bath and bedroom, as a real retreat for today's hard-pressed parents."

THESE DESIGN features are now receiving special acclaim from visitors to the community's "Bonus One" model, a distinctive, story - and - a - half Cape Cod, priced from $22,900, plus site.

Of brick and wood construction, the high gabled roof and early colonial exterior features of the "Bonus One" catch the visitor's eye at once. Diamond-paned windows and the double front door, well protected by the extended roof, add further distinction.

The foyer is laid with vinyl flooring and to the left of it a wide stairway has a colonial-styled wrought iron railing. Both the spacious living room, and the formal dining room, opening from the living room, enjoys plenty of natural light via large windows.

The adjacent kitchen is designed for today's busy family. The many matching cabinets and the built-in range, oven, hood and fan are in a practical U-shape, with a large pass-through provided into the family room. Here, a popular option is a table-high, open-hearth early American fireplace for charcoal broiling.

THE FAMILY room is centrally located toward the rear of the house, has plenty of informal meal space, its own rear garden entrance and a big closet. From this room, too, there is a private entrance to the large owner's suite.

Occupying almost an entire wing of the house, the owner's suite includes a 16½ by 13½ foot bedroom, a big dressing room with extra - wide vanity, full bath, huge clothes closet, a second smaller closet and its own utility closet.

The powder room of the "Bonus One" is centered conveniently on the first floor.

On the second floor are the main bathroom, five closets and two bedrooms, one double size.

ANOTHER option is a one or two-car garage.

The "Bonus One" and four other fully-furnished models are open from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily. (9BB

Check Reputation of Upholstery Hucksters

"Would you like to beautify your home by reupholstering your sofa or chairs? Only $38 plus fabric. Free plastic slip covers," reads the offer.

Before you phone this company making this "fabulous, money-saving offer," check out its reputation, advises the Chicago Better Business Bureau. A few firms have used such offers as a lure to switch customers to reupholstering contracts of $200 to $300. Too late prospects found they could have purchased new furniture for the cost of the reupholstering.

Most firms offer quality work and fabric at a fair price. But customer satisfaction does not concern every firm in this business, according to the business bureau. Some slap the work together, using shoddy materials, hoping somehow the customer will accept delivery and not compiain.

A few customers say they have even been denied a look at their repaired furniture before payment is expected — in cash.

ONE CHICAGOAN paid $112 for reupholstering a reclining chair. When returned, the chair would not recline. Back it went to the factory. A month later, after repeated calls, it was again returned to the customer. Not one alteration had been made; it appeared to have been untouched the entire time.

Another customer paid $145 for reupholstering a sofa. When it was returned, three months later, the padding was lumpy, blue thread was used to stitch gold fabric, tacks were falling out and the style was not that ordered. Repeated phone calls to the salesman and manager brought the answer, "He's out."

Still another customer, on complaining that chair seams were coming apart shortly after delivery, was sent a needle and thread and told to "Do it yourself."

One chair was returned with the fabric cut diagonally across the seat covers. Another had contrasting arm covers. Couch cushions had alternate round and squared corners.

THE "FREE plastic seat cover" is frequently an unfulfilled enticement. It, like "free restyling," "free pick-up and delivery within 100 miles" and "custom made" are often empty claims and seldom available at the price quoted, the bureau said.

One Chicago upholsterer advertised "more than 200,000 yards of fabrics to choose from —as low as $1 per yard."

A Better Business Bureau investigator invited a salesman to her home and asked to see the $1 fabrics. She was shown two samples which were hurriedly returned to a sample case with the remark, "You don't want this stuff. I'll choose a perfect fabric for your home, guaranteed to fit in with your decor."

The salesman's selection with labor would have cost her $98 for one chair.

THE MAJORITY of dissatisfaction with plastic slip covers concerns companies that extend ridiculous guarantees. They promise to repair all splits, tears, seam openings and zipper breakdowns that may occur for 10 years.

One company stated these services were available "whenever possible." Complaintants say, "It's never possible." This same company advertised itself as being the "oldest, most reliable plastic cover company in the field."

To avoid problems and complaints in this field, the bureau advises, ask questions before you invest — not after you sign the contract.

Ford Assembly Plant To Observe 50th Year

Ford Motor Company will celebrate 50 years of assembling automobiles in Chicago next week.

Ceremonies Thursday also will mark the 40th anniversary of the company's present Chicago assembly plant at 12600 S. Torrence Ave., and signify preparations for the start of a second production shift March 30 with the addition of 1,000 employes. The plant assembles the Ford Custom and Galaxie models.

As part of the observance, approximately 150 persons, including civic and governmental leaders, are expected to tour the assembly plant and watch the 3,770,000th Chicago - built Ford roll off the final line. A luncheon will follow at the Dorchester Club in Dolton.

PILOT PRODUCTION of Chicago-built Fords began in December, 1913, and full assembly got under way in March, 1914, at a new plant at 3915 S. Wabash Ave. Despite an expansion in 1917, demand still outstripped production capacity and in 1923 the company began construction of the present plant on S. Torrence. Assembly operations were transferred there in March, 1924.

Following wartime production of 5,719 armored cars, the plant underwent several expansions, including a 50 per cent increase of floor space in 1958.

Last year, partly in preparation for the addition of a second shift, the Torrence Ave. plant added an additional 77,800 square feet to its operations.

ONE OF 16 Ford Motor Company assembly plants in the United States, the Chicago facility distributes cars to nearly 100 dealers in the Chicago sales district comprising parts of Illinois and Indiana, and to dealers in 17 other states.

Addition of the second shift will permit assembly of more than 700 cars a day on a straight - time basis, compared with about 350 on a single straight-time shift. The straight time annual payroll will rise about 30 per cent to approximately $14,000,000. Employment is being increased to approximately 3,000. (BB

Announce Cast for MOS Show 'Kismet'

Music On Stage, Inc., will present the following area residents in major roles and directorships in the musical comedy "Kismet" running April 2 through 5 at Prospect Little Theatre.

A. Robert Topel, 3898 N. Ruby St., Schiller Park, will have the leading role of the impudent rogue, Hajj.

The role of Marsinah will be depicted by a newcomer to MOS, Miss Carol Rogers, 219 N. Rohlwing Road, Palatine.

CAROL, a Palatine High School senior, won the female classification for the 1963 Northwest Area Talented Teens Contest and is now making preparations to enter Wheaton College as a voice major this summer.

Ronn Farland, 105 N. Emerson, Mount Prospect, a college administration counselor for Luther College, will be seen as the romantic and lovelorn Caliph of Baghdad.

Ronn is working on his master's degree as Northwestern and hopes in the future to attend Lutheran School of Theology in Maywood.

AS WELL AS her contralto voice, the physical measurements of one Mount Prospect grandmother will be utilized in the seductive role of Lalume, the wazir's favorite wife.

Mrs. Arnold E. Cassel of 131 S. Owen, known to many as "Jacqui," desires to render Lalume memorable.

Henry Vandenboom, 89 W. Manchester Drive, Wheeling, will portray the bloodthirsty Wazir of police.

He was seen as Constable Locke in the 1963 MOS production of "The Music Man."

Accent on Art at Baird and Warner

The accent is on modern art in the new Baird & Warner Mount Prospect branch of the Arlington Heights office located at 21 E. Prospect Ave., where three area artists are exhibiting their work.

The paintings cover various subjects and add a dramatic note to the electric blue and white color scheme in the real estate firm's new suburban headquarters.

Participating in the Baird & Warner exhibit are Louise Elam 1501 Euclid, and Aloise W. Zehner, 20 S. Salem Ave., both of Arlington Heights, and Sylvia Birch Halperin, 288 Auburn Ave., Winnetka.

THE THREE are juried gallery artists at the Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner St., Arlington Heights, where Mrs. Elam and Mrs. Zehner are represented in the current show, "March Galaxy." Other works by Mrs. Halperin may be seen upon request.

The Baird & Warner exhibitors have shown their work widely and are well known for their participation in art education programs.

Information about purchasing works on view in the Baird & Warner Mount Prospect office may be obtained by calling Mrs. Ruth Cournoyer, CL 9-0946, exhibition chairman for the Countryside Art Center, Inc.

Auditions End, BOB Tells Major Roles

Culminating three days of auditions, the selection of the major leads for the spring production of Best-Off Broadway Players' "Finian's Rainbow" has been announced.

The BOB Players have begun rehearsals for this whimsical show that is highlighted with Irish ballads, wit, and legend.

The cast will take to the stage of the Barrington High School Auditorium on the evenings of May 15, 16, and 17.

SHARON McLonergan (Lynn Jessen of Arlington Heights) and her father, Finian (Edward Joyce of Arlington Heights), have left Glocca Morra, Ireland, to come to America to develop a new and unusual southern crop . . .gold!

A leprachaun, Og (Allan Shields of Arlington Heights) pursues the two McLonergans to retrieve the crock-of-gold Finian "Borrowed" from the leprechauns, leaving them vulnerable to becoming mortal.

Woody (Lloyd Bourdon of Palatine) tries his romantic best to welcome Sharon to America, while his mute sister (Cathie Derer of Wauconda) entrances the semi-mortal Og with her dancing. Sen. Rawkins (Charles Edwards of Elgin), aided by his stooge Buzz (Jerry Weiss of Wauconda), provides comis contributions and complications to the plot.

THE SHERIFF (Fred Shiavo of Arlington Heights) tries to placate both the residents of Rainbow Valley, Missitucky, and the loud - mouthed Senator Rawkins.

Directing the show will be Errol Pearlman, whose previous experience with the BOB Players was service as director of music for last season's production of "Silk Stockings."

Stan McMurray, named musical director for this season's BOB Players production, is a fresh talent who has chosen music for his vocation and avocation.

HE IS A MUSIC teacher in District 21 of the Wheeling School District and has brought conducting and singing talents to community theater projects.

A northwest suburban dance instructor, Doris Val of Arlington Heights, has been selected as choreographer for the "Finian's Rainbow" production.

Miss Val has had professional experience with the WLS radio circuit dancers and has performed with the Lenore Sutton Dancers and the Merriel Abbott Dancers. (Bill

ROMY SCHNEIDER is the war-wearied entertainer who attracts the attentions of George Hamilton, right, and Michael Callan in Carl Foreman's "The Victors," starting Friday at the Catlow Theatre in Panavision. "The Victors," a Highroad production for Columbia Pictures release, also stars Vincent Edward, Albert Finney, Melina Mercouri, Jeanne Moreau, George Peppard, Maurice Ronet, Rosanna Schiaffino, Elke Sommer and Eli Wallach.

'3 Cheers' Open Now In Chicago

"Three Cheers For The Tired Businessman," starring Tom Williams, has completed the first 12-week lap of the long run which producers George Marienthal and Arthur Cantor now confidently predict for the intimate musical comedy revue which is the current attraction at the unique Happy Medium Theatre — located at the intersection of Rush, Delaware and Wabash in the heart of Chicago's near - north side entertainment bastion.

The plush Rush Street playhouse has housed only hits since its opening in June of 1960.

THE HAPPY Medium Theatre's initial production, "Medium Rare," became the longest run success in Chicago's legitimate stage history, when it racked up a two year run. Its successor, "Put It In Writing," also a revue, achieved a 17 months engagement.

Now, "Three Cheers For The Tired Businessman," a show of the same genre as its two distinguished predecessor productions, may set a new record for the legit stage longevity, if box-office receipts in the early months of the run are any indication of its long-pull potential. (Bill

AAUW Branches Hear Plans for Conference

"There is no sound like the sound of the City-Indianapolis" or so members of the Northwest Suburban and Arlington Heights Branches of the American Association of University Women are being told. This was contained in a recorded invitation to attend the Northeast Central Regional Conference of AAUW which will be held in Indianapolis April 23-25. One thousand college-educated women from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin will be attending sessions devoted to current and projected developments in the fields of science, education, family living, and international affairs.

Plans for this 18th biennial conference have been announced by Mrs. George E. Bailey, Arlington Heights, AAUW vice president for the Northeast Central Region, and member of the Northwest Suburban Branch. As conference program chairman, Mrs. Bailey said, "Our own conference program follows the areas of study recommended at the AAUW national convention last summer."

DR. ORR E. REYNOLDS, director of the bioscience programs division of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, will be the banquet speaker April 24. A symposium on "Bridging the Gap between Science and the Layman" will be moderated by Dr. Patricia Lanier, Wisconsin division state president. Adolph Wolter, Indianapolis artist of international reputation; Dr. Virginia Akins, professor of biology at Wisconsin State College; and Dr. George John, physicist at the Air Force Institute of Technology, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, will present the symposium.

Northeast Central Region comprises the largest membership of the 10 regions in the American Association of University Women. The organization has long pioneered in the area of educational opportunities for women by recognizing colleges and universities which meet certain standards, by offering fellowships for graduate study, and by encouraging continuing education through study group organizations.

NORTHWEST Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women again has reached its fellowship goal of $500. The Fellowships Committee of the Branch has recommended that this named gift be called "The Northwest Suburban Illinois Branch Fellowship" and be assigned to the American endowment category.

"A fellowship is a sum of money awarded for advance study or research for an academic year or longer. This is in contrast to a scholarship which is for undergraduate study or a grant which is for a short term project. AAUW awards only fellowships, commented the group's president, Mrs. E. V. Carlson of Prospect Heights.

"THE BRANCH'S assignment of its fellowship to American endowment means that the annual stipend to the recipient is financed by interest earned on an endowment fund and that the Branch has restricted its use to women who are citizens of the United States," Mrs. Carolyn added.

Application forms for national fellowships can be obtained from and filed with the American Association of University Women Fellowship Office. Fifty American fellowships are awarded each year by the AAUW Committee on Fellowships with amounts varying from $3,000 to $5,0000.

She discusses sculpture by Mrs. Bruce Fink with Bill Wimmer and Mrs. Wayne Harmon, both Gallery directors. During her tour of the Gallery, Mrs. Percy commented on the sculpture, pottery and paintings. While Mrs. Percy loves to paint, her busy schedule does not leave much time for it. A PADDOCK REVIEW

Experiment Succeeds For Masque & Staff

by JOAN REDDY
Drama Critic

With its most recent production, "The Moon Is Blue," Masque and Staff, Elk Grove's Community Theater, has embraced the true suburban art form — the dinner theater.

Thanks to the good services of the Maitre d' Restaurant and director Shirley Johnson, the experiment is a success.

Director Johnson is to be congratulated on transforming the downstairs banquet room into a theater.

Placing the two sets of the play in different parts of the room is a novel idea, which also must have involved a gigantic effort in keeping the audience's sight lines clear.

"THE MOON IS Blue" is another of those lightweight sex comedies that is a staple of both Broadway and suburban theater. But playwright F. Hugh Herbert has given his own version an enchanting enhancement, a heroine who is a lovely original. She says what she thinks, and she thinks like nobody else.

In spite of the fact that she is a pick-up, she has no difficulty in protecting her honor from both the young man who did the picking and a middle-aged rake by the simple expedient of discussing sex academically and constantly.

In this pivotal role, Marilyn Presar overcomes her own natural sophistication successfully to become the ingenue. On occasion, she's a bit too wide-eyed, but on the whole, she accomplishes the difficult task of making this unbelievable kook come to life.

DEAN PRESAR, Marilyn's real life husband, cast in the role of the young man who is destined to be ever puzzled and ever charmed by his little pick-up, makes an attractive hero.

Although his timing and delivery, like the rest of the cast's is excellent, his performance lacks breadth.

He is a little too dry as the play progresses. The audience can't quite believe that he's the gay bachelor.

BEST PERFORMANCE of the evening is delivered by Bob Johnson as the lothario who drops in. He has a faultless way with a line and the instinct for split - second timing. His light hand combines a twinkle with the leer and makes the depraved life look delightful.

In the brief role of the girl's father, Norm Lueck displays a convincing Irish brogue and a healthy pair of lungs.

For those interested in satisfying their appetites for food and theater, Masque and Staff's noble experiment will take place again next weekend.

Masque and Staff asks its audience to fill out a questionnaire in which it asks if dinner theater should be continued — to which I answer a hearty "Yes." (Bill

"LOCKS AND CLOCKS," familiar terms to banker Harold F. Glandt (left), receive a different interpretation from artist Phoebe Moore, his Highland Park neighbor, who is currently exhibiting in the Art Corner at Des Plaines National Bank. Mrs. Moore's collage by this title is among her works on display throughout the month of March in the bank at Lee and Ellinwood in Des Plaines where Glandt is vice president and cashier.

Retarded Children Needs Explored

Sheltered Workshop Proposed

by TOM EDWARDS
Staff Writer

Will facilities and programs for all retarded children eventually be available in local school districts? Is there any thought being given to establishing a "sheltered workshop" in the northwest suburbs? Is the state considering regional clinic services for children?

These were some of the questions directed to a panel of eight experts March 12 at a public program sponsored by the Northwest Suburban chapter of the Illinois Council for Exceptional Children at Prospect High School.

The panelists represented practically all the education and treatment services available locally for handicapped children. Purpose of the program was to give a composite idea of what services are available—and what needs to be made available.

THE EVENT was of major significance since it represented the first time that spokesmen for these service agencies had met together.

Perhaps the most significant result of the meeting stemmed from a question on "sheltered workshops" voiced fro mthe audience of about 60.

An idea that the various local independent agencies working with handicapped children jointly undertake the establishment of a sheltered workshop in this area was discussed in an impromptu conversation in the school corridor following the meeting, it was reported.

IT WAS generally agreed during the meeting discussion that a "sheltered workshop," which would provide both vocational training and employment of handicapped persons, is needed locally.

Such workshops have already been established in Park Ridge, River Grove, it was pointed out, and others in other suburban areas.

Donald Becker, director of Little City in Palatine, reported that Little City is in the process of setting up a sheltered workshop which, it is hoped, can be integrated into the general community and serve as a model for others.

HELEN Appeldoorn, director of the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization, noted that the establishment of a workshop is being studied by her organization.

Other topics included integration of handicapped children into programs with normal children, with one question dealing specifically with Mongoloid children.

Mongoloid children can be fitted into programs with normal children, it was advised by Donald Meier, administrator of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic. "Extreme success" with integrating some of these children into camp life with normal children was reported by Martha Copeland, director of the handicapped children's program sponsored by the Young Men's Jewish Council.

CLIFFORD Lothary of the Northwest Suburban YMCA indictated that one difficulty that may arise is getting such children to take the initial step of joining in an activity with other children.

Most hotly discussed topic was the certainty of determining the intelligence and individual talents of handicapped children, and the accuracy of present methods of assigning them to various program levels.

General consensus was that there now exists a quite definite chance of erring in determining mental abilities, but progress is being made in understanding the thinking and recognizing potential talents of handicapped children.

ESTABLISHMENT of several new programs and expansion of existing ones is being studied by the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization, consisting of 10 area school districts, Mrs. Appeldoorn said.

Under consideration are classes for the very deaf, expansion of the present program for mentally retarded children to include those for which there are now no facilities, more vocational training facilities, and "cane training" for blind pupils.

Panel moderator Kenneth Gill, superintendent of Wheeling-Buffalo Grove School District 21, said that more thought might be given to changing schools to fit children, rather than fitting children into school systems.

MEIER COMMENTED that the state is taking action to get local school districts to provide programs for handicapped children. "With a little more education," much of the social "stigma" of being handicapped will disappear, he said.

Ruth Meyer, representing United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago, answered to a question that facilities for such children are short in the northwest suburbs. Her organization is working to extend services to this area, she said.

A special class of cerebral palsied children is being contemplated by the local school districts, Mrs. Appeldoorn added, plus some physical therapy facilities.

HERE IS a synopsis of services available for local handicapped children, in the chronological order described at the meeting:

1) Department of Children and Family Services, State of Illinois, was created to "provide social services to children and their families, to operate children's institutions, and to provide certain other rehabilitative and residential services as enumerated in this act, Herschold Allen, the Chicago regional director, related.

Problems this agency deals with are child neglect and abuse, caring for homeless children, and providing counseling for handicapped children "when not otherwise available."

Allen said there is a movement to establish "zone clinics" for diagnostic and temporary care of children. They would serve perhaps a radial area of 75 miles, he said.

Meier added that there are 5,000 children in Chicago waiting for beds in the state's overcrowded mental institutions.

2) THE Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization is a joint organization of the elementary and high school districts of Palatine, Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Elk Grove, and Schaumburg to increase educational facilities for the handicapped. One district may undertake a special education program to which all will send their pupils in this category, such as the class for the blind maintained in Wheeling.

Presently the school districts offer special education programs for the educable mentally handicapped, the trainable mentally handicapped, the blind, partially sighted, perceptually handicapped, and pupils with "impaired hearing."

3) Little City, Palatine, is a private institution which offers in residence training and treatment for mentally retarded children. It presently has 80 children from the Chicago Metropolitan area, and is open to persons of all races and religions.

It has a staff of 56 persons, and has nursing care, special education, pre-vocational training, and vocational training. Little City is intended to become a permanent "community" of handicapped persons, for which there will be "intensive" training and treatment services available, and 24-hour supervision. Its director stated that volunteer help is being sought for the institution.

4) NORTHWEST Suburban YMCA, Des Plaines, offers two swimming classes for handicapped children.

5) The University of Illinois had a Division of Services for Crippled Children. It has 12 offices, and helps provide care and treatment for bone deformities, heart deformities, palsy and epilepsy victims, congenital defects, speech defects, and deafness.

6) United Cerebral Palsy of greater Chicago serves the four counties in northeast Illinois. It has summer day camps, a year around day care center, and makes vocational referrals.

7) The Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic in Arlington Heights is mainly a diagnostic and treatment center for Elk Grove, Wheeling, Schaumburg and Palatine Townships. It also makes referrals to other agencies, and has a community mental health education program.

8) CLEARBROOK School in Arlington Heights is a community sponsored but private day school which now has about 28 "trainable mentally handicapped" children.

9) The Child Guidance Clinic in Palatine is a private clinic operated by a group of child psychiatrists and psychologists.

10) The Young Men's Jewish Council operates clubs and camps for children, and integrates handicapped children into its program with normal children when possible.

Children with all types of mental and physical handicaps are accepted in the council's program.

The northwest chapter of the Illinois Council for Exceptional Children is an organization of northwest suburban nurses, special education teachers, social workers and interested parents. In existence seven years, it plans programs to "improve educational opportunities for exceptional children" and to aid to the professional knowledge of its members.

A PANEL DISCUSSION on the education and care of handicapped children was sponsored by the Northwest suburban chapter of the Illinois Council for Exceptional Children at Prospect High School March 12. From left are moderator Kenneth Gill, District 21 school superintendent; Hershold Allen, of the Children and Family Services Department of the state; Helen Appeldoorn, director of the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization; Donald Becker, director of Little City in Palatine; Cliff Lothary of the Northwest YMCA; Minna Hildebrand, representative of the Crippled Children Services Division of the University of Illinois; Ruth Meyer of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago; Donald Meier, of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic, Clearbrook School, and a private children's psychiatric clinic; Martha Copeland, director of the Young Men's Jewish Council's program for handicapped children.

Fun, Fuss from Mr. Bunny

Easter Eggs Go High Hat In New Decoration Ideas

The fussy Easter bunny will be delighted to play at your home if you greet him with some new and different Easter eggs.

All the festive eggs can be made with crepe paper, construction paper, doilies, paper lace, little flowers and bits of ribbon. Plenty of glue also will be essential. Little nut cups may be used as the egg stands, or even formed into petite hats.

The eggs should not be boiled! They should be simmered gently over low heat for about 20 minutes. After cooking, pour off the hot water and fill the sauce pan with cold water so the shells will peel off easily.

HOME ECONOMISTS from United States Stamping Company, manufacturer of a line of Fiesta patterned porcelain enamelware, have several suggestions for decorating the eggs.

ROSES

To make the dainty roses, cut small petals from crepe paper. Make sure to cut the petals with the grain of the paper. Stretch the petals until the tops curve. Glue the petals to the egg, starting at the top and continuing around the egg until it resembles a rose. Glue little sequins or strips of paper to the top as the stamen. The "stem" can be a nut cup covered with green paper. Leaves may be cut from green construction paper and attached to a wire.

FANCY EGGS

To make the fancy or "gift" eggs, you will need narrow velvet ribbon in several colors, gold paper lace (available in strips), doilies, strips or pictures of small flowers, and the ever-faithful glue.

Glue the gold lace to the egg, either in stripes or around the egg. Glue the ribbon next to the lace. Cut out small medallions from the doilies and glue them on the egg, or put little flower pictures on the eggs. If you use colored eggs, be sure to coordinate your colored ribbon with the color of the egg. After the body of the egg is finished, attach a small bow with glue on top to give the egg a "gift" look.

FUNNY FACES

Little ducks can be made by cutting "bills" from construction paper. Eyes, too, are made from construction paper. The little girl duck should have a pert velvet bow on her head, and the boy duck a jaunty hat made from a nut cup.

The saucy little girl is a pale pink egg. Her eyelashes and heart-shaped mouth are made from paper. Her braids are strips of braided crepe paper. Cut crepe paper to form fringed bangs. Keep the braids in one long strip and glue them to the top of the head. Then glue the bangs on top of the braids. Trim the braids and tie with velvet ribbon. Cut a big sun bonnet from yellow paper. The pert daisy also is from construction paper. The collar of the little girl is a paper doily, and the stand, a nut cup.

Last, but certainly not least, is the long awaited Easter bunny. He is a pale pink egg. His ears are made from pink construction paper. Spread glue over the back of the ears and apply bits of cotton. Put a light crease down the center of the ears so it will be shaped. Mr. Bunny's eyes are fringed construction paper . . . his nose and mouth bits of red paper and . . . his whiskers thin strips of black paper. Make his collar from construction paper and his bow tie from velvet ribbon.

If you decide not to color all the eggs at one time, they may be stored in a covered Fiesta porcelain enameled sauce pan and kept in the refrigerator until later decoration or shelling.

GREET THE EASTER bunny at your home this year with gaily decorated eggs to resemble flowers, funny faces and even "gift" eggs. The eggs are hard-cooked in a gay Fiesta saucepan, and then "glamorized" with bits of ribbon, paper and doilies.

Issue School Bus Tips for Children

With more and more of the nation's children using school buses for transportation, the Chicago Motor Club offers these suggestions to parents and children to help them achieve accident-free trips to and from classes.

—Youngsters should arrive at the bus stop in plenty of time to avoid rushing.

—Children should wait at a location well off the roadway.

—There should be no pushing or racing for seats while getting on or off the bus. Orderly students are less likely to get excited and forget the dangers of traffic.

—At no time should a child put his arms or head out of the bus windows.

—Loud, boisterous activity and commotion should be avoided as it distracts the bus driver. Children should remain seated while the bus is in motion.

—All instruction from the bus driver should be followed carefully.

—If at all possible parents should accompany very young children to and from the bus stop. This is especially important if the child must cross streets or highways.

—Motorists approaching school buses from either direction should be extremely alert for the unexpected actions of children who might dart into the street.

WELCOME WAGON

Scenic Adventure Awaits Travelers

by JEAN GREGOR

TOYKO, JAPAN — Commodore C. Perry opened Japan to the Western world in 1853, and tourists have been flocking there ever since. Tokyo, and the famous tourist areas west of that city, attract most of the visitors, but the great northeast is justly coming into its own for travelers to the main island of Honshu.

The entire northeast area can be reached by comfortable train from Tokyo, with a selection of routes available to satisfy individual interests and time allowed. Domestic air service also connects several of the major destinations, reports the Pacific Area Travel Association.

The town of Fukushima, five hours northeast of Tokyo by express train, is one focal point for sidetrips. Iizaka Spa, a lovely onsen or hot spring town nestled at the mouth of a river gorge in the foothills of a great ring of mountains, is just 20 minutes from there. With Kaminoyama and Higashiyama, Iizaka forms a trio of pleasure resorts in northeastern Japan.

MT. RYOZEN to the east has in the past few years gained recognition as one of the top scenic spots in Japan. Soaring 2,657 feet above sea level, the view from the top is a panorama of the surrounding district and Pacific seashore. Hiking enthusiasts can reach the summit in about two hours from Ryozen Shrine at the foot of the mountain.

Moving up the northeastern coast to Miyagi prefecture, one comes to the city of Sendai, capital of the prefecture and culture center of northern Honshu. Sendai is surrounded by low hills covered with a dense growth of trees, and the city itself is beautified by so many lovely groves that it is often called "Mori no miyako," or metropolis of woods. Points of interest are the mausoleum of the 17th century Date family, Sakuragaoka and Tsutsujigaoka Parks. Sendai can be reached by air from Tokyo in less than two hours.

Only 20 minutes by train from Sendai takes one to the coast and Shiogama, the jumping-off point for a visit to Matsushima or Pine Island, so named because of the hundreds of pine-clad islands which dot Matsushima Bay.

A ferry from Shiogama weaves its way through the isles to attractive Matsushima Park. In the park center, the Matsushima Park Hotel commands a picturesque view of the bay, especially effective by moonlight.

NO VISITOR will soon forget the fantastic variety in size and shape of the islands of Matsushima, with their aged pine trees clinging unbelievably, in the most impossible positions, to their scantily-soiled surfaces.

Nearby, Takayama is a very pleasant resort with good bathing beaches and another magnificent view of the bay.

Returning to Sendai, there are any number of inviting spas within easy traveling distance. Skiers pass through several of them on their way to Mt. Zao, a dormant volcano towering 6,070 feet on the boundary between Miyagi and Yamagata prefectures.

Mt. Zao is one of the most popular skiing resorts in northern Japan with extensive slopes of varying gradient all over the mountain, snow-covered from December to April. Many of the runs wind among trees completely inundated with snow, enhancing the challenge as well as the beauty of the terrain. Less athletic sightseers visit the resort regularly, simply for the scenery.

CROSSING OVER to the Sea of Japan coast and Akita prefecture (reached by air from Matsushima or rail from Fukushima, Sendai or Matsushima) the city of Akita serves as a convenient base for tourists. Senshu Park in the city occupies former castle grounds and is encircled by the old moat. Akita has been a garrison town since 733 A.D.

Oga peninsula, just north of Akita, is famous for the oddly-shaped rock formations along its shore. Excursions to the peninsula are not always possible, but are well-worth making when weather permits.

AT FUNUKAWA, motorboats may be hired which thread their way through the rocks in about five hours. A stop for lunch is made at Ajigashima Isle, to the right of which is a splendid 400 foot waterfall.

Kojaku-gakutsu cave is in front of the falls and may be reached through a very narrow passage between high cliffs and penetrated for about 160 yards. On the eastern side of the peninsula lies Hachiro Lagoon, 49 miles in circumference and the largest body of water in Japan, next to Lake Biwa.

In winter, fishermen may be seen catching some 20 species of fish by means of a trawling net let down through holes in the ice.

Other attractions of Akita prefecture include several excellent skiing areas, some with nearby hot springs; the famous "White Drooping-Cherry Tree," the trunk of which measures 20 feet in circumference; Lake Tazawa, the deepest lake in Japan, having a depth of 1,400 feet and startling visibility to a depth of almost a hundred feet; and others.

Visitors to Japan's northeast prefectures are advised to plan carefully, for the area is extensive and there is much to be seen and enjoyed. For more information on Japan, write to the Pacific Area Travel Association, 442 Post Street, San Francisco, Calif.

Winter Vacation

Montreal's Charm Is Minutes Away

MONTREAL, CANADA — This French provincial city welcomes visitors from almost every state in the union. Grown from a perilous missionary colony in 1642 to a bustling metropolis bilingual, Montreal has become one of the toruist meccas of America.

This time of year, the greatest attraction is the winter resort areas offered by the unparalleled beauty and challenge of Mount Royal, gateway to the famed Laurentian skiing country, which is rated as one of the greatest of its kind in the world.

This 764-foot high mountain, towering from the very heart of the downtown area has remained the center of attraction ever since special legislation directed that it be preserved as a national park "forever."

From its summit one views a vast scene, more than 60 miles in some directions.

The splendor of the city itself is revealed and one sees the mighty St. Lawrence River stretching from the wide mountains of New Hampshire on the south to the far reaches of the Laurentians in the north. Blessed by this source of inspiration, globetrotters insist that this view is unparalled in all of North America.

MONTREAL'S special appeal to visitors from the midwest is not limited to nature or history. There is a unique and authentic atmosphere of French "presence."

The city has retained the flavor of its French origin which can be felt in every aspect of day to day life. The newcomer will soon hear French spoken on the streets, in hotels and in restaurants.

Most French - speaking citizens can converse in fluent English and so the true charm and flavor of visiting this Paris-like city is in its offering of the feeling of France itself.

WHILE provincial in custom, Montreal is cosmopolitan in atmosphere presenting authenticity in its variety of truly good eating places.

The gourmet cuisine is a blend of national traditions and French history dating back more than 200 years. It is not surprising to note that visitors make eating in Montreal one of their prime objectives.

Eating becomes an art and this too has helped to turn the city into a top convention center for businessmen from throughout the Midwest. Fine foods, magnificent scenery, French atmosphere and traditional hospitality has been blended into a receipt of complete travel pleasure.

AND YET, it's hard to believe that all of this lies within minutes distance away from us today.

In this modern day of jet airline travel, one can depart from Chicago's International Airport on a non-stop flight and be in Montreal in just two hours time.

Your excursion "a la francaise" begins immediately, for swift jet service is offered from that Midwestern city by Air France, the French National Airline. Thus, you can enjoy French atmosphere cuisine and service, truly France — aloft in preparation for your days of splendor in French Canada.

For a weekend or winter, Montreal can be your Paris in America. (T

Auto Dilemma

Why Bucket Was Kicked

by JODY CARR

They tell me the automobile has brought about more marriages than the "Harvest Moon." Even in the good old days of floor gear shifts, a determined prince charming managed to woo his lady fair. Imagine how lovers must have hailed the column shift when it came into the picture before World War II . . . and the automatic transmission!

CARR

Things were going along beautifully until somebody came up with bucket seats . . . and . . . four-on-the-floor. Acceptance of these options among the youngsters raised some interesting questions — and eyebrows — among car designers. Had romance yielded to pizazz?

FACED WITH the problem of whether to make bench-type or bucket seats standard equipment in its 1963 Falcon convertible, Ford Motor Company conducted a survey among several hundred college students. The question . . . "Do you prefer bucket seats or bench-type seats in cars?"

Thirty-three per cent of the men having a "first date" and 42 per cent of the women actually chose bucket seats. In the going steady crowd, a startling 27 per cent of the men but only 15 per cent of the women wanted separate seats. These boys and girls really were in college to get an education.

Aswe progress from love to marriage, we find dissenters among the honeymooners (but not many) where 21 per cent of the men and 11 per cent of the women turned thumbs down to a bench-type seat.

According to the survey, one married student couldn't remember whether he had preferred buckets or bench-type seats on dates. There was no indication of how old this married student was.

I SUPPOSE automobile manufacturers must obtain substantiating facts and figures when faced with design decisions such as this. But this is one time they might have let human nature be their guide.

The old songs about a fella, his girl and his automobile have new lyrics now. "Come away with me, Lucille . . ." comes across today sounding like "Yeah, yeah, baby, let's dig out . . . ", but the idea is still the same.

Ford kept the bench seat as standard equipment. (S

Easter Lamb Cake Heralds Spring's Arrival

Lends a Gay Note To Holiday Meals

by LOIS SEILER

Symbolic of Spring is the Easter Lamb Cake which Mrs. Ray C. Manske uses as a festive centerpiece and serves as dessert for the family's Easter dinner.

"I searched for a good lamb cake recipe for years," Mrs. Manske said, "and found one right in our own family."

The recipe came from her husband's grandmother and is similar to a pound cake, yet is lighter in texture.

Called Mother's Cake, the batter makes enough for two lamb molds, or it can be baked in a tube pan for a high and moist-textured cake.

Mrs. Manske frosts the lambs or the tube cake with her family's favorite butter cream icing, which is very light and fluffy. And of course the lamb cake may be decorated, too.

Of the many delicious delicacies that this good cook bakes, she has found that two have been especially well received. One is dainty kolacky, and the other, appealing apple slices.

Mrs. Manske and her mother-in-law often work together experimenting with recipes, and they revised the original kolacky to suit their taste.

The dough simply consists of three ingredients: butter (no substitutes), cream cheese and flour. Refrigerated overnight, the dough can be rolled out in either flour or confectioners' sugar.

"It takes more time and patience to roll the dough out in confectioners' sugar," Mrs. Manske said, "but the results are better." Cut in squares, the kolacky are filled with an apricot, prune or cheese filling, and the corners are pinched together.

Baked for 8 to 10 minutes, these dainty and delicate kolacky can be the featured attraction with coffee, or may be included in a cookie assortment.

The delectable apple slices, too, may either be served by themselves or in an arrangement with another sweet, such as chocolate cake. The slices have a rich and crispy crust, a flavorful filling made of tart cooking apples sweetened with sugar and cinnamon, and a top crust that is iced with a confectioners' sugar frosting.

"These are best eaten the day they are made," commented this good cook, who has served them for meetings with coffee as well as for family desserts.

Active in the Elk Grove Garden Club as corresponding secretary, Mrs. Manske is also a member of the Altar Guild of Christus Victor Church and the PTA. Her husband, Ray, is a chef for Citro's Catering Service and enjoys cooking at home, too, although he leaves all of the baking exclusively to Mrs. Manske.

The Manskes live at 200 Ridgewood in Elk Grove Village. They have three children: Frank, 7; Ray, 5, and Richard, 3.

A SYMBOL OF SPRING that is as pretty to look at as it is delicious to taste is the festive Easter Lamb Cake prepared by Mrs. Ray C. Manske of Elk Grove Village. As is evident from the expressions on the faces of Frank, Rick and Ray Manske, their mother's lamb cake is a child's delight! (SH

MOTHER'S CAKE
(For Lamb Mold or Tube Pan)

1 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 eggs, separated
1 cup milk
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Pinch of salt

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Set aside. Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly; add vanilla and beat in egg yolks.

Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Mix well. Fold in stiffly-beaten egg whites.

Turn into a well-greased 10-inch tube pan or two greased lamb molds. (A half recipe will make one lamb cake.)

Bake for one hour in a 350 or 375 degree oven. Let cool for one-half hour before removing from pan. Frost with the following:

BUTTER CREAM FROSTING

2 tablespoons flour
½ cup milk
½ cup cold butter or margarine
½ cup granulated sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla

Mix flour and milk in a shaker until all lumps are dissolved. Cook until thick. Set aside and let cool thoroughly. While cooling, cream butter and sugar until very light and fluffy. Add vanilla. Add thoroughly cooled flour mixture to creamed mixture and beat thoroughly. Makes enough to frost one tube cake or two lamb cakes.

KOLACKY

1 pound butter (no substitute)
2 8-ounce packages cream cheese
4 cups flour

Cream butter and cream cheese together well. Add flour gradually and beat thoroughly. Place in the refrigerator overnight.

Divide dough into two or four parts and use as much as needed. Roll the dough out thin in flour or confectioners' sugar. Cut into two-inch squares and place about ¼ to ½ teaspoon filling, such as Solo Prune or Apricot Filling, on each. Pinch either two or four of the corners together.

Bake 8 to 10 minutes at 350 degrees, watching closely, until lightly-browned. Sprinkle with powdered sugar when thoroughly cooled.

The following cheese filling may also be used for kolacky.

¼ pound dry cottage cheese
1 whole egg
Little sugar to taste
Few drops milk to moisten
Mix infredients together and fill kolacky.

APPLE SLICES

Crust:

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup margarine
2 egg yolks
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup water

Sift flour with salt and cut in margarine. Mix egg yolks, lemon juice and water and blend lightly with flour mixture.

Divide dough into two parts. Roll one piece to fill bottom and sides of a 9 by 13-inch pan. Prepare the following filling:

6 to 8 tart apples, peeled, cored and sliced
¾ cup sugar
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Arrange sliced apples in crust-lined pan. Sprinkle over the apples the mixture of sugar, flour and cinnamon.

Roll remaining dough to fit top; arrange over filling and seal edges. Cut in steam vents and bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. While warm, frost top with the following icing:

1 cup confectioners' sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons milk

Mix ingredients together and spread over warm crust. Cut in squares to serve. (SH

Crisp Cookies

After baking your family's favorite cookies, keep the crisp ones crisp by storing them in a tightly covered container. Soft cookies will stay moist if a slice of bread or apple is kept in the cookie jar. Freshen crisp cookies that do become soft by placing in a slow oven (300 degrees) for about five minutes.

Beef Birds Of German 'Origin'

When substantial, hearty fare is sought for satisfying man-size appetites, look to a meat dish styled in German attire.

German Beef Birds are typical of central Europe, for people there come to meals seeking filling foods. Note the amazement when the men discover they're actually getting two meats at one meal!

A FULL CUT beef round steak is pounded and divided into 6 serving pieces. Then a smoked sausage link is placed on each piece of beef, and the "birds" are formed by rolling the meat like a jelly roll and fastening with wooden picks.

Since the Germans are also sauerkraut lovers, this tart vegetable cooks with the meat, as do tomatoes, onion and caraway seeds. The liquid from the sauerkraut and the tomatoes becomes the braising liquid as the round steak slowly cooks until tender.

GERMAN BEEF BIRDS

1 beef round steak, cut ½ inch thick
6 smoked sausage links
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1 can (16 ounces) sauerkraut
1 can (16 ounces) tomatoes
1 medium onion, sliced
2 teaspoons caraway seeds

Pound steak to ¼ inch thickness. Cut into six serving pieces. Place a sausage link on each piece of steak and roll as a jelly roll. Fasten with wooden picks or skewers.

Brown meat slowly in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Season with salt. Drain sauerkraut, reserving liquid. Add tomatoes, onion, caraway seeds, and liquid from sauerkraut.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 1 hour. Add sauerkraut and continue cooking 30 minutes longer or until meat is tender. Six servings. (SH

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

Allen-Gaides Nuptials Unite Two NaWaTa Avenue Families

Mount Prospect newlyweds, Patricia and Frank Gaides, lived just a block from each other on S. NaWaTa Avenue before their Feb. 8 marriage in St. Raymond Catholic Church, their home parish.

They were school chums before becoming sweethearts, both attending Arlington High School and then graduating from the University of Illinois in 1963.

Their two families, now united in marriage, are the George E. Allens of 818 NaWaTa and the Frank H. Gaideses of 914 S. NaWaTa.

The former Patricia May Allen taught the second semester of last year in Westgate School, Arlington Heights, and is presently a sixth grade teacher at West Junior High School in Prospect Heights. Many of her pupils there witnessed the one o'clock church ceremony.

The groom is an agent for Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. in Chicago.

The couple is still residing "close to home," in an apartment at 222 Washington Square, Elk Grove Village.

THEIR marriage was solemnized by Rev. Father Doyle before an altar banked with large baskets and vases of white glads and mums. For the double ring rites the bride wore a chantilly lace and bombazine gown with a very full skirt sweeping into a chapel train. The scalloped neckline of the lace bodice was adorned with iridescent sequins and pearls.

Completing her attire she wore a 2-tiered bouffant veil held in place by a taffeta peau petal shell crown set with lace and pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of gardenias and carnations.

(Bak Studio

THE BRIDE'S two attendants, a maid of honor and flower girl, complemented each other in gold and white attire. The maid of honor was Sandra Logan of Barrington, who wore a gold satin floor-length gown, simply styled with a floating panel in the back. Her headpiece matched her gown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums interspersed with gold ornaments.

Flower girl Nancy Noelle, 6, of Janesville, Wis., came down the aisle wearing a white silk organza dress with a gold cummerbund and a white crown of pearls in her hair. She carried a white basket of flower petals.

WITH HER was Jerome Noelle Jr., her brother, as ring bearer. The two children are the son and daughter of Jerome Noelle of Janesville, who served as best man for the wedding.

Ushers were Michael Kauffman of Arlington Heights, Frank Dominico of Mount Prospect and Ross Carlson of Chicago.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception, complete with buffet luncheon, took place in Old Orchard Country Club. Sixty guests greeted the pair and were received by the wedding party.

The bride's mother was attired in a beige silk dress with matching flowered hat and accessories and the groom's mother in blue chiffon over brocade with matching accessories. Mrs. Allen carried cymbidium orchids on her beige purse, and Mrs. Gaides had a corsage of white camellias and stephanotis.

The couple had a short honeymoon at the Water Tower Inn in Chicago before settling in their apartment. (S

AN AREA COUPLE, Sondra Provost, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Louie Provost of Wheeling, and Don Moses, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Moses, of Arlington Heights, became Mr. and Mrs. in a recent ceremony in the Fort Sheridan Chapel. The couple is residing in Urbana where the groom is a senior at the University of Illinois, and the bride, a transferee from Northern, is a freshman. (Jenart Studio)

WITH ACCENTS on the new, feminine look, members of Wieboldt's Junior Fashion Board are staging a fashion show Friday evening in Randhurst Town Hall. Among local teens bringing to attention the gay, military and chanel look, are Sally Wolfe, Prospect High; and Linda Brennan, Sacred Heart of Mary, seated.

Sunny Spring Show Set for Randhurst

Ushering in the new season with the return of the feminine look for Spring, 1964, Wieboldt's Junior Fashion Board will present a style show, "Fashions for a Sunny Spring," on Friday, March 20.

Currently selecting accessories to match ensembles they will model in the 7:30 p.m. show to be held in Randhurst Town Hall are 16 area high school teens, all members of the Board. The showing will include the "Chanel look" - emphasizing braids, brass buttons, multiple pockets and collarless jackets in filmy, sheer wools, rayon linen and laminated fabrics.

REPEATING successes of past seasons, military designs from Wieboldt's collection this year boast crisp, simple lines in the favored colors of red, white and blue. All emsembles, suitable for 'round the clock wear, hail the new, soft appearance, both in fabric and color.

Local girls taking part in the show are Nancy Hochschild and Loretta Sebastian of Forest View High; Linda Brennan and Susan Musial, Sacred Heart of Mary; Debbie Allen, Donna Dearen and Sandee Shaerf, Arlington High; Kathy Farleigh and Sally Wolfe, Prospect; Linda Lou Craig, Palatine; and Carole Lukas, Lake Park High, Medinah.

Jaycee Wives Set Benefits For Retarded

At the March 5 meeting of Arlington Heights Jaycee Wives, George Bombach showed a movie entitled "I Speak for Taya," a dramatic story of Clearbrook School for Retarded Children. Club members then discussed future projects to benefit Clearbrook School Building Fund.

A bridge benefit is planned for spring, and a garage sale will be held in early summer.

A recipe book, "Favorite Illinois recipes," compiled by women's clubs throughout the state, is being sold by club members. Orders can be placed by calling CL 9-0663.

The April 2 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Walter Davis, 22 S. Roberts Road, Palatine, with a silent auction heading the program.

'Soil Conditioning' Topic of Gardeners

"Soil Conditioning, Fertilizers and Organic Gardening" will be the subject of Alfred Hale's program for the March 23 meeting of Arlington Heights Garden Club. The place is Pioneer Park Field House, 500 S. Fernandez, Arlington Heights, the time 8 p.m.

Mr. Hale of Wyandotte Chemical Co., Kenosha, Wis., will speak about "Truface," its use in building and maintaining lawns, improving soil conditions, propagating cuttings, mulching and general use in gardens. A non-organic commercial product, it is used extensively by golf courses in the maintenance of greens.

HOSTESSES for the meeting are Mrs. Joseph Koenen and Mrs. R. L. Stauder.

Membership in the club is open to all interested gardeners, both men and women, of the area. Further information is available from Mrs. Donald Castella, CL 3-5745. (S

Bride's Traditional Gown Accented by Peacock Blue

For her late winter nuptials in Our Redeemer Lutheran Church of Prospect Heights, Miss Joann Dormann complemented her traditional white wedding gown with vivid peacock blue, the color chosen for the ensembles of three attendants.

Gowned in a floor-length dress of white lace and taffeta, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marlyn Dormann of 2924 N. Jackson Drive, Arlington Heights, exchanged rings and vows with Daryl M. Stamm Jr. of Des Plaines, the son of the Daryl M. Stamms, Whitewater residents.

A SEEDED pearl tiara held in place Miss Dormann's waist-length net veil, and her outfit was completed with a bouquet of white mums and a silver cross. She was preceded down the aisle by Mrs. Shirley Dawson of Arlington Heights, matron of honor; and bridesmaids. Misses Phyllis Cox of Mount Prospect; and her sister, Jean Dormann.

The peacock blue dresses, in cocktail-length, matched their tiaras, net veils and slippers. In sharp contrast, they carried bouquets formed with white pom pons.

Rev. H. Noll officiated the rites amid altar arrangements of white gladioli at 5 p.m. on Feb. 8. Immediately following the wedding, 125 guests feted the newlyweds at a reception and dinner in Forest River Community Hall in Mount Prospect.

MRS. DORMANN received guests in a bone colored brocade dress with brown accessories, and the groom's mother was attired in a beige metallic dress with pink and bone colored hat, bag and shoes. Both were given corsages of carnations and roses for their outfits.

Best man was Roger Stamm of Whitewater, and ushers were Dean Wollin, Wheeling; and Steve Altenburg, Mount Prospect.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Stamm moved to 1230 Algonquin Road, Des Plaines, after a week's honeymoon in Miami. The bride, a '61 graduate of Prospect High School, is employed at the Household Finance Corp. in Golf Mill Shopping Center. Her groom completed studies at Whitewater High the same year and is presently attending DeVry Technical Institute in Chicago.

He is also working for General Molded Products, Des Plaines. (S

Women Democrats Plan Open House

The Women's Democratic Organization of Wheeling Township will launch the opening of the 1964 season with an open house Tuesday, March 24, 8 p.m., at 111 E. Davis St., Arlington Heights.

The recently-elected board officials met at the home of president, Mrs. Wilburt Thiele, Prospect Heights, to discuss a revision of the organization's by-laws and fund raising events, as well as the proposed open house.

All interested women from the surrounding communities are invited to attend this March 24 "get acquainted" program. Because of the approaching election, the program will offer, after a brief business meeting, a lecture by Edward Smetana, organization secretary, who will answer questions pertaining to the April primary.

OPERATION of a sample voting machine will be demonstrated, and it will be available for inspection. Working chairmen are already organizing a telephone campaign and volunteers are asked to call Mrs. Richard Kerwin, 537-0203.

Don Donahue of the Easterling Company will lecture on "Table Setting" and "Gracious and Casual Living" at the open house. It is felt that this topic will enable women Democrats to entertain their friends and visiting candidates more graciously.

New or former members seeking additional information about the open house, or those who have a transportation problem may call Mrs. Frank Moskal, CL 3-5882. (S

As Personal Improvement chairman, Mrs. Terrill was in charge of the evening's program.

Telephone Theme Chosen For Bethel 103 Meeting

Bethel 103, Jobs Daughters, Arlington Heights, observed advance night last Wednesday. Sue Livingston of 1429 St. James, senior princess, was acting honored queen. Ellen David, Bonnie Birch, and Sue Heilig, also of Arlington Heights, advanced to the offices of senior princess, junior princess and guide, respectively. Senior and junior princesses of 11 neighboring Bethel groups also took part.

Guests of honor for the evening were Gayle Johnson, past honored queen, and Diane Poole, both members of Bethel 103.

The telephone was chosen as the theme for the evening. In the background on the stage curtain was a facsimile of a hugh dial cradle phone, joined by the words, "Hello, Sue." Each guest received a key ring with a miniature phone and a gold key imprinted "Bethel 103." The tables in the dining room also carried out the same theme. There were small plastic phones at each place, and a large plastic phone as the centerpiece.

WHEN THE acting honored queen introduced her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Livingston, they announced that their advance night gift to her was the installation of her own private phone.

On the evening of March 12 two chartered busloads of Bethel 103 members and friends attended the special Ice Capades performance sponsored by the Illinois Jobs Daughters.

Sandy Larsen of Arlington Heights, honored queen of Bethel 103, announced that at 7:15 p.m., immediately preceding the next stated meeting on Wednesday, March 25, there will be an exhibition by the drill team of Bethel 105, Des Plaines. Initiation and refreshments are to follow. (S

Gayle Kompelien Weds Indiana U. Sweetheart

A romance that bloomed at Indiana University culminated in marriage Feb. 15 when Gayle Kompelien of Palatine became Mrs. Robert C. Chesebro. The couple are residing in Hammond, Ind., while both are teaching in schools of that city.

Parents of the bride are the Owen Kompeliens of 49 S. Ashland Ave., Palatine. The groom is the son of the Donald Chesebros of Stevens Point, Wis.

THE BRIDE, a graduate of Palatine High School and Indiana University, is a junior high school teacher in Hammond. Her bridegroom was graduated from Stevens Point College and did graduate work at Indiana before teaching at Hammond High School.

Their marriage took place at 4:30 p.m. in Bethel Lutheran of Palatine with Pastor J. L. Olson officiating. Acolyte David Keller of Palatine lit the altar candles for the double ring rites, and during the ceremony the wedding party chanted "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by Miss M. Heise.

FOR HER wedding day the bride chose a white skinner satin dress in a sheath style, with a scooped neckline embroidered in pearl and crystal beads. Beaded embroidery circled the hemline and front of the floor-length gown, which fell into a chapel train.

The bride's veil was held in place by a beaded headpiece, and she carried a crescent bouquet of white roses surrounded by white carnations.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. Merv Olson as matron of honor and Miss Alexis Kompelien as bridesmaid, were her only attendants. Mrs. Olson, who lives in St. Paul, Minn., wore a blue velvet dress with matching headpiece and carried a crescent bouquet of white carnations.

The bridesmaid, who attends Luther College in Decorah, Iowa, wore identical attire.

The groom's brother, Donald Chesebro of Wisconsin Rapids, was his best man. There was a groomsman, Merville Olson of St. Paul, and also two ushers, Henry Czacher and James Laabs, both of Stevens Point.

Receiving 130 guests at a reception in the church fellowship hall, the bride's mother wore a green and gold brocade dress and had a white cymbidium corsage. The groom's mother chose a pink silk dress and had a matching cymbidium corsage for the wedding and reception.

Exercise Bicycle Is Fitness Time-Saver

For persons who want to be physically fit but who just can't follow a regular program an Elk Grove Village firm has introduced a new exercise bicycle which automatically goes through a 17-minute routine.

Distributed by Home Health Centers, Inc., 2301 E. Oakton St., the exercise bicycle stimulates many types of exercise formerly obtained only from outdoor sports, according to S. B. Gaiber, president of the company.

Pedals, handlebars, and seat move automatically to exercise the arms, shoulders, torso, calves, thighs, hips and midriff.

A BUILT-IN automatic programming timer puts the bicycle through its paces in scientifically computed time intervals for the most beneficial exercise schedule. The 17-minute program consists of mild forward motion, mild reverse motion, vigorous forward motion, and vigorous reverse, with automatic rest periods between each phase.

If desired, the automatic timer can be shut off and the user can select any speed, reverse or forward, for any length of time, Gaiber said. When the user has acquired sufficient power, he can use the bicycle without any help from the motor for maximum exercise value.

ALL WORKING parts, with the exception of the handlebars, seat, and pedals, are fully enclosed in a scuff-resistant vinyl plastic housing. The bicycle can be moved easily and operates silently without vibration and without bolting down.

Handlebars, seat, and pedals are fully adjustable to the user's specifications. The machine which operates on standard AC current, can be used by men, women, and children.

More information is available from Home Health Centers, Inc., 2301 E. Oakton St., Elk Grove Village, telephone 437-3500.

A Boost for Springtime

It's New Hat Time Again For Style-Conscious Gals

By BETTY AINSLIE

Got your Easter bonnet bought? Every spring there is such a flower garden of blooms in the hat departments that it makes a person feel a glad heart lifting just to see all the bright colors.

What's Easter without a new hat? Guess the bonnet has done for Easter what presents have done for Christmas. Good or bad though, the beribboned, flowered bits of fluff we gals tuck on our heads are here to stay.

NOW I'M not a great one for hats; most of them resemble an upturned flower pot on my head! My sentiments that a hat is to keep the head warm is clearly shown in the snappy little bonnets I select.

"That's not as bad as some," is a compliment I hear from daughter about each new of piece of headgear I purchase. Now we both love big hats, the large picture variety, but our favorite males dislike large chapeaux.

I well remember a truly lovely, pale green cartwheel purchased during the big war. It was my pride and joy—big and glamorous with ribbons and nodding roses, and what happened?

WELL, POP deliberately left my hat on the Boston to Cleveland train when we went home on a short leave. I had daughter and coats in hand. Pop was supposed to have the grips and my hat which I'd forgotten. Now he admitted he saw it, but also realized his golden opportunity to start with a portion of my glamour which he didn't like.

For all I know, the hat may be still riding back and forth on the Boston to Cleveland run.

One other large number bought at a later time always brought forth some kind of a derogatory comment from Pop and snickers from other members of the family. Since we do dress to please the men folk and enjoy their compliments, I stick to small hats.

Daughter's favorite male is vocal about his dislike of big hats. Because she is tall and usually emphasizes her height rather than minimizing it, she likes big hats. But not her Engineer. He says flatly.

"I FEEL just like I'm walking under an umbrella." So daughter wears the smallest bit of ribbon or flowers which can pass for a hat.

Women's millinery has been the subject of laughs and raves from the time that hats took over where veils left off during Greek and Roman times.

Actually, men were the first hat wearers. Women, because of their long locks, probably didn't need them. It's only been in very recent times that men have decided sinus trouble is a small price to pay for going bareheaded I guess.

IN MEDIEVAL times caps and hoods were all the same and no competition for the different hat. THAT didn't start until the late Middle Ages. I firmly believe hats reflect a woman's personality. The outgoing clubwoman wears an Original, dashing and different in design or color. She wants to stand out from the general run of sailors, bowlers and snapbrims.

Hats today are made from all manner of materials including felt, straw, velvet, silk and other fabrics, and many talented and ambitious gals make their own chapeaux after a few lessons in an adult evening class.

I've a friend who took a scarf from a wool dress in to have a hat made, only to discover that for about half of the price of making this hat she could take a fashion hat designing course and for ever after make her own—which she does very glamorously. They're beautifully finished, even the insides all match, and she has them in all varieties, colors and shapes. She can have one to match every outfit and is now making many on request to satisfy the demands from friends.

WOMEN SUPPOSEDLY get some kind of a psychological shot of adrenalin when they buy a new hat. The purchase of a new lid is a mood changer and does for a gal what a fishing trip does for a man. But I've a feeling this is a real good bit of propaganda perpetrated by the hat designers and manufacturers.

I don't like to buy hats; buying one does little for this spirit except lower it. In fact I usually end up discovering one eyebrow is plucked crooked or I've a beaut' of a pimple just beginning to blossom or I need a touch of lipstick. The hat — well one style is passable so I buy it always.

If the Easter parading, well-dressed male wears a silk hat which started being manufactured in Florence, Italy back in the middle of the 18th century, and hasn't changed in style since — who am I to try to cut a figure in a modish, high fashion piece of millinery when my favorite sunbonnet or sou'wester is out of style.

It's an idea, though. If I could get Pop into a top hat or a derby, two bits he'd be so self conscious he wouldn't notice if I did wear one of my favorite picture hats this spring.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

Give a Humpty Dumpty Party For Small Fry Birthday Fun

by DOLORES HAUGH

That funny little bunny will be hopping around sooner than we think, and if you have a funny little bunny at your house who is about to have a birthday, and if that bunny is a pre-schooler, try a Humpty Dumpty Party.

INVITATIONS

Cut large eggs to fit standard sized envelopes in white construction paper. Draw or let your small fry draw the features and a large crack or two with crayon or magic marker.

On the back write the following:

I look like an Egg but I'm really not,
HUMPTY DUMPTY is the name I got.
I sat on a wall,
I had a great fall,
But though I'm cracked,
I'm expecting you all
For a birthday party there's going to be.

Won't you come and celebrate it with me?

State time, place and ask that the packages be wrapped in brick crepe paper. As each guest arrives have a Humpty Dumpty paper egg with legs and arms complete with scotch tape ready to hop on the wall-type present and place them all around the room.

DECORATIONS

The aforementioned Humpties will help decorate the room, and lots of others perched on picture frames, chairs, etc., will provide the decoration as well as one of the games of finding Humpty Dumpty. When this game is played, let the birthday child find only the gifts, which he may open at the end of the game.

The table should be in bright red, yellow, blue and green, as these basic colors appeal most to younger children. Paper plates, napkins, cups and tablecloth may be purchased with each item a different color as mentioned.

FOR THE centerpiece the cake may be Humpty himself. Make this cake by baking your favorite gold cake or white cake in a stainless steel mixing bowl which has been well greased and floured. Allow extra baking time for this as it will take longer to bake. Remove from oven, turn out and allow to cool. Frost upper 2/3 in white fluffy frostin.g Frost the bottom in blue.

From construction paper fashion blue arms and legs. Place cake on a box covered with brick crepe paper and then with clear plastic. Place legs in cake and bend them over edge of box so that he appears to be sitting on the wall.

Use a large gum drop for nose and large red construction paper for a tie. Use licorice coins for his eyes and red cinnamon hearts to make the happy smile.

Around the bottom of the box assemble all the king's horses and all the king's men. These may be purchased in miniature in plastic at the local toy shop and later may be distributed as take-home favors for the children. Be sure to have tote bags for extra candy, prizes, etc. Make these out of white bakery bags with features drawn similar to the invitation.

MENU

Cake and ice cream are always best for small fry who nap, as more food tends to upset tumies and dinner menus. Serve an early lunch at 11, and plan to have guests home shortly after 12:30 in time for naps.

If you serve lunch, a Humpty Dumpty salad made with a pear as Humpty with cherry features on a bed of lettuce appeals to children of kindergarten age. The almighty peanut butter and jelly sandwich of the pre-schooler cut in an oval shape and decorated with raisins and cherry will suffice, otherwise accompanied by potato chips and a jello salad. At each place have a hard boiled egg - that is why this is a good after-Easter birthday idea. Draw on features and place on not too small boxes covered in brick crepe paper. Inside the box place coloring book, crayons, wrapped candy and a few king's men to take home.

GAMES

At this age level, group games are the best. Pin Humpty on the wall, Ring Around Humpty Dumpty, which is just like Sally Saucer, but this is sung instead:

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall,

Turn to the East and turn to the West and tell us who Humpty Dumpty likes best.

Other games may be throwing Humpty in a basket - here the Humpty is a ball with features drawn on it or use a white balloon.

Award Humpty Dumpty balloons, Easter Egg candies or Humpty Dumpty bubble bath placed in empty egg shells. These are not especially appreciated by mothers unless you give them directly to them, as small ones tend to drop and smash them, but for older ones they are fun.

So be a wizard and put Humpty Dumpty together in a never-to-be forgotten birthday for your funny bunny. (S

Modern Etiquette

Q. I've been criticized for wearing perfune in the office where I work. Am I really being improper?

A. It may be that you are wearing a too-heavy type of perfume. It is quite all right to wear perfume in the office, but it should emit a dainty and delicate fragrance, not a heavy and cloying one.

Q. Whose place is it to set the date of the wedding, the bride or the bridegroom?

A. After the man and woman have decided between themselves that circumstances are favorable for their wedding, it is up to the bride and her mother to decide upon the exact dat

Family Keepsakes Add Sentimental Note to Marriage of Local Couple

Lending a sentimental note to the recent wedding of a local couple, Sandra Lee Moehling and Martin E. Mielke Jr., were two family keepsakes used at their reception — a "bride and groom" cake decoration and two satin hearts.

Bringing back fond memories of their own wedding 25 years ago were the white satin hearts saved by the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Mielke of 41 S. Wheeling Ave., Wheeling. Covered with new material, the hearts were surrounded by a floral centerpiece and placed on the buffet table.

For the celebration held Feb. 8 in the VFW Hall in Mount Prospect a tradition of the bride's grandfather, brought with him on his flight from El Cajon, Cal. the wedding cake decoration, which, for the past 49 years, graced the tables at both weddings and anniversaries of family members.

Welcoming 250 guests at the dinner - reception which followed the 6 p.m. nuptials in St. John Lutheran Church of Mount Prospect, were Miss Moehling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin A. Moehling, residents of 800 W. Golf Road, Arlington Heights.

IN THE GLOW of candlelight, the bride and groom exchanged rings and vows before Rev. W. B. Streufert. Before the processional, Mrs. David Schroeder of Mendota, Ill., accompanied by organist, E. Sandersfeld, sang "O Perfect Love" from the altar. During the ceremony Mrs. Schroeder, who studied with the bride both in high school and college, offered another song, "The Lord's Prayer," as she took her place with three other bridesmaids.

The church pews were enhanced with candelebra, garlands and white bows down the center aisle, and the altar was decorated with two bouquets of white snapdragons, potted palms and carnations.

Miss Moehling wore a satin gown detailed with beaded re-embroidered alencon lace. It had a scooped neckline, fitted bodice detailed with bows at the waist, fitted three - quarter-length sleeves and belled skirt, which ended in a chapel train. Her three - tiered illusion veil was held in place by a beaded headpiece of lace petals; gardenias, stephanotis, ivy and lily-of-the-valley formed the cascade bridal bouquet.

MERRILIE ANN Moehling served her sister as maid of honor. Their cousin, Carol Swearingen of Arlington Heights, was junior bridesmaid, and the bride's schoolmates, Mrs. Schroeder, Mrs. Ernest Grimm of Marengo, and Valerie Juhl, also of Arlington Heights, were bridesmaids.

Their street - length gowns, similar to the design of the bride's, were in royal blue brocade; petal headpieces and slippers were in matching color. Silver ornaments were added to the cascade bouquet of white hyacinths, ivy and feather mums carried by the maid of honor, and royal blue ornaments added contrast to those given the other attendants.

A sea mist chiffon over taffeta sheath and chantilly lace jacket was worn by Mrs. Moehling, who complemented her ensemble with a cage-veil hat and matching shoes, and a corsage of Fuji mums in the color of her dress. The groom's mother was attired in a beige brocade sheath, jacket and accessories and selected a cymbidium orchid arrangement.

BEST MAN was Donald Mjelke, brother of the groom, and the bride's brother, Mark, was one of the groomsmen. Others were David Beigel of Arlington Heights and Robert Schroeder, Des Moines, two of the groom's college friends.

The newlyweds are now at home at 815 S. Logan St., South Bend, where they are both employed. A '60 graduate of Ar(Bak(S lington High School, the bride earned a BS in elementary education this year at Northern Illinois University, and is now teaching sixth grade. Mr. Mielke completed studies at the same high school in '59, holds a BS degree in business accounting and finance from NIU, and is now with the Associate Investment Company.

KNITTERS

Want to do something really satisfying? Knit yourself a coat! They are easy (or they can be involved, if you like to get into stitches & patterns that require thought) and they can be so varied depending on yarns, needles, etc., that you choose.

One of our customers finished hers (a beautiful navy & white plaid one) and wore it into the city Friday. She said strangers stopped & asked where she'd purchased it—or had she made it? This is what we mean by satisfying. It is such fun to wear such lovely things.

Yes, we'll measure you—try to give you exactly what you wish, and we'll give all the help you need. Yes, we have Bernat rugs.
